Ghali, Kabariti meet at U.N.

NEW YORK (Petra) — United Nations Secretary General Boutros Ghali on Wednesday met with Foreign Minister Abdul Karim Al Kabariti in the presence of Jordan's permanent representative at the U.N. Adnan Abu Odeh, Dr. Ghali and Mr. Kabariti discussed issues related to moving the headquarters of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) from Vienna to Gaza. Mr. Kabariti voiced concern over the deterioration in services offered by UNRWA to Palestinian refugees as a result of the transfer of its headquarters. The minister also voiced his fear that the transfer would also lead to denying refugees outside the Gaza Strip of services offered by UNRWA. Discussion at the meeting also focused on Jordan's role in peacekeeping operations in various parts of the world and pulling out U.N. troops from Croatia. Mr. Kabariti also discussed with the U.N. ry general the issue of increasing Jordan's share of posts in the U.N. and other international agencies, urging the U.N. to fill the vacant post of director of the U.N. Development Programme with an Arab candidate.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel has named professor Shimon Shamir B its first ambassador to Jordan, after the two countries signed a peace treaty in October, Israeli radio reports said Wednesday. The nt will only be official after a foreign ministry committee and the Israeli cabinet approve it. The foreign ministry would not confirm the appointment. However, following a meeting between Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and Foreign Minister Shimas Beans Ma Bana and the Ambanasana mental her appointment. Minister Shimon Peres, Mr. Peres said the ambassador would be appointed this week. "Regarding the appointment of the ambassa-dor to Jordan, I hope this will be done by the end of this week," Mr. Peres said on the podium of the Knesset, Israel's parliament Mr. Shamir, a Middle Eastern studies professor at Tel Aviv University, served as Israel's ambassador to Egypt for three years, ing in 1986. Both Israel and army radio channels said Mr. Rabin and Mr. Peres had decided on Mr. Shamir during their meeting on Wednesday. The appointment had been delayed following a disagreement between the two over the appointment.

Number 5846

AMMAN THURSDAY-FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16-17, 1995, RAMADAN 16-17, 1415

Price: Jordan 150 Fils

Jordan will pursue quest for comprehensive peace

HM says Jordan has no ambitions outside its land, peace era requires normalisation of ties with Israel; situation in occupied territories is worrying

By Ayman Al Safadi Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — His Majesty King Hussein has stressed that the Kingdom will persevere in its pursuit of Mideast peace as the only alternative for the whole region despite difficulties facing other tracks of Arab negotiations with

Speaking to representa-tives of the foreign press Tuesday evening, King Hussein warned that "forces of darkness" are trying to destroy the peace process through acts of violence but said that Jordan will do all it can to prevent them from achieving their goals. (These times are) times of promise...and consolidation of what has been achieved' through the peace process and extremists should not be allowed to jeopardise these achievements because the majority of the people want peace, King Hussein told reporters at the Ma'wa Palace.

The King said the divide that used to separate the Arabs and Israel has been

between the opponents and proponents of peace.

We are disturbed when opponents of peace, the extremists create conditions which jeopardise what (has been) achieved. There is the camp of peace, one that is comprehensive and promising, and the camp of those who would like to destroy it," the King said.

While saying that conditions "of hunger, despair and anger" might lead to violence, the King said that "acts of violence are perpetuated by organisations.

"It is not the right of those who perpetuate acts of violence" to claim that they are the only Muslims, the King

"I believe it is our duty to distance ourselves from those who distort the image of Islam," the King said. Reiterating the Kingdom's commitment to the Oct. 26 peace treaty with Israel, King Hussein said Jordan is looking at ways to speed up progress in country ... in

"We will live up to the peace treaty in word and deed," the King said, adding that peace is the only alternative, not only for Jordan but also for others in the region. King Hussein noted that it was significant that the treaty also has the support of the majority in Israel, saying that its conclusion contributed to the strengthening of forces of peace in the Jewish state.

But, the King said, the difficulties facing the Palestinian-Israeli talks are negatively affecting supporters of peace in Israel.

"I have a feeling that those sticking their necks out for peace (in Israel) have challenges ... I hope they will succeed," said the Monarch. Addressing concerns by some that peace has been slow to bring about the desired changes, His Majesty said that after 47 years of "disaster and instability" changes will take time to

On the controversial issue of "normalisation" with Israel, King Hussein questioned the basis of the con-

that Jordan will not force with Israel but those who oppose it should not be able to prevent others from doing

"Peace opens the doors for people to see the human face of the other," the King said. He said achieving the economic prosperity that people expected from peace would require that Jordanians and Israelis deal with each other to realise the economic opportunities of the new era. The King said he hoped Syria and Lebanon will be able to achieve progress on their tracks of the negotiations with Israel, noting that all parties to the peace talks started from the same point and Jordan reached the peace treaty with Israel "because it felt the need, the urgency and the right to move. There was a will and a determination to move towards peace, the King told the reporters during the meeting, which was attended by Her Majesty Queen Noor, Ben Shaker, members of the royal family and other offi-

The King said that "Syria is very, very important in the area," and the comprehensive peace that the Kingdom seeks on the basis of U.N. resolutions 338 and 242 would require that Syria too reaches peace with Israel

But the deteriorating situation in the West Bank and Gaza was worrying to the King even though he said his view is not the "dark" one adopted by some newspap-

'We are worried and concerned about conditions" in the occupied territories and at the Palestinian-Israeli track of the negotiations, the King said, expressing hope that difficulties will be over-

But King Hussein said that he will not apportion blame on one party for the difficulties facing the negotiations. "Taking a totally negative attitude cannot help" improve the situation and both sides "have a problem, have a responsibility to get us all off this point," His Majesty

"It is almost an impossible (situation) but we hope it will be solved," King Hussein told reporters.

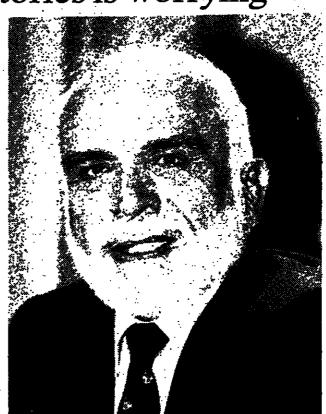

The King said "the vio-lence that is occurring" is defeating the purpose of hav-ing the interim period between the initial and final negotiations between Israel and the Palestinians prepare the people psychologically for the final status.

But King Hussein said Jordan will not interfere in the Palestinian-Israeli negotiations, "Jordan has no place in this issue because it is a Palestinian issue and the Palestinian leadership is dealing with it."

The King said nothing can hurt Jordanian-Palestinian relations more than "even the suggestion" of the Kingdom interfering in the affairs of the Palestinians.

The King said he has made it clear to all concerned that the Kingdom will not discuss the form of the final rela-

(Continued on page 7)

No decision yet on World Bank office

AMMAN (R) — Jordan said on Wednesday it had not decided yet whether to allow the World Bank to set up a regional office in Amman. This issue is expected to be discussed by the council of ministers sometime in the next two weeks," Planning Minister Rima Khalaf told Reuters. The World Bank had suggested a regional office in Jordan to study projects related mostly to infrasvironment which have become possible with increased prospects of peace in the Middle East.

U.S. has no new ideas, Syria says

DAMASCUS (AFP) - U.S. officials have failed to come up with any fresh ideas to achieve a breakthrough in the Middle East peace talks. Syria's Ambassador to Washington Walid Muallem said Wednesday. Mr. Muallem, quoted by the official Syrian news agency SANA, said: "I have not yet found any American ideas which will get peace negotiations moving between Syria and Israel. They (the Americans) said they had ideas, which I am still waiting to see, and this week we can begin" to study them. The ambassador returned to Syria in late December after talks with his Israeli counterpart Itamar Rabinovich in Washington which Damascus said failed to produce results. Mr. Muallem returned to his post in Washington on Feb. 6 for talks with U.S. officials.

Fateh opponents set up new group

CAIRO (AFP) - Opponents of the Palestinian-Israeli autonomy deal have set up a new group called the Democratic National Rally, a senior member of Yasser Arafat's Fateh faction said Wednesday. Hani Al Hassan. a member of Fateh's central committee, told the Londonbased newspaper Al Sharq Al Awsat the new group aimed to "wreck the policy of those who support the accord." The group included members of Fateh and of the Popular and Democratic Fronts for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP and DFLP), the pro-Iraqi Arab Liberation Front (ALF) and independent figures. Mr. Hassan said Palestinians were going through a crisis which called for "a policy based on both confrontation and negotiation" with Israel.

Israel says W. Bank pullout possible in May

TEL AVIV (Agencies) — A senior Israeli peace negotiator said on Wednesday decide what they can do now to infuse new life into the peace process." that although talks with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) were at a "low point" a long-delayed army pullout from occupied West Bank cities and towns Environment Minister Yossi Sarid, a senior figure in crisis-ridden talks with the PLO, told Israel Radio: "I still believe that (Palestinian) elections in the territories can take place along with an army redeployment in another few months, and personally, the month of May looks like a reasonable target date, despite all the delays."

Mr. Sarid said Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and PLO leader Yasser Arafat, who will meet on Thursday at Israel's border with self-ruled Gaza, will discuss recent efforts by the Palestinian National Authority (PNA) to curb guerrilla attacks, the Jewish state's condition for going ahead with the with-

"They will weigh the balance of the last weeks since the grave disaster at Beit Lid (a junction north of Tel Aviv where suicide bombers killed 21 Israelis last month)," Mr. Sarid said. "And on this mutual reckoning they will

Under the 1993 Israeli-PLO peace deal the army was to have withdrawn from West Bank centres by last July, paving the way for elections

pullout on hold, citing the scores of Israelis killed in attacks by opponents of the peace deal

The delays, the attacks, and an Israeli entry ban on West Bank and Gaza Palestinians have eroded grass-roots support for both Mr. Arafat and Mr. Rabin and brought the talks to a deep crisis. "There's no point in de-nying the talks have known better, more promising days and now they are really at a low point, but crises are unavoidable, and sometimes solving a crisis can spur the process afterward," Mr.

Sarid said. "Perhaps we will see signs of this tomorrow."

The PLO, hoping to break the logjam, reiterated on

They said Palestinians would accept a West Bank handover in stages, starting with the towns of Jenin and Bethlehem, so long as it was accompanied by an acceptable overall timetable.

PLO officials said Israel so far had said it was ready to experiment, redeploying away from Jenin and Bethem, dut without a to an overall timetable. Tayeb Abdul Rahim, general secretary of the PNA, said: "We are prepared to accept gradual redeployment from Jenin and Bethlehem first if the Israelis agree to a timetable for redeployment from other West Bank cities."

Ahmad Qouriea, the authority's economics chief agreed, telling Reuters: "We have no objection for implementation of a comprehensive agreement on redeployment from all West Bank cities but this agreement has to be reached in advance.

"We are afraid, if no comprehensive agreement is reached, that once they withdraw from Jenin and Bethlehem, they might not withdraw from other cities," said Mr. Oouriea.

the crippling closure of

(Continued on page 7)

Arabs divided over disarmament treaty

CAIRO (Agencies) — Arab League experts failed to agree on the text of a draft treaty on eliminating weapons of mass destruction in the Middle East after two days of talks here, participants said Wednesday.

Adnan Omran, assistant secretary general of the league, said it was now uncertain whether the treaty would be adopted by foreign ministers from member states who meet in the Egyptian capital on March 22.

"Perhaps they will have to work more on the treaty because it is a very important document and it cannot be finalised in several days or weeks," Mr. Omran told

The experts' session, which opened Tuesday and wrapped up Wednesday, had to be extended because of disagreements. It was attended by 21 of the league's 22 memebrs, with Somalia ab-

The draft treaty was drawn up by Mahmoud Karem, head of the Egyptian Foreign Ministry's disarmament department, an Egyptian official said.

One participant who asked not to be named said "the representatives have different views" on the proposed

"We need to study the different ideas presented and, in my view we need another meeting of experts, Prince Turki Ben Mohammad Ben Saud of Saudi Arabia's foreign ministry declared.

Mr. Omran, however, ruled out another meeting and said the Arab League secretariat general would draw up the final text to present to member states.

He hoped for a "positive attitude towards this treaty from all states in the region, because those which reject it will bear the responsibility. The draft aims to "make the Middle East a zone free from atomic, biological and chemical weapons. "The term 'Middle East'

includes all territories under the sovereignty or control of Arab League members as well as Iran and Israel," it

It calls on signatories to ban the production of arms of mass destruction, and to "dismantle and destroy arms of mass destruction they possess and to convert their installations to peaceful uses." The Arab League hopes its treaty will pressure Israel into signing the nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) by addressing fears cited by the Jewish state as a reason for not joining up.

Israel refuses to sign the NPT, which comes up for renewal in April. The Jewish state has never acknowledged possessing nuclear weapons, though Western experts say it has around 200 nuclear war-

Arab League Secretary General Esmat Abdul Meguid arrived in Lebanon from Syria on Wednesday for talks on a joint Arab stance

on signing the extension of the NPT, Lebanese officials

Before leaving Damascus where he met President Hafez Al Assad, Dr. Abdul Meguid said Arab states would not renew their signature of the NPT if Israel refused to sign.

The Lebanese government, which has no nuclear programme, is facing calls from influential Muslim religious leaders not to sign on. Syria also dominates Lebanon politically and militarily and Beirut is expected to toe Syria's line. The Egyptian government meanwhile banned distribution of the Jerusalem Post in Egypt from Wednesday following an article criticising three senior officials for anti-Israeli views, editor David Bar-Illan said.

"I am astonished that a country that signed a peace treaty with Israel over 15 years ago would resort to this."

(Continued on page 7)

Tuesday it would under certain conditions accept an cials agreed Wednesday to a Mr. Arafat has his own list Israeli handover of West of demands 48-hour complete ceasefire in Bank towns in stages rather They range from an end to Chechenya, despite sceptic-

Troops, Hebron protesters clash Bank (Agencies) — Israeli troops clashed on Wednesday with Palestinian demonstrators who set up burning barricades near the Hebron mosque where a Jewish settler killed more than 30 Muslim worshippers a year ago, wit-In a separate incident. dozens of police detained the founder of the Jewish settler movement and his wife after scuffling with angry settlers who threw stones, eggs and water to keep the officers

Settler leaders charged the detentions were politically motivated and that police used excessive force in detaining Rabbi Moshe Levinger and his wife, Miriam.

Later Wednesday, Mrs. Levinger was brought before a judge to answer charges that she assaulted an Israeli policeman in Hebron several months ago.

Deputy West Bank police chief Natan Karmowski said: "They threw rocks and eggs at the police and attack-. women soldiers, threatened them, insulted them, and as a result we had to force our way in and arrest the rabbi's wife; who was brought to court as ordered, along with the rabbi and five other men and women."

"(If) excessive force was applied by police, it was made necessary by the wild and violent behaviour of the settlers, and our knowledge of their vile and disgraceful behaviour in the past," Mr. Karmowski told Israel radio.

For four years Miriam Levinger, 60, has ignored a court summons to appear for investigation of accusations she overturned Arab vendors' stalls and attacked police during a disturbance in Hebron's market. Police spokesman Eric

Bar-Chen originally said Rabbi Levinger was also detained on an old assault charge, but later said Mr. Levinger was subpoenaed for disrupting the peace. Mr. Bar-Chen said Mr.

Levinger was charged on Wednesday with assault after taking part in the scuffles

when police arrived at his home. He was also ques-tioned on two other incidents of insulting police officers. the spokesman said.

"Children of Stalin," Mrs. Levinger yelled as a dozen policemen carried her into the courtroom. The govern-ment has sold its soul to Satan. It kills Jews with one hand and frees Arabs with the other."

Hebron, long a flashpoint of Israeli-Palestinian violence, has been particularly tense as Arabs and Jews mark the first anniversary of th Feb. 25 massacre, in which Hebron-area settler Baruch Goldstein gunned down kneeling worshippers in the Al Ibrahimi Mosque before survivors beat him to death.

Witnesses said demonstrators set up burning barricades about 100 metres from the mosque. throwing stones, rubbish, and tyres at soldiers' who came to disperse them. The soldiers refrained from opening fire, ousting the pro-

the scene, then forcing some (Continued on page 7)

testers by shoving them from

Full 48-hour ceasefire reached in Chechenya

SLEPTSOVSK (Agencies)

-- Russian and Chechen offiism and widespread violations of an earlier truce.

The new ceasefire was set to take effect at midnight, Chechen field commander Shamil Bassayev said at the conclusion of talks in the town of Sleptsovsk, Ingushetia, just west of Chechenya. Negotiations toward a longer-lasting peace are to resume Friday. A preliminary agreement had been reached on Monday for the two sides to stop using beavy artillery and to begin working out an exchange of war prisoners and dead. But that ceasefire has been punctuated by widespread artillery and missile attacks in the area south of the Chechen capital. "No war in the world ends if talks are held on the level of field commanders," Chechen President Dzhokhar

Dudayev was quoted Wednesday as saving.
In an interview the Baltic news service said was conducted the previous day, Mr. Dudayev expressed doubt the talks would yield results and said Russia was only trying to convey a peacemaker image on the eve of Preisdent Boris Yeltsin's address to parlia-

Carrying grenade launchers and yelling "Allahu Akbar" as they pulled up in six cars and a mini-bus, about 50 fighters from Mr. Dudayev's presidential guard accompanied lead Chechen negotiator Aslan Maskhadov to Wednesday's session. The Russian delegation arrived quietly in two helicopters and went through a back door for the talks, being held in a pale blue, one-storey building at Sleptsovsk air-port. The Russians were led by Colonel Anatoly Kulikov, commander of Moscow's troops in Chechenya.

Mr. Makhadov, wearing gray camouflage and a gray wool cap, and some of the Chechen fighters accompanying expressed optimism about the talks despite suspicions the Russians would not observe a ceasefire. "If Dudayev tells us to die, we will die," said a fighter named Roman, carrying an anti-tank grenade launcher over his shoulder. "But we think this may be the beginning of the end (of the fighting)."

The Russians and others are dubious that an agreement would be complied with by Chechen volunteer fighters not serving in Mr. Dudayev's army. Even Mr. Maskhadov has warned that the he does not control the independent fighters.

The Chechen side is a lot of small groups who act how they want to," said Zhabrail Bogatyrev, spokesman for

(Continued on page 7)

U.S. experts reportedly see Saudi-Yemeni clash

PARIS (Agencies) — Sandi Arabia is massing armour and artillery on its disputed border with Yemen and a new clash appears likely, U.S. defence experts quoted in a strategic newsletter said Wednesday. The report in the TTU weekly was published as Yemen said its negotiations with

Saudi Arabia were in trouble

despite 24 days of talks in Rivadh. U.S. defence experts "note from satellite pictures the presence of five brigades two armoured, two mechanised infantry and one artil-lery — which are being strengthened daily," TTU The U.S. Defence Intelligence Agency "regards an armed clash between Saudi Arabia and Yemen as probable in the short-term," it

After 24 days of negotiations the gap between the two sides remained deep Wednes-Yemeni chief negotiator said "points of disagreement between Riyadh and Sanaa are numerous and large." Officially the Saudis have only signalled their intention to try to settle the issue of the border between northern Yemen and the provinces of Najran, Jizan and Assir, assigned to Saudi Arabia by the 1934 Taif accord. Sanaa says the treaty expirred in 1992 and has refused to renew it, but is using it as a basis for the negotiations. Sanaa also wants a complete normalisation of ties with Rivadh and agreement on the whole border stretching from the Red Sea in the west to Oman in the east along with maritime bound-The border dispute has flared up into armed clashes, the latest on Jan. 10 in which more than 50 people were killed, according to diplo-Yemen accused Saudi Arabia of massing troops on the border last mouth after the Riyadh talks had begun. Sheikh Ahmar was quoted as saying Wednesday that if no breakthrough is achieved in two days, the talks will be. put off until after the Ramadan feast early next month. Sheikh Ahmar, however, appeared more optimistic than his president about the talks under way in Riyadh since Jan. 22. The talks are proceeding well and in a positive atmosphere, with a good brotherly spirit," he told the Londonbased Arabic daily Al Hayat.

"Good progress has been achieved.... agreement has been reached on several important points," he said. "Perhaps by postponing the negotiations till next month, we may give our two

view the (remaining) points (Continued on page 7)

countries the chance to rement.

ams attend so

T<sub>allo the</sub> Jordan Times

More than 250

Animan Wednes-

by the day.

and succincily.

andience, Mr. Ad-

side hoped that the

iollowing weeks.

Water conser

C U.N. to complete Somalia withdrawal by March 6

UNITED NATIONS (Agen- cost close to $1 billion a year. cies) - The withdrawal of the U.N. peace from Somalia should be completed by March 6, well ahead of a March 31 deadline set by the Security Council, the top U.N. peacekeeping official said Tuesday.

WASH

legislat

agains

Domine

on the

an imi

in fulfi

brough

Mr. CI

Office

annna!

the ec

restore and to ity for 21st ce

the re

wideni

LONE

slumpe

the ma

day arr

tion,

Prime

politic.

could

потіс

that c

Wedne

the po

Euror

mecha

ofac

policy.

flict be

interes

the e lenges

19305 neede

Exche

faces

an ei

Sri

COLC

Lanka

ma E

mned

vatisat

public profit

prises.

portec

the pr

comm

clared

was a

to pr

evenii

newst

pledg

again

Strons

daug

ka K

maide

Pe

Αı

M

Ms

love

Non

The

Som

"І та

"I am pleased to inform you that this highly complex operation is proceeding without a hitch.

Under-Secretary-General Kofi Annan told a news con-He said about 8,000 U.N.

troops were still in Somalia, compared with 15,000 last November when the Security Council took the decision to On Feb. 24 the U.N. commander, Lieutenant-General Aboo Samah of Malaysia, will hand over operational control to Lieutenant-General Anthony Zinni of the United States, whose combined task force will help extricate the U.N. rearguard of some 2,500 Pakistani and Bangladeshi soldiers.

Mr. Annan said the task force would have 17 ships, from France, Italy, Malaysia, Pakistan and the United States, off Mogadishu to assist with the withdrawal.

The U.N. Operation in Somalia (UNOSOM) was first mounted on a small scale in 1992 to help rescue Somalis from famine and chaos in which hundreds of thousands

Because of continuing factional fighting, it was superseded in December 1992 by a U.S.-led force which built to a strength of about 37,000 before handing over in May 1993 to a new U.N. force which grew to than 29,000. UNOSOM has suffered more than 130 casualties and

ISLAMABAD (AFP) - The

fall of former Afghan Pre-mier Gulbuddin Hekmatyar's

headquarters to the Taliban

militants marked the movement's greatest victory as its power continues grow,

The capture of Charasyab.

just 25 kilometres south of the Afghan capital, represented a major setback for

Mr. Hekmatyar, and helped tighten the Taliban's grip on

Islami faction has now lost

three positions in quick succession to the militant

student-led movement, with the Talibara also wresting contract. . . Wardak and Logar provinces from the south of Kabul, the Tabons are negotiating with embattled Afghan President

Burhanuddin Rabbani's

troops, who are based in San-gi Nawishta just 20 kilometres away, Afghan

the militants, who have gathered considerable strength since appearing from nowhere about six months ago, are demanding entry to the city and saying they will disarm all factions in the war-

his military strongman

Ahmad Shah Masoud, holds

most of Kabul, and has

thwarted Mr. Hekmatyar's repeated onslaughts on the city which have claimed more than 20,000 lives over the

But now the president, facing a serious threat from the Talibans, has urged United

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel: 773111-19

Mr. Rabbani, backed by sources said.

torn capital.

n the past few days.

analysts here said.

Kabul, they aded.

Mr. Annan, just back from although UNOSOM did not attain all its objectives it had saved many lives, ended a famine which devastated the country and helped restore normal life in many regions. But he said these achievements were vulnerable to renewed factional fighting. "It is hoped that the withdrawal of UNOSOM will serve as a big wake-up call for the leaders and that they will finally have the couarage to compromise and seize this opportunity to bring peace and stability to their country," he said.

A major lesson learned by the United Nations in Somalia was "to withdraw - and I do not mean retreat" and demonstrate that "there is a limit to the patience and resources of the international community.

He contrasted this with long-running peacekeeping operations in such places as Cyprus, Southern Lebanon and Kashmir, where the United Nations had often been accused of freezing an unresolved situation.

Asked what would happen if the Somali factions resumed fighting, he said: "I doubt very much that the international community or the Security Council will rush to send in another force."

U.N. Secretary General Boutros Ghali says that the withdrawal of the peacekeepers remaining in Somalia is a 'new situation in the history of the United Nations." Until Somalia, the United Nations had not left a theatre of operations until its mission had been accomplished. This is clearly not the case is Talibans' greatest victory to date

Nations special envoy to Afghanistan, Mahmoud Mes-

tiri, to speed up peace efforts which have been dragging on with limited success for many

Diplomats have said that commanders of both Rabbani

and Mr. Hekmatyar's troops, have been defecting to the Talibans, and a similar trend

is thought to have hit pro-

Saudi factional leader Rasul

Sayaaf's Ittehad-e-islami Party, which is allied with Mr.

If confirmed, the desertions would further undermine the power bases of the rival leaders, who have been

at loggerheads since the collapse of the once Soviet-backed Communist regime in April 1992, analysts here

In response to the rapidly changing balance of power and military situation, the U.N. envoy Tuesday advanced the date for initiating

the process for transfer of power to a pan-Afghan authority in Kabul to Feb. 18, instead of Feb. 20 as he had

Afghanistan demonstrates the desire of the Afghan people for peace and the disillusionment with the present disastrous situation in the country," Mr. Mestiri said in a statement Tuesday, inviting all parties in the conflict to witness a ceremony marking

the start of the process in apparently responded posi-tively to Mr. Mestiri's appeal to all warring sides to cease

hostilities, to open all roads

and to restore a power supply

Terrasancia Church Tel: 622366

Mr. Hekmatyar's party has

The new development in announced last week.

Rabbani.

Fall of Hekmatyar's base

created in April 1992 but did not have the muscle needed to deploy. It was later replaced by a U.S.-led multinational force.

In May, 1993, that U.S.led force was replaced by a second group of U.N. peacekeepers. The United States continued to participate until October 1993 when 18 U.S. troops were killed in an ambush — and because of the toll Washington began a pullout process.

"That meant there was no political will on the part of the protagonists of a conflict to find a solution. We cannot impose peace. We do not have the means," Dr. Ghali

"We tried for three years but we failed, the secretary general said. "The decision was deliberate and painful, but given the number of crises afflicting the world, the council was compelied to take this route and let the protagonists know that there is a limit to the patience and resources of the international community," Mr. He acknowledged that the United Nations had not met its objectives in Somalia. But, Mr. Annan added, "we saved lives, we have ended the famine, an in many parts of the country, people have been able to resume the normal course of their lives." Mr. Annan said it was unlikely that the famine caused by clan warfare that sparked the original intervention would return. But that did not mean that fighting would not resume in Somalia.

Dr. Ghali said it was possible that U.N. peace reepers would be forced to return to

"We are ready for cessa-tion of hostilities," Hekmaty-ar spokesman Mangal Hussain told AFP here, adding that the truce would come into effect provided Mr. Rab-bani's response to the call feared that the possible disintegration of the two major parties — the Hezb-e-Islami

and Mr. Rabbani's Jamiat-e-

Islami — could blow apart

the entire U.N. peace process, which was set up around

The Talibans surfaced last autumn when they successfully rescued a Pakistan-

sponsored trade convoy

bound for Central Asia after it was hijacked by rebels in the southern city of Kanda-

The mainly-bearded Islamic school students, who also sport turbans, later captured

Kandahar, an ancient royal capital southwest of Kabul.

Since then they have scored a series of spectacular military

the main Afghan factions.

However, analysts here

was also "positive."

to Kabul.

grandfather in prayer over the grave of his Jewish settler Baruch Goldstein opened fire father Salman in a Hebron cemetery as Palesti- and killed more than 30 worshippers Feb. 25 nians commemorate the first anniversary of (AFP photo) the Hebron massacre. Sari was injured in the

Yemeni leader urges crackdown

SANAA (R) — Yemen's President Ali Abdullah Saleh on Tuesday told security officials to step up their fight against organised crime and ordered special courts to be set up to deal with such cases

Mr. Saleh, in a meeting also attended by judicial officials, spoke after reports on Tuesday, that one policeman was killed and four wounded in a shootout with a gang of

"We will not tolerate any more any security official breaching his duties or failing to carry them out," the official SABA news agency quoted Mr. Saleh as saying. Those unable to carry out their assigned duties should make room for others who are more capable."

He urged police to double efforts to "bring criminals before court ... and to strike with an iron fist against them... Mr. Saleh ordered the creation of special "quick courts within the coming few days to deal with all cases related to crimes. Diplomats said on Tuesday that four people wearing police uniforms broke into the home of a French embassy employee on Sunday. chained him and his family and drove away with valuables. Nobody was injured in the incident. Yemen's Interior Ministry said in a statement in Al Thawra newspaper on Tuesday that one policeman was killed and four wounded in a shootout with a gang of thieves who had taken a man

The 20-member gang, which was arrested, had kidnapped Ahmad Abdul Rahoffice in Sanaa on Sunday and taken him to an area outside the capital where they beat and stabbed him before releasing him in Official said Mr. Moqtari owned a photo store. It said police found the gang's hideout on Monday.

One policeman was fatally shot and four were wounded in an exchange of gunfire between the gang and police. On source said the attackers on the French guard's house were not policemen and were believed to be members of the same gang whose members kidnapped Mr. Mogtari. On Saturday a leading member of the main opposition party Yemen Socialist Party was shot dead in the

Beirut seeks U.S. arms for security

Elias Hrawi, stating Beirut's terms for peace with Israel, said on Tuesday he was seeking U.S. weapons to control security in South Lebanon after Israeli troops withdraw. "At present there are negotiations with the Americans to get weapons at a cheap price and soon we may get 16 advanced helicopters, Mr. Hrawi told members of an editors' syndicate.

"We are not arming our army to fight anyone... we don't want to get tanks. All we strive for is to get military lies for the army to control the security situation on Lebanese land especially in the south when Israel withdraws," Mr. Hrawi said.

Mr. Hrawi said Beirut's

TEHRAN (AFP) --- Britain's

Since emerging as a group of a few hundred religious students, their number has now swelled to 25,000 men, equipped with some 200 tanks, heavy artillery, missiles and a dozen fighter aircraft, diplomatic sources

But Afghan sources have said their main weapon lies in the support they have garnered from the people in areas under their influence.

Diplomats and Afghan ex-perts have said the Talibans are militarily backed by Pakistan, although Islamabad. denies the claim.

condition for peace with BEIRUT (R) - President Israel was a complete Israeli troop withdrawal from South

"We are ready to send 25,000 troops to the south to control security and when Israel withdraws to the international border we pledge not one bullet will be fired from our land," he said:

Israel occupies a narrow border zone in South Lebanon, comprising 10 per cent of Lebanese territory, where it keeps 1,000 Israeli troops and a 3,000-man Israeli-withdraws from South Lebanon, Beirut must rein in the pro-Iranian Hizbollah (Party of God) and stop the militant group from mounting raids peace talks.

on Israeli forces in South Lebanon and guarantee border security for six months. But Lebanon says resistance is legal while Israel re-

Mr. Hrawi accused Israel of not being serious about the three-year-old peace process. Both Lebanese and Syrian talks with Israel are logiammed over the question of a full Israeli withdrawal from South Lebanon

Speaking two days after a meeting in Damascus with Syrian President Hafez Al Assad at which they agreed to counter "pressures" linked to the peace process, Mr. Hrawi said Lebanon and Syria would continue their hand-in-hand policy at the

NEWS IN BRIEF

israel announces creation of super-computer.

TEL AVIV (AFP) - The Hebrew University in Jerusalen said Tuesday it had created a super-computer capable of meeting all Israel's scientific needs. "This computer capable of carrying out four million operations per second can be improved further and outstrip the performance of computers produced in the United States," a university spokesman said. He added that Israel was now one of the few countries to have the computer technology necessary for top-level research, notably in the fields of physics biology, chemistry and mathematics. The administration of former U.S. President George Bush opposed the sale to Israel of two American super-computers, fearing they would be used as part of a programme to simulate nuclears tests or to develop a neutron bomb. Israel press reports sav President Bill Clinton is less reluctant to secure such a deal and that negotiations are underway.

Barber jailed for circumcising girl in street

CAIRO (AFP) - A barber and his wife were jailed for two years for circumcising a 14-year-old girl in the street in front of passers-by, the official daily Al Akhbar reported Wednesday. The girl, who was "screaming hysterically with terror," was held down by the wife while the barber carried. out the operation in "an open and filthy tent with dirtyinstruments," a Cairo court said. The circumcision, the removal of part or all of the clitoris, took place in the "violated the human feelings of the young girl and seriously damaged her dignity." Egyptian law allows female circumcision as long as it is carried out by doctors in hospital: However, in most cases the operation is carried out by unqualified people and barbers in dangerous conditions; Close to 3,600 young girls are circumcised every day in Egypt, according to the Egyptian Human Rights Organisa.

Saudi Arabia awards King Faisal prizes

RIYADH (AFP) — Saudi Arabia's King Faisal prizes for 1995 were awarded to three Egyptians, two Americans, a Briton, a Canadian and a Syrian on Tuesday for serivces to Islam or scientific research. Prince Khaled Al Faisal, head of the King Faisal International Prize Foundation, said the award given to each of the winners had been increased from $93,000 to $200,000 this year. Sheikh Gad Al Haq Alf Gad Al Haq, the Egyptian highest Sunni Muslim authority. received the prize for "service to Islam," the selection committee announced Tuesday. American K. Barry Sharpless, a chemist, received the prize for science. Fellowcountryman Mark Davis, Briton Gregory Winter and Canadian Tak Wah Mak were jointly awarded the prize for medicine. Egyptians Hamdi Sayed Al Sakkut and Mohammad Abu Al Anwar Ali, together with Syrian Salma Luth Al Haffar, were recognised for their studies on Arabic terature. The foundation was created in 1976, a year after ling Faisal Ben Abdul Aziz was assassinated. It has since even awards to more than 100 researchers from 40 countries.

Kuwait MPs want to curb deportation power

KUWAIT (R) — Five Kuwaiti members of parliament (MPs) have submitted a bill to curb the government's power to deport and take other unilateral decisions, an MP said on Wednesday. The bill would allow courts to overturn on appeal so-called administrative orders by government ministers in matters concerning residence, nationality, newspaper licensing and building places of religious worship, MP Ali Al Baghli Stid. This would be an imporant change," Mr. Baghli, spokesman of the assent bly's human rights committee, told Reuters, Mr. Baghli said in answer to a question that the deportation of Palestinian Tawfiq Amarneh last month was an example of the kind of incident that prompted the MPs to propose their he noted the bill's scope was wider than deportations. Mr. Amarneh was deported to Jordan by administrative order after writing a poem that criticised a Kuwaiti journalist for using his daily column to make political attacks on Palestinians.

Iran's ties with West poisoned from Rushdie 'fatwa'

condemnation of Iran on the anniversary of the "fatwa" against Salman Rushdie shows that relations between Tehran and the West are still poisoned six years after the late Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini condemned the British writer to death.

Norway joined the attack.

said on Tuesday.

weeks.

British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd said on the sixth anniversary Tuesday: "We cannot be expected to have a normal relationship with Iran" as long as there is a religious edict or "fatwa" against Mr. Rushdie.

Mr. Hurd added that "activities of the Iranian government, such as rewards for those who injure him... are not acceptable."

The fatwa violates international laws and all human rights principles," Foreign Minister Bjorn Tore Godal

The 15-member European Union (EU) marked the anniversary by calling on Tehran to lift the "fatwa" against Mr. Rushdie, which has provoked tension between Iran and several European countries in the past

On Feb. 14, 1989, the founder of the Islamic republic, Ayatollah Khomeini, issued a "fatwa" against the Indian-born author to punish him for his book "The Satanic Verses," considered blasphemous by many Muslims. Iranian officials have repeatedly upheld the sentence, with Iranian leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei saying two years ago that Mr. Rushdie should be and would be executed. Deputy Foreign Minister Mahmoud Vaezi said during a visit to Denmark last week that "the fatwa is based on Islamic principles, has received the approval of the Organisation of the Islamic Conference member states and is therefore irrevocable."

Iranian intransigence towards Mr. Rushdie is largely responsible for a decision by the EU in December 1992 to limit political relations with Iran to a "critical dialogue." which rules out any exchange of visits at high levels among other measures.

"Decided in defiance of the Universal Declaration on Human Rights and the principle of the sovereignty of states, in particular regarding the protection by the latter of their nationals, this sentence is null and void," the EU said in a statement Monday.

The "fatwa" meanwhile continues to create tension between Iran and several European countries on a bi-

Since the beginning of the year, it has provoked a scalrepublic. ing down in relations between Iran and Norway, with the two countries recalling their ambassadors, and the cancellation of a visit to Sweden by Mr. Vaezi last It also created tension during a trip to Denmark by the deputy foreign minister last

Mr. Vaezi's visit was boycotted by Danish parliament. Danish Foreign Minister Niels Helveg Petersen, who hosted the Iranian official's visit, warned later that Copenhagen could take a tougher line towards Iran if Tehran does not call off the death sentence Iran has been hugely irritated by such pressure and considers them a sign of a Western plot - notably from

.. Cairo (MS)

... Cairo (RJ)

Cairo (Q7) Cairo (MS)

----- Jeddah (RJ) ----- Jeddah (RJ) - Jeddah (add) (RJ)

— to undermine the Islamic

Tehran has also reacted strongly to meetings between Mr. Rushdie and Western officials, which took place frequently after the author a went on the offensive a year ago to force Iran to revoke its sentence.

Iranian leaders still contend the "fatwa" is a religious matter and should not interest fere in relations between Iran with other states. Mr. Vaezi said Copenhagen last week that AT'S GOING tend to actively contribute to Carrying out the sentence.

But such arguments are regarded with scepticism by European diplomats is Tehran, who say Iran is led by the clergy and that there is no separation between state and religion here.

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

PROGRAMME TWO .... Dipoldo ..... Jalna ..... News in French N.B.A Planete En Equation ...... Road to Avonica . The Hat Squad ..... News in English 22-20 Feature film: Taking Care of .. Bangkok Hilton

PRAYER TIMES

06:14 ... (Sunrisc) Duha 17:26 ..... Maghreh

CHURCHES

St. Mary of Nazareth Church Sweilich, Tcl. 811740 Assemblies of God Church, Tcl. St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annunciation Tel. 637440.

De la Salle Church Tel. 661757

Church of the Annunciation Tel. 623541. Anglican Church Tel. 630851, Tel. 628543. Armenian Catholic Church Tcl. Armenian Orthodox Church Tcl. St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751. Amman International Church Tel. 652526. Evangelical Latheran Church Tel: K. 3.5 XX. German-speaking Evangelical Congregation Tci. 084195 The Latter-Day Saints Tci. 054932 Church of Nazarene Tci. 675691.

WEATHER

Amman Tel. 811295

The Evangelical Local Church in winds becoming northwesterly moderate. In Aquba, winds will be

Bulletin supplied by the Depart-ment of Meteorology. Temperatures will rise slightly with northerly moderate and seas culm. Min./Max. temp.

Yesterday's high temperatures: Amman 14, Aqaba 20, Humidity readings: Amman 60 per cent. USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS

NIGHT DUTY AMMAN: Dr. Fakhn Taych

Jordan Valley ...... 10 / 22

Dr. Ghazi Abu Shikhah 752	41)5
Dr. Nidal Dahlch K27	195
Dr. Bassam Karadsheh 759	201
Firas pharmacy 661
Ferdows pharmacy 778	336
Al Asema pharmacy 637	055
Nairoukh pharmacy 623	672
Al Salam pharmacy 636	730
Yacoub pharmacy 644	94 5
Shmeisani pharmacy 637	M
Najih pharmacy 847	ń32
IRBID: Dr. Ali Al Omari	032
ZARQA: Dr. Ahmad Al Tarifi 900	800

Khalifeh oharmacy ...... 985417

EMERGENCIES

..... 630341 Civil Defence Emergency ...... 199 Rescue Police 192, 621111, 637777 Fire Brigade ..... 617101 Highway Police ..... Water and Sewerage ... ... 897467 Telephone Information (directory assistance) ... ... 010230 Overseas Calls ... Central Amman Telephone Repairs 623101 Abdalt Telephone Repairs 661101

Food Control Centre ...... 637111

Civil Defence Department 661111 Civil Defence Immediate Water Authority 636381

HOSPITALS

Hussein Medical Centre 813813/32 Hussein Medical Centre . . . Khalidi Maternity, J. Amn 644281/6 Akilch Maternity, J. Amn. 642441/2 Jabal Amman Maternity .... 642362 Shmeisam Hospital U2iversity Hospital ...... Al-Muasher Hospital ..... The Islamic, Abdali ..... 666127/37 Al-Ahli, Abdali ..... 664164/6 Italian, Al-Muhajreen ... 777101/3 Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafich 775111/26 Amal Hospital ZAROA: Zarga Govt. Hospital (01)083323 Zarqu National Hospital

(IN)900560

Princess Haya Hospital .. ..... (n3)314111

AOABA:

Ibn Sina Hospital ..... (119)986732 Al Hikma Modern Hospital (109)990990 Princess Basma Hospital ..... (02)275555

FOR THE TRAVELLER QUEEN ALIA

AIRPORT ARRIVALS

Royal Jordanian (RJ) Flights (Terminal 1) Aden (RJ)

Sanaa (RJ) Aqaba (RJ) ...... Riyadh (RJ) ..... New Delhi (RJ) 09:55 Cairo, Agaba (RJ 19:00 .... Ahu Dhabi, Al'Ain (RJ) 19:05 ...... Bangkok, Calcutta (RJ) 19:10 ..... Casablanca, Tunis (RJ)

Other Flights (Terminal 2) ..... Muscat, Doha (GF)

. Paris. Damascus (AF)

... Istanbul (TK DEPARTURES Royal Jordanian (RJ) INTERNATIONAL Flights (Terminai 1)

12:45

- Beirut (RJ) 11:55 ..... 12:00 ...... London (RI 12:00 ...... Larnaca, Athens (RI

21:25 ...... Dubai. Muscat (RJ) 22:10 Kuala Lumpur. Jakarta (RJ) Other Flights (Terminal 2) Dubai (EK)

19:45 ..... Bahrain, Doha (R.)

HUAZ RAILWAY TRAIN Dep. Amman ... 8:00 a.m. every Mondey Arr. Damascus 5:00 p.m. every Mondey Dep. Domascus 7:30 a.m. every Sanday Arr. Amman ... 5:00 p.m. every Sanday

MARKET PRICES

200 / 150 400 / 309

250/10/1

Upper/lower price in fils per kg. ... 700/ 400 Cabbage 220/120 140/ 80 Cauliflower

Cucumbers (iarge) Cucumbers (small)

Marrow (large) Marrow (small)

Onion (green) Onion (dry) ...

Polato Radish

EXHIBITIONS

the Friends of Archaeolog 300/2003 and of paintings under glass entitled 340/2003 Anderica?

sended a seminar at water and and Irriga on the "Role of June 1991. Water Conservatargeted 5 far word " mpagas from the cities throu of al Awgaf in his on the Conserva-of Water in Islam." in Ammar A semina

The pro

by the JE

with the Agency &

Developin

and the M

of the importance of one held W awareness among of the religious organised fo gy in Folia [n 2][ C39 lines resources," iners pay 747 to teachi methods of Adgham of the message : strategy had g Environment says hopes, said he was hopes, said he was hopes he was hopes and says are given by general of resuits: in participants General of Water and a workshop servation in As a 10.10 shop to: 🐃 a lordan would deheld at the .

state to the audience in Januar relance stra satul human conschool childs time, the goods God cerve water. children be: of nine and od provided, but we meeting at L consecutive children are emphasised the valu-ו מסומ אי גנוס minimum members fellow oursis e religious establish-meld make to the ducing inform for use in s conservation cam-The water campaian wi a they reach out to a celebrations

f water conservation and will medic the the topic of many prevention sa sensons in mosques eration with of Industry, seminar is one of a tion of case of workshops and gs organised by the outcome ci span of the Water workshops, a ness Project aimed at asrt works of tion and conpublic awareness of an open day a min conserve Jorstarce water reof Water and International

March, 22. 0

Jordan will s

Ardan, Austr discuss trade Simister Bob Mac-

During his : e due here Saturday. Mr. Macreello . kor talks with Jordanected to lead enment officials and team to the jo smen on promoting Australian Tra ian-Australian trade. to explore fur Jordanian Businesstrade and econ ssociation (JBA) said tion. փa Mr. Macmil Australia si d the accompanying range of goo aon of Australian a blod liw name cludes main meat, nce as neeting with Jorducts, estimate businessmen Satura the JBA chairman lion, and bu phosphate an wers views and disestimated last ye

com for promoting and trade coopera-Ways to adju of trade betw statement said that dairman. Hamdicountries are al all lead the Jordafigure in the ta F to the discussions an Austra . Aostralian team Official.

repetted to include Mr. Macmill The of major Aupected to fort itals dealing with the regional office io meat and livesstralian Mear Corporation amg, consúltancated on Jabal Services.

The office w oducts, foodstuffs, task of promoti ther. dams designs. livestock and construc-Jordan and other the Middle Ear

a banking, agricul-

aning listings are compiled from month daily Arabic press. Readers are advised time and press. and place with the concerned i

FILM Patitled "Native Son" at the American

PLAYS is Arabic) entitled "The Chap of Same

by Cultural Centre at 8:00 p.m. Alabic) entitled "Ye Who Are Hear that Centre on Thursday at 9:50 OUD RECITAL

Jalai Al Wandi at the Phoenix and Art on Thursday at 8:00 p.m. CONCERT

to The Iraqi Danah band at the Roy: Thursday at 9:00 p.m.

340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 205
340 20

mams attend seminar on water conservation

Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — More than 250 imams from mosques in and around Amman Wednesday attended a seminar at the Ministry of Water and Irrigation on the "Role of Imams in Water Conservation Campaigns.'

Sadiq Musa from the Ministry of al Awgaf in his lecture on the "Conservation of Water in Islam' stressed the importance of raising awareness among lordanians of the religious bligation to conserve 'God-given resources," inluding water, already menioned in the Holy Koran.

Munir Adgham of the ordan Environment Sociey (JES), said he was hopng that the lecture given by ne. Secretary General of ne Winistry of Water and migation, Dr. Mohammad ani Hani, on water reources in Jordan would deionstrate to the audience lat as a result of excessive nd wasteful human conimption, the goods God ad provided were getting arcer by the day.

"God provided, but we isused, Mr. Adgham immarised succinctly. He emphasised the valule contribution members the religious establishent could make to the ter conservation cam-

Since they reach out to a rge audience, Mr.Adam said he hoped that the ne of water conservation suld be the topic of many day sermons in mosques the following weeks. The seminar is one of a ies of workshops and etings organised by the S as part of the Water /areness Project aimed at sing public awareness of need to conserve Jora's scarce water re-

Frade Minister Bob Mac-

in is due here Saturday.

18 for talks with Jordaanian-Australian trade.

e Jordanian Business-

day that Mi

Association (JBA) said

and the accompanying gation of Australian

nessmen will hold a

ral meeting with Jor-

in businessmen Satur-hear the JBA chairman

members' views and dis-

prospects for promoting

omic and trade coopera-

JBA statement said that

JBA chairman, Hamdi-

aa, will lead the Jorda-

side to the discussions the Australian team

h is expected to include

esentatives of major Au-

ian firms dealing with the ceting of meat and lives-

, engineering, consultan-ervices, banking, agricul-

refrigeration services,

y products, foodstuffs.

ric power, dams designs.

er resources, construc-

government officials and

The project, carried out by the JES in cooperation with the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) and the Ministry of Water and Irrigation, started in June 1994. Other audiences targeted by the project so far were women in several cities throughout Jordan as well as university students in Amman. A seminar similar to the one held Wednesday will be organised for Christian clergy in Fuhais at Easter. In all cases, the organisers pay particular attention to teaching attendants methods of spreading the message to others. This strategy has already shown results: in several cases participants later organised a workshop on water conservation in their own town.

As a follow up to a workshop for university students held at the JES in Amman in January, which developed strategies to teach school children how to conserve water, over 30 schoolchildren between the ages of nine and 13 have been meeting at the JES for three consecutive Thursdays. The children are working on a play which they will show to fellow pupils, and are pro-ducing information material for use in schools.

The water awareness campaign will culminate in celebrations marking the International Water Day on March, 22. Celebrations in Jordan will span three days and will include a pollution prevention seminar in cooperation with the Chamber of Industry, the presentation of case studies on the outcome of the series of workshops, an exhibit of asrt works on water pollution and conservation and an open day at the Ministry of Water and Irrigation.

Jordan, Australia

o discuss trade ties

nessmen on promoting Australian Trade Committee

tion.

Austra-, tion, igrigation and others.

During his visit to Jordan, Mr. Macmillan is also expected to lead his country's team to the joint Jordanian-

to explore further scopes of trade and economic coopera-

range of goods which includes mainly livestock,

meat, rice and dairy products, estimated at $60 million, and buys Jordanian

phosphate and fertilisers,

By Elia Nasrallah Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN - The Lower House of Parliament Wednesday reaffirmed the right of Parliament members to visit prisons and examine and decided to send a parliamentary committee to the Swaqa prison for this pur-

The House's stand was announced by its Speaker Saad Hayel Srour who read out a report by a special committee formed to examine a complaint by Islamic Action Front (IAF) deputies that they were barred from visiting prisoners.

The seven-member committee led by Mr. Srour said in the report that they had held a meeting with Interior Minister Salameh Hammad and IAF deputies Hamzeh and Abdul Rahim Ekour and the complaint.

The report said that Parliament members have all the right to visit prisons and reformatory centres with the purpose of examining the conditions of detainees and inmates. It said that the visits can be made after consultations with the interior minister who ought to make arrangements

Referring to the LAF complaint, the report said that the IAF Parliament members had requested the minister for permission to visit and secured his approval; he had instructed the Swaqa prison officials to welcome the deputies but regrettably, the Parliament members were barred by prison officials from seeing the inmates during their two visits to the prison. The report also voiced the IAF members' protest statement in the House, in which he said that certain deputies were trying to secure political gains from this issue and that they were offending the country's security services.

The report also voiced protest against the Jordan Radio and Television for broadcastin full without cancelling those parts which were considered offending to the deputies' feelings and which had been cancelled from the House's official records upon the speaker's instructions.

The report reaffirmed the need for ensuring complete confidence between the executive and legislative authorities and announced that the committee was organising a visit to Swaqa prison in the company of LAF members and other deputies.

The House later started discussing a report by its Ficluded detailed reports by the Audit Bureau for 1992 and House report tackles Audit Bureau's performance, parliamentarians' right to visit prison inmates

The report stressed that the committee has discovered general weakness in the administration and performance of government departments and incompetence on the part of the employees.

The report referred to the Finance Ministry's practice of giving loans to firms operating at a loss, noting that until the end of last year such loans amounted to JD120 million, and called for a better system for collecting dues to the state treasury.

The report referred to the losses of Royal Jordanian (RJ), which until the end of 1993 amounted to JD143.9 million, and called for prompt action to enable RI to collect JD64.4 million due to the airline.

The report also pointed out that contractors carrying out government projects were slow in finishing them and recommended that thorough feasibility studies be made before the start of any pro-

The report pointed to practices of embezzlements and frauds of public funds, as included in the Audit Bureau's reports, and recommended that the government take steps to safeguard public funds.

The report referred to violations of government regulations concerning the appointment of government employees and recommended that the inspection and control bureau be given wider authorities to control the appointments proce-

that the Central Bank of Jordan should come under the jurisdiction of the Audit Bureau since it is a public organisation.

Ahmad Kofahi, Abdul Razzak Tubeishat and Bassam Emoush demanded that the Audit Bureau be given wider authority to control public spending and urged the House to speed up work on a draft law to hold accountable persons amassing fortunes through illegitimate means and to deal with economic crimes.

In reply to deputies' remarks, Prime Minister Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker suggested that a special workshop be organised where specialists can scrutinise the Audit Burean's reports and draw up a practical mechanism for dealing with the violations.

The prime minister stressed that the government was determined to deal with all corruption cases, saying that any person proven to have abused his authorities or got involved in corruption cases will be referred to trial.

By Sa'eda Kilani Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — Prominent Arab journalists expressed their disappointment when, at a U.N. meeting Wednesday, they were asked to offer suggestions for a draft Arab declaration that had already been drawn.

Fifteen journalists representing leading Arabic newspapers met at Forte Grand Hotel upon an invitation from the Economic and Social Commission for Western Asia (ESCWA) to discuss the Arab draft proposal and plan of action that will be presented to the World Summit on Social Development to be held in Copenhagen in March.

Hafez, from the leading Egyptian Al Ahram news paper, said the general framework of the declaration had already been drawn and if there were going to be any changes or modifications to the document they would only be going to be modifications ... the Western countries do not meet their commitments, especially concerning development aid programmes in developing countries," Mr. Hafez said. Saleh Al Qallab, a col-estimated last year at $10 mil-Ways to adjust the balance of trade between the two countries are also expected to figure in the talks, according said it was useless. "I do not believe in these to an Australian embassy Mr. Macmillan is also expected to formally open a regional office for the Australian Meat and Livestock Corporation (AMLC) located on Jabal Amman. The office will assume the task of promoting Australian livestock and meat sales in Jordan and other countries in

Journalists feel Arab culture aspect neglected in draft for social summit

They said the meeting came a bit late. Salah Eddin umnist at the Jordanian daily Al Dustour, vehemently criticised the meeting and some sort of ornament the U.N. uses to promote it-self," Mr. Al Qallab said. "Anyone can write the declaration itself in an hour's

George Qusseifi. ESCWA's representative at the conference, said the draft declaration has not been endorsed yet as the Arab ministers of social development presented the document to the Arab countries without ratifying

But journalists said the document does not give appropriate attention to cultural specifics. Mr. Hafez said the spirit of the declaration was foreign to the majority of the member countries to the meeting. "It imposes the same old (western) model to solve problems in developing countries, overlooking cultural 'differences," Mr. Hafez said. Fihmi Huweidi, a prominent Egyptian writer, said there was a noticeable absence of Arab culture and the draft declaration. According to the Islamist writer, the successful solution to the social problems in the Arab World would be to relay the responsibilities of social development to Al Waqf Department.

"Mosques are only used now for praying while his-torically they had an educational role as well as a social one," the writer said.

and activated, such declarations "will be confined to the elite circles without benefitting the poor," he

Khalil Al Banna, from the Ministry of Social Development, defended the declaration and called on participants not to reject everything that comes from the West.

"We should not be closing the doors in front of universal thinking. There are some points that might be in contradiction with our beliefs ... but the draft declaration is excellent," Mr. Al Banna said.

Earlier during the meeting, the United Nations resident representative in Amman, Ösman Hashem, said the purpose of the twoday seminar was to engage iournalists in the preparations for the social summit.

He said the objective of such a meeting was to focus light on important issues that are the cornerstone for global development. Dr. Hashem said the

would enhance the Arab countries' role at the sum-

ESCWA's Secretary General Hazem Biblawi said the media had an important role in increasing people's awareness regarding social problems. He urged media organisations to provide more space and time to discussing social

Jordan to start pipeline project to bring in 20 mcm of water annually

By a Jordan Times Staff Reporter

AMMAN — Jordan plans to start building a 3.5-kilometre pipeline to bring 20 million cubic metres of water annually from the border with Israel to the northern areas of the Kingdom in two weeks, a senior Jordanian negotiator said Wednesday.

The pipeline, which will cost JD 3.5 million, will be ready by end of May/early June so that Jordan would start getting the water during the summer, said Munther Haddadin, the Kingdom's senior-most negotiator in water-related issues with Israel.

The Ministry of Water and Irrigation will be in charge of the project.
The 20 million cubic metres of Lake Tiberias water Jordan would bef through the pipeline are part of the additional 215 million cubic metres per year that the Kingdom is entitled to under the Oct. 26 peace treaty it signed

The pipeline will be the be built under the peace

The actual receipt by the Kingdom of its full share of water as acknowledged and accepted by Israel in the peace treaty depends on the completion of dams, diversion structures and a desalination plant. This could take up to two years.

In the meantime, Israel is expected to accept interim arrangements for Jordan to receive part of the quantity agreed upon in the peace treaty.

In addition to the pipeline, Jordan will also receive eight million cubic metres of water between May 15 and Oct. 15 from the Yarmouk River after Israel reduces its diversion of water from the river to 12 million cubic metres per year from the present 20 to 22 million cubic metres, Dr. Haddadin told the Jordan Times.

During the summer, Israel will also divert 10 million cubic metres of drinking water from the Jordan Valley, and this water will be pumped to Irbid and Amman, Dr. Haddadin said. In meetings with their Israeli counterparts at Beit Shean this week, Jordanian negotiators headed by Dr. Haddadin reached agreement on launching feasibility studies for a dam to be constructed on the Yarmouk River in the Al

Under the accord, the Jordan Valley Authority (JVA) was designated as the project manager and

Israel had wanted the project to be "jointly" managed and "we made it clear that there cannot be two bodies as heads of the project," Dr. Haddadin

The diversion structure of the project is estimated to cost around JD 10 million, he said.

During the meeting, it was also agreed that Jordan would take charge of proects to store water on the River Jordan and adjacent vallevs.

Article II of the annex on water of the peace treaty says that Jordan and Israel "shall cooperate to build a diversion/storage dam on the Yarmouk River directly downstream of the Adassiyeh diversion.

The purpose is to improve the diversion efficiency into the King Abdullah Canal of the water allocation of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, and possibly the diversion of Israel's allocation of the river water." The two sides also agreed to build another water storage facility on the Jordan River, along the border, between the confluence of the Yarmouk and Jordan rivers and the confluence of the River Jordan with Wadi

The two water facilities. designated as joint projects, are estimated at $100 militon and the diversion of water from the facilities to each other's territory will be at the cost of the respective sides. Feasibility studies on the projects will be conducted under financing extended by the European Union (EU) and, subject to the results of the studies, the EU will also finance the construction of the pro-

YHAT'S GOING ON

: following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins I the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

FILM

Film entitled "Native Son" at the American Center on Thursday 2:30 p.m.

PLAYS

Play (in Arabic) entitled "The Chap of Samarquad" at the Royal Cultural Centre at 8:00 p.m. Play (in Arabic) entitled "Ye Who Are Hearing" at the Royal Cultural Centre on Thursday at 9:00 p.m.

OUD RECITAL

)µd recital by Jalal Al Wandi at the Phoenix Gallery for ;µlture and Art on Thursday at 8:00 p.m.

CONCERT

Concert by the Iraqi Danah band at the Royal Cultural

entre on Thursday at 9:00 p.m. EXHIBITIONS

photo exhibition at the Friends of Archaeology Center. hibition of paintings under glass entitled "Oriental jots" by Fatiha Rahou at the Royal Cultural Centre. Young America" exhibit (with photographs featuring mericans of all ages) at the American Center.

chibition of works by Qasim Al Samir at the Housing

mk Complex Gallery. rok exhibition at the Royal Cultural Centre.

thibation of the works of Lebanese artist Amin Al isha at Darat Al Funun. Also showing works by ntemporary Arab artists.

lucational works depicting the life of "Voltaire" at the ench Cultural Centre.

Charities encouraged to work in rural areas

AMMAN (Petra) — The Ministry of Social Development has adopted a policy of encouraging the creation of charitable and voluntary organisations in the rural regions, and societies specialising in dealing with specific sectors, according to ministry Secretary-General Suleiman Rousan Wednesday. Out of a total of 733 societies registered with the ministry, only 318 are operating in the rural and badia regions of Jordan, noted Mr.

He said that the specialised societies account for 10 per cent of the total number of societies, while the rest are multi-purpose societies, adding that from the total number 102 are women societies.

The ministry has allocated JD 260,000 to help finance voluntary and charitable societies' services and prog-rammes this year, said Mr. Rousan, adding that the ministry is in the process of entrusting the National Aid Fund (NAF) with the task of providing assistance to the poor, the orphans and the handicapped, thus relieving the charitable societies of this principi and anowing mem to specialise in their work and serve specific purposes.

Referring to help coming from other sources to the charitable societies. Mr. Rousan said that nongovernmental organisations like Care, the Middle East Foundation and the Employment and Development Fund are currently financing 42 income-generating projects,

Ministry official tackles tawjihi, school premises, literacy rate

who want to pursue higher dents at universities. education will have to sit for the tawjihi examination, Education Secretary General

Munther Al Masri. Addressing a meeting held here to discuss the tawjihi examinations at the end of the secondary school level. Dr. Masri said that students who complete their secondary term will continue to be issued school certificates ings. needed for their work purposes in accordance with specific conditions. Referring to the tawjihi examination system. Dr. Masri said that the ministry, which organises the tawjihi examination for government and private schools, has not yet taken a final decision on whether the examinations will continue to be taken twice a year, in January and May, or only once, at the end of the school term in the

In the course of determining whether to retain the present system or shift to a once-a-year exam for tawjihi students, the ministry recently conducted a survey on families who have children in the top secondary class and found out that 50 per cent preferred to retain the present system and 50 per cent the educational development tawiihi examination. Several speakers presented

DEIR ABI SAEED (Petra) the tawjihi examination - Starting with the 1997 should not be taken as a scholastic year, only students criterion for admitting stu-

Dr. Masri referred to the Ministry of Education's drive according to Ministry of to improve the present educational system, noting that the ministry is determined to dispose of rented school buildings.

Over the past five years, he said, the ministry has succeeded in reducing from 50 per cent to 12 per cent its dependence on rented build-He also said that the ministry was going ahead with a programme to upgrade teachers' qualifications, not-ing that it still has to upgrade the level of some 20,000 Referring to adult education, he said that by the year 2000 the ministry hopes to have reduced illiteracy from 24 per cent to eight per cent through adult education and literacy classes.

Referring to housing for teachers, he said that the ministry's special housing fund has received a JD 20 million interest-free loan from the government to be re-lent to teachers wishing to build their own houses. Furthermore, the ministry finance the current stage in opted for the once-a-year plan, according to Dr. Masri Present at the meeting were teachers, school directheir views at the meeting, tors and ministry officials in some of whom stressing that the Jordan Valley.

has secured a JD 180 million

World Bank loan to help

assail Anglo-Irish plan

BELFAST (Agencies) — Protestant members of parliament from Northern Ireland's biggest party attacked the British government Wednesday for reporting a breakthrough in drafting the next steps of an Anglo-Irish peace plan for the province.

att

ains

mine

'Thi

fulfi

ough

fice

ovaí

ec

"I ra

d to

for it ce

ieni

v an me

litic.

Som

mic

∶dna

The

i bu

eres

 $\Pi$

niı

s) ig in

"I think there is a very serious danger that the government has made a massive misjudgement of the situation despite the numerous warnings and advice they have been given over the months," David Trimble of the Ulster Unionist Party (UUP) said.

Mr. Trimble, whose party wants Northern Ireland to stay British, said he feared that a plan reviewed by the two governments Tuesday could set up corss-border bodies that would be tantamount to a reunification of ireland.

But he stopped short of threatening to bring down British Prime Minister John Major's embattled minority government, a threat the UUP has made in the past two weeks as work on the Anglo-Irish plan has gathered pace.

We are quite prepared to cooperate. We are even prepared in the right circumstances to look at cross-border bodies, but we are not prepared to enter into united Ireland political institutions." Mr. Trimble told BBC radio.

He was reacting to a joint statement by Britain and Ireland Tuesday after ministers reported a breakthrough in drafting a so-called framework document laying down proposed guidelines for constitutional change for their Northern Ireland peace

A bitter Trimble complained that the UUP, the largest party in the province,

TUXTLA GUTIERREZ.

Mexico (AP) — The governor of Chiapas, beset by rebel calls for his resignation.

ended two months in office

Tuesday by stepping down

esking Zapatista insurgents

to end their fighting.
Gov. Eduardo Robledo

Rincon also called for Roman Catholic Bishop Samuel

Ruiz, who has been accused of collaborating with the re-bels, to stop. Neither the Zapatistas nor the bishop im-

The Chiapas legislature

approved his request to leave his office and named a federal congressman, Julio Cesar

Ruiz Ferro, as interim gov-

The significance of Mr.

Robledo's decision depends on rebel response, which because of the remoteness of the Chiapas region could take days to become known. It was uncertain if his action

would appease the rebels.

who also want land reform

and a withdrawal of army

The Zapatista National Li-

mediately responded.

ernor.

had asked to be consulted about the drawing up of the document and said that his group would boycott all-party talks which are due to be held on the basis of the plan.

"There is absolutely no point going to discuss a menu, all of the items of which are unpalatable. You are sending people the wrong signals." A Unionist boycott of all-party talks Britain and Ireland are hoping to convene would be a body blow for the peace process the two governments started with their December 1993 Downing Street Declaration.

The talks are supposed to bring together Irish nationalists, who want the province reunited with Ireland, and Unionists to work out a new "agreed Ireland" and end 25 years of political and sectarian conflict.

British Northern Ireland Secretary Sir Patrick Mayhew and Ireland's foreign minister. Dick Spring, said they had made "encouraging progress" and held out the prospect of a landmark Anglo-Irish summit to unveil the plan "shortly." Publication of their so-called framework document will end months of specula-tion during which Unionist politicians have threatened to bring down the British gov-

Mr. Spring, declaring that there was now "light at the end of the tunnel," appealed to both Protestants and Catholics not to prejudge the document until it is published, which Sir Patrick said could be as early as next

It is expected to propose changes to rival British and Irish claims to Northern Ireland as well as the establishment of cross-border bodies

ded the resignation of Mr.

Robledo, who they said was elected fraudulently. Mr. Robledo offered at his December inaugural to step

Election observers said

they saw some voting irregularities but found no evidence contend Amado Avendano

of the leftist Democratic Revolutionary Party won the

Aug. 21 election. They swore him in as the head of an

Mr. Avendano, a lawyer

and newspaper publisher

from San Cristobal De Las

Casas, said Tuesday that Mr.

Robledo's departure "helps relax the terrible climate of conditions," Mr. Avendano said. "We need peace in Chiapas, but we won't have peace until the soldiers go

The national government maintains Mr. Robledo's

status is a local affair.

back to their barracks."

"But it is only one of the tension in Chiapas."

"alternative government"

December.

Mr. Robledo's opponents of widespread fraud.

down if the rebels disarm.

investment and break down needless economic and national frontiers. But Unionists fear such bodies could push them into the orbit of Dublin, despite assurances from both the Irish and British governments that nothing will change the province without majority consent.

It is not a blueprint to be imposed. But rather a basis for discussion leading to agreement among all participants to talks," a joint statement said

More than 40 per cent of Britons think it would be wrong for Britain and Ireland to press ahead with plans for all-Ireland executive bodies without the support of Ulster Unionists, according to a poll in Wednesday's Guardian. Forty-three per cent said that any such plans included in a forthcoming framework document should go ahead only if the Unionist parties agree" and 26 per cent said whether the Unionists agree or not," in the Guardian/ ICM poll of 1,427 adults carried out on Feb. 10 and 11.

The findings will strengthen the hands of the Unionists, who want to see Northern Ireland stay firmly under British rule, said the paper.

On Tuesday night three leading Unionists sent a fivepage letter to British Prime Minister John Major saying they could not enter all-party talks on the basis of a "nationalist agenda" set out in the framework document.

Their letter followed a meeting in which Mr. Major failed to reassure them that he was not planning to impose a "blueprint" for peace on them. Instead, the document would be the basis for further negotiation, he said. Mexico's Chiapas governor resigns were forced out by former President Carlos Salinas De

Mr. Robledo said he acted independently. "Now it is up to the rest to contribute to the re-establishment of peace

President Ernesto Zedillo

asket the rebel leader, Subcommandante Marcos, to clarify his intent to find a peaceful solution. Mr. Zedil-

lo said he would order the army to avoid confrontation

The Zapatistas began fighting in Chiapas on Jan. 1,

1994, demanding rights and services for the region's impoverished Indians. More than 145 people were killed

before a ceasefire 12 days

military and investors to resolve the conflict in Chiapas,

Mr. Zedilio's government authorised a major army push

into the rebels' territory

The army offensive worries

Under pressure from the

with the rebels.

and social order in Chiapas,"

Gortari.

he said.

N. Ireland Protestants | Heavy casualties reported in Cambodian fighting

PHNOM PENH (R) — Wounded soldiers said Wednesday the Cambodian army had suffered hundreds of casualties, most of them in mine blasts, in a drive against Khmer Rouge guerrillas in the far northern province of Preah Vihear.

"The new strategy of the Khmer Rouge includes planting a lot of new mines." said a senior government official with close knowledge of the fighting.
"The problem for the soldiers now is a mine prob-lemthe Khmer Rouge are trying to increase the laying of mines and (bamboo) spikes," he told Reuters. A colonel just returned from fighting in Preah Vihear, in which he said more than 3,000 government soldiers were involved, said casualties since January were in the hundreds. "Everywhere mines. Not so many soldiers are getting killed in fighting, but many are killed from mines," said Manila orders forces strengthened in Spratlys

MANILA (R) — Philippine President Fidel Ramos

Wednesday ordered a strengthening of the nation's military and naval forces on the disputed Spratly Islands and increased surveillance of a

"I have ordered the Department of Defence to strengthen, within our limited capabilities, our detachments and our naval presence in the Kalayaan Group and to intensify its aerial surveillance over Panganiban

Reef," Mr. Ramos said in a statement after a meeting of the National Security Coun-

also lodging a strong diplomatic protest with China

starry-eyed lovers than ever celebrated St. Valentine's

Day Tuesday, with gifts of red roses, candle-lit dinners

and mile-high marriage prop-

dwide shortage of red roses.

flush after decades of communism, bought thousands of

the flowers, driving prices beyond even the inflated

levels traditional around St.

had added piguancy because it coincided for the first time

in 19 years with the Chinese calendar's version of St.

Lantern Festival, which falls on the 15th day of the first lunar month, was once

the only day of the year when young Chinese couples were allowed to walk alone

together.
Russia and many other former Soviet countries have only recently adopted St.

Valentine's Day from the St. Valentine's Day is a day for lovers. Try to be more gentle to each other." Rus-"Please don't forget that

In Asia, the annual festival

Valentine's Day.

Valentine's Day.

West.

And that meant a worl-

Russian lovers, suddenly

LONDON (R) - More end of its newscast.

He said the Philippines was reef occupied by China.

the colonel, who asked not to for another two years all the be named.

Since November, bundreds of soldiers have been killed or wounded on the Preah Vihear battlefield. The ones who are killed are cremated there," said Kruoch Sareun, 25, a soldier based in Preah Vihear.

Kruoch Sareun had his right arm blown off above the elbow while trying to defuse a booby-trapped landmine. Hospital records shown to

Reuters Wednesday listed more than 170 wounded soldiers admitted to the Phnom Penh military hospital since Hospital officials said most of the injured were mine

casualties and that there had been a sharp increase in the flow of wounded from the northern front this month. One officer wounded by Khmer Rouge rifle fire said the fighting was taking place in difficult terrain.

over its building of substantial structures on the Panganiban Reef the Philippine name for Mischief Reef in the former armed forces commander, gave no details of the defence buildup but said

Manila would exhaust all diplomatic options to resolve

the "emerging crisis" before doing anything else.

Although Mr. Ramos saw

no reason for undue alarm,

he added, "at the same time

we all realise that, while hoping for the best, we must prepare for the worst," he

last week showing that China

had deployed ships and built

The streets of the Ukrainian capital Kiev were full of men carrying bouquets of flowers - even though a single rose at the main market cost 300,000 karbovanets

($2) - compared to the average monthly wage of less than

The hugely-inflated price of red roses — the flowers the goddess of love Aphrodite

placed in the tomb of her dead lover - failed to dame

pen the ardour of the world's

Young Chinese men, enriched by 16 years of market

reforms, were buying them

by the dozen at up to 30 yuan

In Hong Kong, the ena-

moured were paying double

the usual price for a flower

But in the United States, a television show warned that the gift of red roses could

An untold number of the carry a serious health risk.

60 million roses imported from flowers farms in Col-ombia, where half of the blooms imported for Valentine's Day came from, were coated with the residue of flower-buying lovers.

($3.50) each.

arrangement.

Manila released pictures

did not elaborate.

The Philippine president, a

South China Sea.

"If this fighting keeps on soldiers there will die," said a 28-year-old company commander called lam.

He was wounded in the left arm in a clash with Khmer Rouge near a recently captured rebel base at Preah Prolei, 20 km (12 miles) west of Preah Vihear Temple.

The guerrillas have laid mines on the approaches to the temple, which sits atop the Dangrek Mountains straddling the Thai-Cambodian border. It was captured by the Khmer Rouge in 1993.

The 10th century temple, a potent symbol of Khmer nationalism, was the subject of a bitter ownership dispute with Thailand, which the World Court decided in Cambodia's favour in 1962.

Other casualties, again mostly from mines, have been reported from a second front close to the Khmer Rouge's main northern base at Anlong Veng, briefly cap-

a series of structures on stilts

on the reef, which is 135

nautical miles west of the Philippine island of Palawan.

come to no other conclusion

but that the Chinese have established a new outpost

and a possible naval support installation well within and in the middle of our exclusive

are among six nations that claim all or part of the Sprat-

lys, a series of small islands

and reefs that are considered potentially rich in oil and gas.

given an official explanation

that the occupation was ordered by low-level personnel acting "without the know-

The report quoted a toxicologist, Dr. Samuel Epstein, as saying that being near the blossoms presents "a significant risk of cancer and a significant risk of birth de-

Meanwhile a group calling itself the American Gender

Society was calling for a "just

The American Gender

Society wants to see St.

Valentine's Day replaced by

St. Uncumber was a Portuguese princess who praved

that she might become physically repellent so she would not have to marry the King of Sicily. Her prayers were answered when overnight she grew a full beard and moustache. Her angry father then had her crucified.

In Japan's earthquake-ravaged town of Kobe,

volunteers pedalled bicycles

through the ruined streets to deliver St. Valentine's Day

chocolates to surprised refugees.

"I feel deeply moved that people haven't forgotten us here after a month in the

don't do it, America,

national day of celibacy.

a St. Uncumber Day."

Mr. Ramos said China had

China and the Philippines

economic zone," he said.

Our government can

tured by the government last year and then retaken by the Maoist guerrillas.

"There's fighting every day around Preah Vihear Temple and Anlong Veng. Every day five or six soldiers are killed or wounded in my area, mostly by mines," Chhem Seung said.

"There are mines everywhere," said the 35-year-old former Khmer Rouge guerrilla wounded in operations against his old comrade around Anlong Veng and now recovering after having his left leg amputated above the knee.

He said he trod on a mine during a scouting mission close to Anlong Veng.

Chhem Seung said he defected with 280 Khmer

Rouge in the northern province of Siem Reap late last year and that along with 80 of his colleagues had been integrated into the Cambodian army and ordered back into ledge and consent of the

of China's action last month

when Filipino fishermen detained by Chinese forces, believed the issue was of concern to all nations interested in the long-term stability of the South China Sea, he said.

Foreign Secretary Roberto

Romulo, briefing reporters

after the Security Council meeting, said China's occupation of the reef threatened the peace and sta-

Pictures of China's installa-

bility of the whole region.

But Manila, which learned

Chinese government".

Widow scoops highest-ever individual lottery prize:

World N

KIEL, Germany (AFP) 63-year-old widow smashed the record for highest individual pr Germany's National Ho scooping more than 13 tion marks ($8.5 m organisers said Tuesday unnamed lucky winner lives in the north Schleswig-Holstein, n described the payout avine intervention learning she was the player with all six connumbers in Saturday's did.

In December 1994, person syndicate shared nings of 20.5 million ma the most ever on a s

Valentine's Day with a taste of Africa

tions showed structures similar to others it had built elsewhere in the South China

Scandalous Oscar gets abbey niche

private life.

Actress needs

dark windows to

month, car windows must sunlight through. "Some times we have to get changed.

in Sunday's Thai-language,

by Prime Minister Chush.

corrupt traffic police.

change behind

LONDON (AFP) — Oscar be find to Bihac, instead Wilde, the Victorian wit and 50 000 tonnes needed, writer who fell from grace-is smooth said, over a homosexual relay a sonvoy arrived in tionship and died in poverties was last Thursday in Paris, got his revenge on the MHCR will charter British society when a planter

In the tiny town of Saint-Valentine in western France.

And in London, 100 Brit-

Sea to reinforce its claim to all the islands. Lovers around the world celebrate Valentine's Dav

family's makeshift home in an elementary school gymna-

The celebrations even got grudging approval from the sceptical authorities of Singapore, where a record 1,099 couples planned to marry on St. Valentine's Day.

"Western practice is not in itself pariah. It is only so if the values it imparts are dubious," said the progovernment Straits Times newspaper, commenting on the marriage marathon. The London Times newspaper said 50 men intended to propose in the clouds during a 1,000 pound ($1,565) a head flight over the Bay of Biscay in the supersonic airliner Concorde.

dozens of newly-wed and betrothed couples gathered to celebrate the day with a procession, dancing and a competition for the "most languorous kiss."

ish couples, some of whom had met only moments earlier, cast aside their traditional reserve to take part in a five-minute-long kiss for

soldiers cheer at the military to the Peruvian border, after the into force Tuesday at 1700 to

So smitten was Ms. Mason and its way to Bihac that she left her husband and a mets underwent inkids, moved back to Kenya and the Sisak checkand lived with Mr. Sab at the Sisak checkLekimencho in a hut. They there a Croatian conmoved back to England in the south of the October last year the has only managed Phumanitarian conand a total of 870 ton-

was sentenced to two years hard labour for indecent be haviour. He immortalised his prison in his poem The Bal and Of Reading Jail but the country and the seconds.

went to Paris, where he dece another two charming 1900 at the age of 44 and the age of 45 and the age of 45 are the age

reident's popularity hs authority has talened and his gedentials have ithed by the fighting

BANGKOK (R) — A population of a Thai govern; and NATO should tinted car windows, saying the special treaty people in the entertainment of without giving industry needed to change in the west-industry needed to change in th daene: Bind Rus people in the entertainment to the West-industry needed to change it. Think to the giving it people in the entermination of the property industry needed to change in the industry needed to cha allow at least 50 per cent of Resident Russia is Mr. Dehaene do not want in the cars during a show. It is troublesome being a star but as a partner

Europe." the public," she was quoted ing the enlargeand the addi-Daily News as saying. A government committee chaired Warsaw Pact be placed on Leekpai will met on Feb. 24, Russia's own to review the regulation, $\frac{1}{2}$ prompted by police concerns about safety and crime pre-

NATO as a vention. Some politicians are the regular to the strong many car-owners say the regular to the long and the strong many car-owners say the regular to the strong many car-owners say the regular to the strong many car-owners say the regular to the strong t vention. Some politicians and is strong

President Arthur Hiller (left) and actress Angela Bassett announce the nominations for nominee Strawberry Chocolate, a hit in its native Cuba

Hanks, last year's winner for his role as an AIDSinfected attorney in Philadelphia. faces tough competition not only from Travolta but from screen legend Paul Newman in Nobody's Fool," Morgan Freeman in The Shawshank Redemption and Nigel Hawthorne in The

but barely registering in the U.S. market.

Madness Of King George.
"I feel like I've rekindled my whole career," Travolta. a former teen heartthrob who was last nominated 17 years ago for Saturday Night Fever, said in an interview on for Miramax's box-office ABC TV's Good Morning lightweights: Woody Allen's America.

The nominees for Best Actress are two-time winner Jodie Foster for Nell, Jessica Lange for Blue Sky, Miranda Richardson for Tom Viv. Winona Ryder in Little Women and Susan Sarandon for The Client.

Krzysztof Kieslowski for from Belgium.

kind of unexpected good news Polish director Krzysztof Kieslowski needed after hearing about car insurance part of a trilogy, was nomin-

Awards (AFP photo)

The other nominees for Best Foreign-Language film are Before The Rain from Macedonia, Burnt By The Sun from Russia, Eat Drink Man Woman from Taiwan and Farinelli: Il Castrato rates in Poland.

ated for Oscars in the Best Director, Best Original Screenplay and Best Cinematography categories.

film," Kieslowski, 53, told the Associated Press in a telephone interview from his Warsaw apartment Tuesday. "Many people come to.see a film nominated for an Oscar and the reason to make films is to have people see The U.S. distributor of Red, Miramax, called Kieslowski with the good news Tuesday afternoon, catching him between calls to his car insurance agent.

sweeten that otherwise sad moment," Kieslowski said. complaining about the high insurance rate for his Frenchmade Renault Safrane.

sian Television said at the human rights groups. beration Army has deman- However, several governors Academy Award nominees set sights on Oscar gold

LOS ANGELES (Agencies) The movie studios that produced such leading Oscar contenders as Forrest Gump and Pulp Fiction wasted no time Wednesday in mounting full-scale campaigns to cash in on their films success. The names of this year's Academy Award nominees had hardly solled off the presenters lips at Tuesday's ceremony when studio publicists were putting together bold-faced newspaper ads touting the movies and actors on Hollywood's A-list.

Given the potential to add millions of dollars to a movie's take at the box office and in video rentals. film industry executives were eager to capitalise on the avalanche of publicity generated by the promise of striking Oscar

The box-office hit Forrest Gump — which led the field with 13 nominations, one shy of the Oscar record set by Ali About Eve in 1950 - was being prepared for a rerelease Friday on more than 1,000 movie screens across the United States.

In one of the strongest showings in Oscar history, Forrest Gump, the whimsical tale of a kind-hearted simpleton and his close brushes with fame, was nominated for Best Picture, Best Actor (Tom Hanks), Best Director (Robert Zemeckis) and Best Supporting Actor (Gary Si-

It was the first time a film has piled up 13 nominations sincè the 1966 classic drama Who's Afraid Of Virginia Woolf? -- a success all the more notable considering Gump drifted in Hollywood purgatory for eight years be-

"Forrest Gump rode a wave of baby-boomer nostalgia to become the fourthhighest-grossing picture of all time with more than $300

cided to produce it.

theatres several weeks ago in preparation for its triumpant post-nomination return. But, as Oscar season shifts into high gear, the contenders that stand to reap the biggest gains - at least in percentage terms - are the smaller films. Also competing for best picture honours are: the ultra-violent satire Pulp Fiction. Robert Redford's Quiz

Show, the prison drama The Shawshank Redemption and the British comedy Four Weddings And A Funeral. The awards will be handed out on March 27 at the shrine auditorium in a glitzy ceremony that is expected to attract more than one billion

television viewers worldwide. In the leadup to Hollywood's biggest show, Disney's Miramax Films is ready to aggressively promote Pulp Fiction, which captured nominations for John Travolta for best actor. Quentin Tarantino for Best Director, Samuel Jackson for Best Supporting Actor and Uma Thurman for Best Supporting Actress.

The film — a dark, bloody and strangely comical tale of hit men crusiing the underworld - has already pulled in a healthy $75 million in ticket receipts and is expected to do even better now that it has the Oscar stamp of approval. A big push is also expected

Bullets Over Broadway,

which received seven

nominations but has barely cracked $10 million in ticket

sales and foreign-language

Along with Zemeckis and Tarantino, the contenders for Best Director are Robert Redford for Quiz Show, Allen for Bullets Over Broadway and Polish director

Meanwhile, it was just the

His film Red, the third

"I am glad the film got the nomination because it helps a

them," the director said.

"Yes, the news did

Reamond.

tian copital e

cases of mai

Muslim enc...

senting a li

reste initia

Serrie relaci

twick later thi

or recognition

Croafia. 🕹

Things 22 22 d Fr

Ministry s

Cutherine Co

ment, offers i aides to be ahead of th

elections and to democracia

the Federal A

the head of st

tomorrow in sums up the

of Russia's to

tor Hyushin.

top adviser.

TASS news a distance himse popular Chech

and signal the army reforms

have given ris

of problems a system of sta

army reforms.

source told

analysis of approach to th

the Chechen p

forum for dism

culation is rife

Minister Pavel

The speech i

He will ma

Agency.

The Check

Mr. Yeltsin

Boris Yell

He has turn

a repneve.

ы солежазт

Meanwail

The office

in Paris, got his revenge on separation will charter the prices.

British society when a plaque to his memory was inscribed a plasin hopes to be in Westminster Abbey. The plast of English literature will be set out to restore his are buried or commemory sets out to restore his region's rated, was attended by a must credentals and the region's rated, was attended by a must credentals and the region's rated, was attended by a must credentals and the region's rated. Posted to last TURBORN TO

are buried or commemorated, was attended by the ministredentals and numerous British acting the ministredentals and took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day which will take a took place 100 years to the day after a line Irish-born and the tondon. The Irish-born and the tomb of Queen Victoria's the tomb of Queensberry, father of his against the Marquess of Queensberry, father of his against the Marquess of the day wind worned fore-last homosexual lover, Lord Alfred "Bosie" Douglas, also needs to the day of governing the last of governing the last of governing the last of governing the last of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labour for indecent be a storians of the 21st hard labo issionans of the 21st in to unravel the of what Yeltsin and A wanted to do with the daily Nezavisilad Of Reading Jan Dun use Jana Wally Nezavisi-experience and the scandal later's said broke him. On release he works address to a is on the line approach to C the works. A shaky tr heavy arms in (

> Last Decemb Boris Yeltsin to uproar at a Euro in Budapest by the partnership plan opening former Warsaw to join NATO Western effort continent. Sever lier, Foreign Mir Kozyrev refused agreement linking the alliance. Although the were subsequer have been overc still is searching draw Poland, F Special Czech Republic into full NATO while simultaneo a constructive

> tionship, consist logue and predict probably be crea

"A stable we

with Moscow.

This photo shows Actor John Travolta as Awards. Pulp Fiction was also nominated for Vincent Vega in the movie Pulp Fiction. seven other awards including Best Picture and Travolta was nominated for Best Performance Best Director (AFP photo) by an Actor in the 67th Annual academy later.

Thursday.

the betting favourite to be-come one of an elite few who have won back-to-back Best fore Paramount Pictures de-Adding to the pre-Oscar hype, Hanks has emerged as million in box-office receipts before it was pulled from Ecuadorean soldiers cheer at the military post of Condor Mirador, close to the Peruvian border, after a ceasefire was to have come into force Tuesday at 1700 GMT. Peruvian

President Alberto Fujimori formally announced the cease-fire late Monday, accepted by Ecuador (AFP photo)

lief aid deliveries to Bihac resume

BENEVA (Agencies) eparatist leaders of roatia's Serb-controlled Jajina region have given the reen light for the resump-on of relief aid deliveries to te northwest Bosnian region f Bihac, which is facing mine, a U.N. spokesman id Wednesday.

United Nations High Comissioner for Refugees JNHCR) spokesman Ron edmond said: "We finalised agreement yesterday for e passage of regular conws each week."

He noted that a convoy trying 94 tonnes of relief 1 was on its way to Bihac. The trucks underwent inections by Croatian Serb oops at the Sisak checkint after a Croatian conal. They were heading for zin in the south of the

Since October last year the VHCR has only managed send 12 humanitarian conys with a total of 870 tonof food to Bihac, instead the 8,000 tonnes needed, . Redmond said.

The last convoy arrived in region last Thursday.
The UNHCR will charter

OSCOW (Agencies) —

ssian President Boris Yelt-

sets out to restore his ormist credentials and

ffirm his grip on power in

tate of the nation speech

ursday which will take a d look at the Chechenya

Cremlin sources say Mr.

Itsin, his authority shaken

the Chechenya crisis, will

umit himself to economic

orms'in an annual address

dining foreign and domes-

policy to parliament and

ting the tone for the rest of

Vir. Yeltsin, now 64 and t seen in public staggering

o a summit meeting in zakhstan, also needs to nvince disillusioned Rus-

л voters and worried fore-

leaders that he is still

pable, of governing the

"The president's message

which historians of the 21st

ntury will try to unravel the sence of what Yeltsin and circle wanted to do with issia," the daily Nezavisi-

This year's address to a rs of parliament is particu-

ly significant because of

e blow dealt by the lechenya crisis to Mr. Yelt-

is presidency, due to run

The president's popularity

s sunk, his authority has en weakened and his mocratic credentials have en tarnished by the fighting

sion of the two cham-

wa Gazeta said.

til mid-1996.

an historic document, one

rid's largest country.

another convoy Thursday to ship relief aid to Velika Kladusa, which is under the control of Serb-backed Fikret Abdic, a Muslim leader in revolt against the Bosnian government. About 30,000 civilians live in Velika Kladu-

Under Tuesday's agreement the UNHCR may send three humanitarian convoys a week to Cazin and one to Velika Kladusa, said Mr. Redmond.

U.N. officials in Zagreb said two convoys with humanitarian aid for the civilian population and U.N. peacekeepers left the Croatian capital early Wednesday.

The officials said some cases of malnutrition in the Muslim enclave were serious. Meanwhile France, presenting a new five-power peace initiative, will offer Serbia relief from U.N. sanctions later this week in return for recognition of Bosnia and Croatia, diplomats said Wednesday. "Things are moving forward," French Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Catherine Colonna told reporters.

troops on Dec. 11 to smash

the region's independence

pected to last 40 minutes and summarise a 120-page document, offers him a chance of aides to boost his image

ahead of the presidential elections and commit himself

the Federal Assembly, which the head of state will present

tomorrow in the Kremlin,

sums up the reformist ideas

of Russia's top minds," viktor Ilyushin, Mr. Yeltsin's

top adviser, told ITAR-distance himself from the unpopular Chechenya campaign

and signal the start of major

have given rise to a number of problems concerning the system of state power and army reforms," one Kremlin

source told Interfax News

analysis of the military approach to the resolution of forum for dismissals but speculation is rife that Defence

Minister Pavel Grachev's job

is on the line and a new approach to Chechenya is in A shaky truce covering

The speech is not seen as a

the Chechen problem."

the works.

"He will make ... a critical

Mr. Yeltsin is expected to

"The Chechenya events...

TASS news agency.

army reforms.

"Boris Yeltsin's message to

to democracy.

He has turned to his liberal

Mr. Yeltsin's speech, ex-

eltsin hopes to boost image in major speech

The proposal will be put to Serbian President Slobodan Milosevic with a view to a ceremony of mutual recognition by the three former Yugoslav republics at a Paris > summit in March. The United States opened the way for the initiative by the five-nation contact group, which also includes Russia. Germany, Britain and France, by agreeing Tuesday to offer Serbia relief from U.N. sanctions in exchange for compliance.

Diplomats said the key lever was the offer of a temporary suspension of all economic sanctions against Bel-grade if Mr. Milosevic formally recognised his neighbours, thereby renouncing on paper the dream of a greater

By doing so, he would raise pressure on rebel Bosnian Serbs to accept a contact group peace plan for Bosnia-Herzegovina, dividing the territory roughly 50-50 between a Muslim-Croat federation and the Serbs. The Bosnian Serbs' selfproclaimed parliament formally rejected the plan Mon-

the aim of boosting Mr. Yeltsin's credibility when he reaffirm faith in economic reform by outlining plans to curb inflation, which hit 17.8

per cent in January alone.

and proposing ways to stick to a tight budget.

These moves are vital for winning a $6.25 billion stand-

by loan from the International Monetary Fund and restoring the faith of nervous foreign investors and potential

knows Vladimir Zhirinovs-

ky's propensity for slanging matches, his sympathies with the German far right, his megalomania about restoring

But this Russian politician

who worries the West so much as head of his country's second largest parliamentary force has also become one of the last sources of support for pressing need of a blank cheque from parliament, Mr.

Zhirinovsky's misleadingly named Liberal Democratic Party, which he founded in 1989, steps forward to oblige.

civil peace pact he set so much store by to heal the wounds of the October 1993

parliamentary battle could not have been signed last

April without Mr. Zhirinovsky.

Mr. Yeltsin's cherished

Each time the Kremlin has

Meanwhile everybody

aid donors.

Greater Russia.

President Yeltsin.

Mr. Yeltsin is expected to stands before parliament.

French Foreign Minister Alain Juppe said this month that the initiative was a last chance to prevent a resumption of fighting in Bosnia and Croatia, with the dangers of a withdrawal of U.N. peacekeepers and a general conflagration in the Balkans.

Beigrade accused Washington Wednesday of seeking to dominate other countries mediating in the Bosnia conflict, after the White House approved a partial easing of sanctions against Serbia if it recognised Bosnia and Croatia. The official Yugoslav News

Agency, Tanjug, said that what the White House says

it accepts, is in fact its own plan submitted to the contact On Tuesday, a senior U.S. official said President Bill Clinton had approved a plan to lift some economic sanctions against Serbia if Belgrade recognises Bosnia, Croatia, Slovenia and Macedonia and thus renounces any Serbia." To date, Belgrade has steadfastly rejected all attempts.

on second reading inspires optimism about getting $6.4 billion loan from the Interna-

Until a few months ago.

the support was low key, with

Mr. Zhirinovsky serving as something of a bugbear for a

Yeltsin anxious to show the outside world be alone could contain the country's extrem-

But when both communists and liberals - the latter including Yegor Gaidar, for so long Mr. Yeltsin's most loyal associate — spoke out fiercely against Russia's military-

push against secessionist

Chechenya, Mr. Zhirinovsky

stood alone with the author-

"If I was giving the orders, Grozny (the Chechen capital)

would become one big bomb crater," Mr. Zhirinovsky declared back in January. The Russian army has since large-

Party number two Alexander Vengerovsky, regarded as its resident philosopher, explained that it stood for

"stabilisation of Russian society, consolidation of state institutions and a strong and respected army. We support

everything that tends in that Party is also hopeful of getting into government one day, Mr. Zhirinovsky has made no secret of that ambi-

The Liberal Democratic

direction

fulfilled his wish.

ist pressures.

tional Monetary Fund.

created a slightly less warfike to back the government's backdrop; apparently with 1995 budget, whose approval

ambition to forge a "greater

Confusion reigns about key post in Peru-Ecuador border war

LIMA, Peru (R) — A Condor where the border betenuous ceasefire in Peru and Ecuador's 21-day-old conflict in a disputed border zone went into effect but confusion reigned about the location of a key hilltop post and whose forces controlled it.

Peru said it ordered its forces to "strictly adhere" to a ceasefire that took effect at noon Tuesday, adding that its naval forces were withdrawing from "strategic positions" and armoured vehicles were returning to their bases.

But shortly afterwards, the Peruvian Joint Chiefs of Staff said the Tiwinza Post was being pounded by "intense artillery fire" from the Coangos Base two miles (3.2 kilometres) away inside Ecuador, a charge Ecuador denied saying the base was still in its control.

Why are they (the Ecuadoreans) not adhering to the ceasefire?" a General Daniel Mora, head of the army's information office told a news conference. "I think they are not in the positions they are alleging."

There was no independent verification if Peruvian and Ecuadorean forces, both of which claim to hold the posts where the fighting has taken place since Jan. 26, had silenced their guns.

In Quito, President Sixto Duran Ballen said Ecuador would respect the ceasefire declared by Peru Monday night but that Ecuadorean forces would remain in their positions

The fighting has taken place in mountainous, jungle terrain at the headwaters of the Cenepa River along a 48-mile (77-kilometre) stretch of the Cordillera Del

tween the two countries was never clearly marked in a 1942 treaty. Gen. Mora said Peruvian troops were in positions of security at Tiwinza, a post surrounded by 3,937 feet (1,200-metre) high hills over an area of 12 square miles (30 square kilometres). And would respond if attacked. But he said Peru had no intention of hitting bases in Ecuador.

Asked if Peruvian forces were in total control of the zone, he said: "When we say we have made the final attack it means we have broken up their defensive positions, which has forced Ecuadorean troops to withdraw.

He reiterated statements made by Mr. Fujimori Monday night that the Peruvian flag was flying at the base and and Feb. 2 but that there were no photos available vet of the area.

Mr. Duran Ballen said the three posts and two others. which Peru does not dispute are Ecuadorean were still in Ecuadorean hands.

Foreign journalists taken by Ecuadorean military to Tiwinza said they had seen an Ecuadorean flag flying at what they described as logistical base, adding it was in control of Ecuador and there were no Pernyians to be seen.

They have probably taken them to a peaceful zone very close to the border and shown them a base they said is Tiwinza but which really isn't," Gen. Mora said, adding Ecuador has historically established bases inside Peru which carry identical. names as positions in their own territory. Thirty-eight Peruvians were dead in the fighting and another 104 more wounded although some casualty reports still had to be received,

Gen. Mora said. Ecuador says 10 soldiers have died and 37 have been wounded. But unofficially, the casualty figures on both sides are reported to be high-

The 1942 Rio De Janeiro Protocol sought to settle the two nations' conflicting historical claims to a vast region in the Amazon by setting the boundaries along a 1,060-mile (1,706-kilometre) stretch which includes the Cordillera Del Condor. Ecuador rejected the treaty in 1960 and periodic clashes have occurred in the zone ever since, including a twoday war in 1981.

A field medic attends a Peruvian soldier near injured during clashes with Ecuadorean troop the Peru-Ecuador border. The soldier was (AFP photo)

French conservatives call for end to rivalry

PARIS (R) - Supporters of conservative Prime Minister Edouard Balladur appealed for an end to the right's "suicidal" rivalry Wednesday after a poll showed Socialist challenger Lionel Jospin neck-and-neck with the pre-

Mr. Jospin's surge added zip to a lacklustre race dulled for weeks by the premier's wide lead. Now, Mr. Balladur's standing has plunged. According to the IFOR opin-to-ion poll to be published by the weekly magazine L'Express Thursday.

It was one of three surveys which showed a steep fall in Mr. Balladur's popularity for the first round of the April-May election.

But all three polls said he would win the May 7 run-off by margins ranging from eight to 16 per cent over this probable rivals - Jospin or

Paris Mayor Jacques Chirac. The shock poll sparked bitter recrimination between the Balladur and Chirac camps. estranged brothers to the Gaullist Rally for the Republic (RPR). Mr. Balladur's aides insisted the real battle was against Mr. Jospin.

Government spokesman Philippe Douste-Blazy warned the right against repeating disputes that opened the way to the election of Socialist President Francois Mitterrand in 1981 and 1988. "I won't play this petty, suicidal game. Don't play a new game of Russian roulette with six bullets in the revolver," he told France Inter in Montelinar, south of France. Mr. Balladur, whose presidential programme has been wide month (AFP photo)

French Prime Minister and presidential candi- ly attacked as offering nothing new, has lost

"The latest polis show that the left will make it to the second tour, so all attacks must focus on the left," echoed Nicolas Sarkozy, Mr.

Balladur's spokesman. Mr. Chirac's camp has recently concentrated its fire on Mr. Balladur rather than on Mr. Jospin, accusing the premier of being out of touch with voters and inactive. Mr. Jospin's decisive start buoyed Socialists who had all but given up hope of a strong showing in the election since former European Commission President Jacques Delors dropped out. This is clearly an erosion in Balladur's ranking," said Dominique Strauss-Kahn, one of Mr. Jospin's top campaign advisers, "Jospin is beginning to interest and grab

Mr. Jospin is to announce this week his campaign staff, with Mr. Delors as the head of his support committees and Mr. Delors's daughter, ex-Labour Minister Martine Aubry, as his spokesman.

The IFOP poll said Mr. Jospin, chosen as Socialist candidate two weeks ago, could lead Mr. Balladur 23-22 per cent if centrist expremier Raymond Barre also ran in the April 23 first round, further splitting the centre-right vote. If Mr. Barre did not run, Mr. Balladur would lead Mr. Jospin 24-23 per cent. Mr.

Barre is to announce his intentions later this month.

The two other surveys, by polling institutes BVA and Sofres, showed Mr. Balladur still at least five points clear of Mr. Jospin in the first round.

Student leaders Wednesday maintained a call for a march on Mr. Balladur's office Thursday although the government, keen to avoid unrest in the run-up to the election, caved in to their week-long protests.

The government cancelled a decree tightening admission to university and shelved an official report urging a hike in registration fees. But students said they wanted the report abandoned altogether.

Dehaene: Bind Russia, NATO by special treaty Last December, President

heavy arms in Chechenya has His 60 MPs were the first

SHINGTON (AP) — isia and NATO should clude a special treaty ing Moscow to the Westalliance without giving it er to veto the organisas plans, Belgian Premier Luc Dehaene has prop-

A European security itecture without Russia is jaginable," Mr. Dehaene red. We do not want ia as a frustrated, iso-I nation, but as a partner democratic Europe." considering the enlarget of NATO and the addiof former Warsaw Pact ons, he said, special hasis should be placed on essing fully Russia's own rity concerns. issia where many peostill tegard NATÓ as a ntial threat, is strong used to the organisation's nsion eastwards.

Boris Yeltsin touched off an uproar at a European summit in Budapest by alleging that the partnership for Peace plan opening the way for former Warsaw Pact nations to join NATO represents a Western effort to split the continent. Several days earlier. Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev refused to sign the agreement linking Russia to the alliance.

Although the differences were subsequently said to have been overcome, NATO still is searching for a way to draw Poland, Hungary, the Czech Republic and Slovakia into full NATO membership while simultaneously creating a constructive relationship with Moscow.

"A stable working relationship, consisting of dia-logue and predictability could probably be created by concluding a treaty between Russia and NATO over and beyond the Partnership for Peace." Mr. Dehaene told a gathering organised by the European Institute.

"We do not want any new dividing lines in Europe. which might give Russia the impression of being excluded," he told a luncheon organised by the Washington-based think tank. The European Institute was hosting the Belgian leader on the sixth day of his week-long visit to the United States and the United Na-

Following talks with U.S. Defence Secretary William Perry. Mr. Dehaene and Foreign Minister Frank Vandenbrouke briefed reporters on contents of the possible new accord with Moscow.

They proposed that a mechanism be created requiring consultation with Russia on political and military mat-ters under NATO consideration without giving Moscow veto rights.

Several Western officials. among them Mr. Perry and British Defence Minister Malcolm Rifkind, have suggested in the past concluding a treaty with Russia recognising that country's special status within Europe. But Mr. Dehaene's proposal appeared the most detailed so far.

In a related development, Mr. Dehaene agreed "in principle" to Mr. Perry's request to send a Belgian Navy frigate to the Gulf to help enforce U.N. sanctions against Iraq. Belgian officials

The warship — one of only three frigates in the Belgian Navy - would not be disnatched before October.

Mandela in good health but will not seek new term Asked about occasional speculation on financial mar-

CAPE TOWN (R) — South African President Nelson Mandela Wednesday pro-nounced himself fit for his age, but ruled out serving a second term after elections in

"Oh no, definitely not," Mr. Mandela, 76, told Reuters when asked if he would seek to extend his five-year term as South Africa's first democratically elected head

In a broad-ranging interview at his Cape Town office, a smiling Mandela, widely seen as the key stabilising factor in South Africa's delicate transition from white minority rule, said:

"In 1999 I will be 79 or 80. I don't think an octogenarian should be meddling with political affairs.

"I would like to give over to a younger man. I will be available for advice if they want me, but to occupy a position as a head of state. definitely. I won't take that

Mr. Mandela, who has headed a multi-party government of national unity since winning historic all-race elections last April, did not indicate who might succeed him. First Deputy President Tha-bo Mbeki, 52, is widely regarded as the most likely kets that he was in poor health, he replied: "I think somebody is gaining a lot through spreading these rumours.

"For my age I think I am in reasonably good health. I en-joy walks. One of my favourite hobbies is to walk... sometimes I take three, four and even as much as five five hours just walking. A person whose health is frail would not do that. Ask my security Jailed by South Africa's former white rulers for 27 years, Mr. Mandela still maintains his prison regime, rising at 4:30 each morning and often walking for an hour before beginning his day-long engagements at dawn.

Mr. Mandela, frequently called in to mediate in even minor party or political disputes, was asked about allegations of misuse of foreign aid funds by his estranged wife Winnie and preacherpolitician Allan Boesak, who this week withdrew as ambassador-designate to the.

United Nations in Geneva. Showing no emotion and referring to his wife as "Mrs. Mandela." he said judgment should be suspended on her conduct until an investigation had been completed, and any action against Mr. Boesak would depend on the outcome of a separate inquiry. He added: "I think the way we have handled the Boesak affair indicates the firmness of the ANC, but the caution it exercises before it takes any action."

Mr. Boesak has been accused by Scandinavian donors of using for his own purposes funds intended for the Foundation for Peace and Justice he founded. He has denied the allegations.

Winne, a deputy minister in her husband's government, is at the centre of a row over her leadership of the ANC Women's League and has been accused by former senior League members, who resigned last weekend, of not pessing on to it a 500,000 rand ($140,000) donation from Pakistani Prime Minister Benzair Bhutto.

Winnie says the money was given to her to disburse to the needy as she wished. Mr. Mandela, dressed in a loose-fitting blue and black ment faced the monumental task of restructuring an entire nation in which the underprivileged black masses were demanding "houses today, not tomorrow."

He added that the budget to be presented to parliament next month would be the first to reflect accurately the priorities of democratic rule and would address the wealth gap between the white minority and newly enfranchised

"We have been put into power by the poorest of the poor. We have to address their basic needs and therefore the budget must be geared to address the constituency that put us into power.

"The gap between Africans, coloured and Indians on the one hand and the white minority on the other is too big and it must be closed," he said. Meanwhile armed police arrested a white man for striking a black child with a whip Wednesday in a racial flarcup over busing black pupils to a rightwing white Cape Town suburb.

Police frog-marched the man form Ruyterwacht School trailed by about 1,000 singing and dancing pupils.

Witnesses said the boy was casual shirt, said his govern- struck once with a sjambok - a long leather whip - but he did not appear to be hurt. Police said they had found a can of petrol and wirecutters next to the school's bake fence Wednesday. Residents Tuesday threatened to burn down the school.

By Mohammad

The controversy surrounding Theatre Festival is still simulation.

the end of the annual eve recriminations continue to be of the plays and the festiva

local press. revolve around

local pieces of the festival.
"nunning" of the festival.
The debate over this issue

gress to delve deep into the r

Jordan, the role of artistic gro

in of the Ministry of Cultu

The ministry came under

gand vis-a-vis the theatre gre

meeting held at the Artists :

have concluded that the highe

o total failure because its mu

and that there was need for a ion committee to give its ?

The dispute arose when withheld the awards to the a plays presented during the

mality and represented a rea

The plays' directors boycott

ion meeting and issued a m

the quality of their works

socusations levelled by me

Committee, especially the Ministry of Culture and the p

The memorandum contain (ssociation.

The recriminations, many c

Chairman of the Board of Directors:

MAHMOUD AL KAYED

Director General: MOHAMMAD AMAD

islat

ains mine the Thi ing :. It fulfil to Contain the tore of to for a tore of the tore of the

)NE

me litic

niq Som

mic

:dn₄

cha

аc

 $\Gamma$

g

Editor-in-Chief: GEORGE S. HAWATMEH

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundation, University Road, P.O. Box 6710, Amman, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171/6, 670141-4 Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO

Facsimile: 696183

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times advertising department.

First court, second standards

AT LAST the International Tribunal on War Crimes committed in the Bosnian conflict has levelled charges against 21 Serbs with a view to begin court proceedings against them in a few weeks. Created by the U.N. Security Council in 1993, the international court is dependent on the authority and prestige of its sponsor to bring to justice all those who are suspected of perpetrating crimes against humanity. This would entail the extradition of suspects from many corners of the world, and the cooperation of U.N. member states would be vital for the success of this en-

Being the first court of its kind to prosecute people charged with war crimes and crimes against humanity since the Nuremberg trials, there is some hope that the international community is ready and able to deal effectively with grave human rights violations on the scale of the Bosnian conflict.

The shortcomings of the Hague-based Court's action on the Bosnian situation lie in the fact that there are other equally serious war crimes committed elsewhere in the world that remain without action. What transpired in Grozny, for example, offers a classic example of international neglect of other areas of the world when dealing with crimes against humanity. Some countries in Latin America. Africa and Southeast Asia witnessed similar horrific violations but were all swept under the carpet by the international community. It would have been considerably more balanced and fair therefore for the Security Council to have established a permanent tribunal to deal with war crimes and crimes against humanity no matter where they occur.

The current ad hoc exercise to deal with these categories of mass violent crimes in one part of the world does not strike us as the most equitable formula. Likewise, other forms and dimensions of human rights violations, be they systematic or otherwise, also need attention. The establishment of an international human court with wide jurisdiction to prosecute any serious violator of human rights as set out in the international conventions would go a long way to weed out such abuses. The thrust of international interest in all such related issues must be streamlined and standardised in order to be integral and effective.

ARABIC PRESS COMMENTARIES

THERE MUST definitely be some action that should be taken on the part of the concerned authorities and public to curtail road accidents which have been on the increase in Jordan in the past few years, said Al Ra'i daily Wednesday. The paper said despite efforts exerted to control traffic, the Jordanian society is still plagued by accidents that kill or maim scores of innocent travellers and road users. "We believe that the Kingdom is not in need of the services of foreign experts or more seminars or lectures to help reduce the number of horrible accidents on our roads, but rather we need common sense in handling the vehicles under our disposal," said the daily. Drivers can and should control the speed of their vehicles, particularly on the highways; the concerned authorities can and should introduce effective measures to help stop the carnage, called the daily. The paper said that reckless driving and speeding are all the time blamed for most of the accidents, but this can be controlled and prevented before they cause further tragedies. The paper expressed hope that the joint public and private sectors' efforts will succeed in making the roads

A COLUMNIST in Al Ra'i daily criticised the U.S.-Israeli stand vis-a-vis what the Americans and the Israelis call Islamic terrorism, describing such stand as very serious and endangering the cause of peace in general and the Palestinian people's future in particular. Ibrahim Al Absi said that by considering the freedom fighters in Palestine as terrorists and by pressuring the Palestine National Authority (PNA) into cracking down hard on the Islamic groups, the U.S. and Israel are pushing hard for an inter-Palestinian conflict or civil war that would destroy the Palestinian people's hopes and aspirations. The writer said that it is impossible for the Palestinian leadership to ensure security for the Israeli society, something which the formidable Israeli military had failed to achieve. The solution for the current deadlock in the Israeli-Palestinian negotiations, he said, lies in Israel's withdrawal from Arab lands, the implementation of the Oslo deal and the liquidation of Israeli settlements in Arab-owned lands, continued the writer. He said that the Oslo deal was concluded for the sake of solving the chronic issue in Palestine: and therefore its implementation can surely guarantee an end to the bloodshed and violence. He said Israel can dream of no security as long as it continues to occupy Arab lands.

The View from Academia

Ramadan as a thermometer measuring sophistication

THERE IS no doubt that Ramadan is a special month. A different spirit, a different feeling, a different mood and a different mode of living prevails throughout. It does certainly have, in addition to its difficult and even trying moments, its own charm and beauty, for most people. Most importantly become Beauty for most people. importantly, however, Ramadan is essentially an opportunity, a challenge and a test.

During Ramadan, more so than during any other month of the year, Muslims are expected to devote more time to duties and responsibilities which they may be too busy (at times too neglectful) to fulfill or shoulder properly and effectively during other months. These include, among other things, worship (at home and in the mosque, during the day time and at night, the "obligatory" prayers and the voluntary and extra, etc.), religious education, visits to relatives and friends, consciousness of the needs of others (especially the poor and the needy).

At this particular level (i.e. with respect to all of the above), one detects in Ramadan a noticeable change indeed. As for prayers, for example, people generally go more often to the mosque than they normally do; in fact many persons who do not frequent the mosque in other months do so in Ramadan. People not only pray more, but they also pray more intensely, devotedly and with concentration. Ramadan is actually singled out as the month of prayer and worship, and rightly so.

Muslims also learn more about their religion than in other months. You find them reading the Holy Koran, the Hadith, the biographies of the various famous Muslim personalities, studies of miscellaneous theological matters, interpretations of the Koran and the Hadith, interpretations of interpretations, etc. They also watch T.V. programmes, listen to radio presentations, and read newspaper and magazine articles on religious matters. And they attend more lectures and sermons. Ramadan is not only a spiritual month, but it is also an intellectual month in many important ways. In it the knowledge of many increases and their minds are stimulated and sharpened. In a society, such as ours, in which very few people read and in which the environment is generally unintellectual. Ramadan comes to fill an important gap, for most people take seriously the religious material they read, watch or listen

During Ramadan, people also become aware of the importance of visiting relatives, especially ones they do not have time to visit during other months. Many, who are unable to do so for one reason or another in other months. make time for parents, aunts, uncles, cousins, exneighbours and friends. Many invite each other for iftar, for dessert, and even for sahour. This is not only nice and fun (even though at times it can be a burden) but is also significant for it fosters ties, clears the air among relatives which may be quite polluted often, and opens closed bridges. Emotional support is quite needed where many relatives and friends live far apart and where modern life can be somewhat alienating and isolating. Even though some relatives and friends may be quite a nuisance, many others are a real pleasure to be with. In Ramadan, we in effect have a whole month of mother's day, father's day, sister's day, brother's day, grandmother's day and so on.

And people also remember the poor and the needy. In Ramadan, people feel obliged to think about the needs of the less fortunate. The whole idea behind fasting is to experience what it is like to be hungry or starving. In these times of economic hardship, unemployment, low payment, increase of the number of families living under the poverty lines, abrupt hikes in prices of various necessities, Ramadan can be the solution, at least a solution. People become noticeably more generous and more giving, thus complementing the work of many charitables institutions and department of social welfare which are unable to cope with the increasing needs of the needy.

All of this we highly appreciate. But Muslims are expected to do a lot more. For instance, they are supposed to pay serious attention to their physical health. Fasting is essentially a physical act. Its aim is to make people reflect on the actual needs of the body. Food is certainly a necessity and a pleasure, but it can also be quite harmful. For one thing one is not supposed to eat excessively; for another, one is supposed to be selective, focusing on the food which is most nutritious. The famous religious saying "fast, and you become healthy" spells out quite eloquently one of the main purposes of Ramadan: To encourage people to be healthier and more physically fit. Ramadan is (or sought to be, rather) an excellent diet programme, safe

But Ramadan is supposed to be, also, a lesson in home economics and refined consumption habits. It aims to teach people to be good consumers — intelligent and wise, that is, not wasteful and lavishing. The idea behind fasting is to emphasise to people that there are so many food items and goods that we do not actually need. The is one. The other point at this level is that one ought to learn to economise and to minimise one's purchases. Is the goal to starve during the day time and gulp and devour everything during the night time? Clearly not. Is the aim to empty the market of goods and create a food shortage (or a crisis, as we often

And Ramadan is supposed to be a psychological and moral exercise. People are expected to learn to be patient tolerant, kind, nice, benign, courteous, loving, respectful dutiful, responsible, efficient, alert, and so. What is special about Ramadan is that it places a person under pressure and expects this person to live up to the challenge and rise to the occasion. It is not a big deal for a person to be nide and charming after he/she has had a good night's sleep, eaten an excellent meal and drank a delicious cup of coffee or tea. The big deal is to be nice and courteous when one is hungry, thirsty, tired, sleepy and with a terrible headache This is the real challenge, one which Ramadan poses!

By Dr. Ahmad Y. Majdoubel

On these three latter counts our society fails, and quite miserably. Most people I know gain weight in Ramadai, Rather than view food as a necessity only or a pleasure which is potentially fatal, they look at it as an end in itself and a pleasure to be indulged in. One fasts in order to eat.

Some people I know eat and drink so much after the interthey are unable to move or even breathe. Generally, we buy more in Ramadan (much more) than in any other month. We do not care if the prices double or triple. And if we can't find an item closeby, we are willing to drive tens of miles looking for it and waste hours in the process, rather than say, to hell with it. This is "unramadanic" and even "anti-ramadanic," for Ramadan is a month which aims to teach the insignificance of so many goods and items.

But we fail the test at the psychological and moral level Many become moody, impatient, intolerant, unkind, ineff; cient, irresponsible, hostile, sleepy and lazy. Most students take the advantage of Ramadan to daydream in class and be absent-minded. Most civil servants take advantage of it to abuse citizens even more boldly than on normal days. Drivers drive more recklessly than usual. Parents scream at their children more often than they usually do, and husbands seize the opportunity to abuse their wives. For many people, it is quite fashionable to be unsmiling inattentive, disrespectful and irresponsible. Where are these from the true spirit of Ramadan?

Ramadan is a noble, excellent and sophisticated idea. It takes a noble, excellent and sophisticated culture to get the most out of it.

Unfortunately, our present day culture is not sophisticated enough to reap the benefits of Ramadan. Should not car accidents decrease or even disappear in Ramadan? Should not our civil servants be a little more civil? Ramadan is perhaps the best thermometer by which we can test the nobility, excellence and sophistication of our culture — and naturally of our individual.

Algiers has to give the moderates a chance, and a reason, to emerge

by William Zartman

PARIS — The murderous explosion on Jan. 30 in the centre of Algiers shows more than ever the need to pursue dialogue. But it should be very clear that dialogue is being pursued. What is needed is not a dialogue of surrender but a dialogue that separates the moderates from the murderers and brings together the forces of the country that favour a broadly based political sys-

Such a process was attempted by the Algerian government last fall and by the Sant'Egidio Roman Catholic community in Rome in November and January. The collapse of both efforts shows that such a strategy requires patience

An Algerian scholar friend recently reacted to the horrors perpetrated by the Armed Islamic Group by exclaiming, in dismay, "It's not Islamic." Such dismay has split earlier support for the Islamic movement, as it has split its leaders. One of the biggest mistakes in dealing with any insurgency is to impute to it a unity it never had, thereby creating a self-fulfilling prophecy.

The longer a rebel move-ment is unsuccessful in its bid for power, the greater the chance of a split over tactics. Religious and ideological movements are even more prone to internal

The Islamicist movement in Algeria is no exception. It was born in controversy in 1991, over the proper tactics authorised by the religion; one wing sought to win power by elections while another resorted to general strikes and attacks on military installations. Today, more than three years after the aborted elections, the banned Islamic Salvation Frat (FIS) has no control over the Armed Islamic Group or Islamic Salvation Army, which in turn have no control over the many contending groups that settle their accounts in the name of Islam. The Armed Islamic Group underwent an internal struggle in October to select its new emir. It posed impossible conditions to accepting the broad platform negotiated by the Islamic Salvation Front, among other political parties, under the aegies of the SantEgidio community.

Splits and rivalries do not mean dimished violence, desperation and bravado to the contrary. Rival leaders seek to capture the flag of the movement by emerging as the most spectacularly impressive tactician; the Christmas hijacking of the Air France Airbus and the Algiers bomb explosion testify to this.

But others begin to ask whether half a loaf would not be better, less costly and less risky than a fight to the bloody finish. The Islamic revolution is in angry pieces. A successful policy must play on those pieces.

In this situation, the best strategy for the government is to strengthen its own in-tegrity and give opposing moderates a chance and a reason to emerge.

That chance and reason are offered through negotiations, such as those begun in Rome. The state itself cannot be part of those negotiations, but the government should welcome them (as it has not. yet) and, in the absence of a government party, the army should participate in them (as it has not, yet).

The negotiations to end the civil war in Mozambique, which Sant'Egidio also sponsored, offer a good parallel. But Algeria has two special problems that complicate its case.

One is the fact that the conflict in Algeria is not just over party platforms and participation; it is civili-sational. The debate is long and deep. But it comes down to the fact that the Islamic movement does represent a part of the population (nearly 25 per cent at the last electoral test in 1991) and some of that part at least needs to be coopted into the political system. There is risk in this strategy, but its only alternative is the certainty of surrender.

The other problem is that the government in Algiers is plagued by illegitimacy and ineffectiveness. Algeria is in a state of collapse. So was Mozambique. Thus, while attempting to provide internal security for its population, the government must take measures to broaden its own social base and restore its legitimacy.

This means, along with vigorous action against the militants, effective socioeconomic policies, and political cooperation and power-sharing with the secular parties of the opposition.

The government would be better advised to enter into sincere dialogue with the parties over the exercise of political power than to proceed with its plan to hold elections in six months without assuring the parties' participation.

The parties have been reluctant to collaborate with the military govern-ment, fearing to be tarnished by the association. They would prefer to see it eliminated before leaving thier comfortable spot in the opposition. But they make a dangerous mistake if they think they will have any chance if the Islamists come to power.

The government has the duty to provide law and order for its citizens. although not through the indiscriminate reprisals it is now conducting. It also has the duty to get food to the cities at affordable prices and provide jobs and housing for its youth.

This two-handed policy requires a similar double policy from the external supporters of a modernising, secular Algeria. Unconditional support of the current government is not sufficient, for it provides no remedy to the underlying illegitimacy of a tired state that is the basic cause of the Islamist's appeal.

Policies of bet-hedging, of "noninterference" (as recently announced by Paris and Washington), of currying favour with the Islamic Slavation Front or of deploring the inadequacies of both sides are equally fruitless. They weaken the state and favour the advent of an Islamist regime that — like those of Iran and Sudan — has no basis for frienship with the West.

It was, after all, the constant engagement — not the "noninterference" — of leading world powers over more than four years in the earlier Sant'Egidio process that kept it moving and brought peace to Mozambique.

The international conference proposed by President Francois Mitterrand might be too public a forum - the Algerians are more sensi-tive in such matters than were the Mozambicans but it could serve to coordinate Western pressures and to awaken a tighter control over arms flow through Europe to the Islamists.

But if the regime does not encourage efforts to seek out moderates from among the Islamists, separating them from the militant radicals, and boraden its own base of legitimacy within the population, it will follow the same path as the government that faced the previous revolution, in 1962, and be obliged to negotiated only its surrender. The Algerian people, and the Western world, too, will suffer deeply.

The writer, director of the African and Conflict Management programmes at the School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Jopkins University, is currently professor at the Insti-tute of Political Studies in Paris. This comment is reprinted from the Herald

Indonesia's state creed shifts with the tide

By Lewa Pardomuan Reuter

JAKARTA — Indonesia has long embraced an ideol-ogy which for many has become a meaningless man-tra, for some a recipe for religious tolerance, and for others an Orwellian monster designed to gobble up the government's oppo-

The influence of pancasila — literally five principles stretches from family planning to democracy, from the press to football matches. But increasingly, Indonesians are questioning both the form and substance of the creed.

"The problem with pancasila is the way it is used nowadays," says noted historian Ong Hokham.

Pancasila is belief in one God, humanity, unity. democracy and social instice - the five noble principles created by the country's founding fathers which are taught at schools and universities and memorised by all Indonesians.

All very worthy, and few would deny pancasila — 50 years old on June 1 - has played a key role in keeping together a nation spread across several religious and thousands of islands. To most Indonesians the state ideology, mentioned in the preamble of the constitution and of which it is an inseparable part, is sacred and helps unite the nation. "Pancasila is innocent in the sense that everybody would agree with its contents except if they are purist," says Mr. Ong. But since its inception it has come to mean different things to different people and increasingly, some say, to serve their own interests. Since wresting power from Sukarno in the late 1960s. President Suharto

has developed pancasila

into a political system, portraying it as an alternative to alien Western values. This is pancasila demokrasi (democracy), which effectively allows only three political parties, one of which is clearly favoured by the government, and which is often wielded to bludgeon dissenters into si-

"Pancasila serves as vague but exclusive ideology which has been useful as a demobilising device against independent political elements seeking to appeal to an international audience," British academic Michael Leifer wrote recently.

Indonesian officials criticise such comments, de-

cy as appropriate for '& the confusing brunt of Western-style democracy, splitting the country during the turbulent 1950s and early 1960s. "We have tried all kinds of systems. So now we think that we have found our system: pancasila democracy, which is not perfect and needs to be perfected,"

Foreign Minister Ali Alatas told foreign journalists recently. He said Indonesia did not need to change simply because the world was change ing. "The world has been changing all the time and we have been trying to follow our cause," he said."

Pancasila has had its ung

doubted successes. Despite its political overtones, it was originally framed as a way of keeping religion out of state affairs.

Pancasila was elaborated for the first time by Sukar no, Indonesia's late first president, in a speech is June 1945 before a commission to prepare Indonesia's independence.

But it was only in 1978, some 33 years after the country's independence on August in 1945, that the people's consultative assembly declared pancasila as Indonesia's national personality, philosophy and point of view.

Despite pressure from the Muslim majority, Indonesia is not an Islamic state, allowing, in theory at least, freedom of worship and opportunity for its Christians, Buddinsts, Hindus and others. But others believe it has gone too far. Pers Pancasila, or pancasila press, seeks to dictate what subjects journalists should cover, and indirectly urges them to shun sensitive political issues. A nation-wide campaign in the form of compulsory. courses, known as P4 briefs participants — from officials, employees to stu-dents — on pancasila's five principles.

With their usual WIT humour, Indonesians, who attend such courses, oficit describe the programme as ceremonial, dubbing the acronym as "pergi pagi" pulang petang" — leave early in the morning for the lectures and so home late in lectures and go home late in the afternoon. Many, less wryly, see it as.

pure indoctrination. Out-spoken legislator Aberson. Marie Sihaloho says any effort to elaborate the meaning of pancasilate beyond the simple creed written in the articles in the constitution was a violation?

By Cathy King Special to the Jorgan

AMMAN — L'mm Qais. the Greco-Roman town formerly known as Gadara, is the focal point of a theatre group testing the waters of theatre in education (TIE)

Under the co- me directorship of Noor Al- tio Hussein Foundation's Ed (NHF) TIE programme director Lina Al Tal of Bataynah and TIE special- the ist Geoff Gillham, the are group will assemble a pro- wil duction directed at stu- du dents, that is intended to dir encourage their participa-

TIE allows for direct participation in the learning process. It combines a student's cognitive ability tif with sensitivities and ac- str. tion, said Mr. Gillham lan who is by profession a playwright and a director. Me "We learn through experience and so the objective of TIE is to use a lan Papil's feelings in conjunc- att tion with thinking and action," he said during a recent workshop, adding that traditional classroom education is unnatural suce it depends wholly upon the cognitive and and passive absorption of information.

Our first TIE produc- ma tion was performed in 1990. It was a play called Time Impressions written by Walid Saif. With it we om loured the Kingdom and with sained useful experience.

<sup>By Nancy</sup> Benac The Associated Press

her

poin

sylva

shop

WASHINGTON — Let it Bill of writ that President Bill Clinton doesn't do his darodest to show his outin guests a good

The White House lead <sup>oee</sup>fed up its health- their tonscious menu to accommodate the rehan rappetite of Gerkan Chancellor Helmut kohl Chancellor Memou.

Kohl recently at a big House dinner.

visile last time Mr. Kohl Visiled Mr. Kohl the liboned across Clinton had across town to teler's favourite Italian lunch at the German ne for calorie at a of epic proportions. Clinton joked that trend kohl was so at home head

NEWS IN BRIEF

U.S. says Iran island defences pose risk

WASHINGTON (R) — Iran has moved sophisticated air defence onto disputed islands in the Gulf that pose a risk of an accidental confrontation with American ships, a U.S. general said on Tuesday. "They have moved more sophisticated air defence capabilities on those islands," General Binford Peay, commander of U.S. forces in the Middle East, told the Senate Armed Services Committee. "The danger I worry about is the accidental problem that you may have as our forces transit the Gulf waters and have an incident take place that... involves some kind of escalation," he said. "It is a concern," he said. "I think it is characteristic of the entire Iranian challenge that we now have in the Gulf." He did not say how recently the air defences had been moved to the islands. The islands are near the Straits of Hormuz entrance to the Gulf and are involved in a territorial dispute between Iran and the United Arab Emirates. Iran reiterated its claim to the islands, Abu Musa and Greater and Lesser Tunbs, last week but rejected a statement by eight Arab countries that it was refusing to negotiate the dispute with the UAE.

Egyptian lawyers join plans for strike

CAIRO (R) — Egyptian lawyers have joined plans for a one-day strike on Thursday in protest at a new law on union elections, a spokesman said on Wednesday. The lawyers association, which is dominated by Islamists, has told its members to boycott court hearings for the day, though they may continue work in their offices, he said. One other professional union, for engineers, has called a token two-hour strike for Thursday and other unions say they may join in on Thursday or on other days. The protest is against amendments to the union elections law, approved by parliament on Sunday. The amendments put the elections under the control of the judiciary and give judges the right to appoint "administrative committees" to supervise the voting.

70 firms vying for Beirut port contract

BEIRUT (AFP) - Some 70 Asian, European and Lebanese firms are vying to secure a $30-million contract torehabilitate the port of Beirut which was ravaged during the 1975-1990 civil war, port administration officials said Wednesday. Firms from South Korea, Britain, France, Sweden, Belgium, Spain, Saudi Arabia and Egypt are among those preselected following an offer for tenders. Most have already set up joint ventures, with Lebanese companies, the officials said. The firms or consortiums are competing for the construction of breakwaters, docks, workshops and a 12-megawatt power station, as well as road resurfacing and sewer repair projects. Port administration officials were expected to announce which firm would secure the contract within 40 days. Earlier this month firms were also invited to offer tenders to dredge the docks at Beirut port. The cost of the contract was not revealed. The British firm Scott Wilson Kirkpatrick inspected the docks at a cost of $269,500.

Hitler's book being published in Hebrew

TEL AVIV (AP) — A Hebrew translation of Adolf Hitler's book "Mein Kampf" will be published in the coming days, a daily reported Wednesday. Translator Dan Yaron, a holocaust survivor and retired teacher, told the Maariv newspaper that the book was an important historic document. The 650 page translation, entitled "My Struggle," is being published by Academon Publishers of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. The Austrian-born Yaron began translating the book in the late 1980s and several chapters were published separately in 1992 by Moshe Zimmermann, a German history professor at the university. Neither Mr. Yaron nor Mr. Zimmermann could

Qatari ship to carry sugar for Iraq

DOHA (R) - A Qatari ship will sail to Iraq Thursday to Arab country to the beleaguered Iraqis since the 1990 Kuwait crisis. The ship, named Zarka and owned by Qatar Navigation, was ready at the Doha port with its cargo on Wednesday, said Hamad Al Hitmi, head of the shipping company's marine transport section. He told the Associated Press that the Zarka would dock at Umm Al Qasr port in southern Iraq after sailing up the Gulf for two and one-half days. Last week, Qatar announced it was sending the sugar as "contribution to easing the humanitarian suffering faced by the Iraqi nation.

Satellite ban in Iran gets final approval

TEHRAN (AFP) - Iranian authorities are set to remove tens of thousands of satellite dishes in the country after a parliamentary ban on the equipment received final approval on Wednesday. The Council of Guardians, which seeks to ensure laws confrom to Islamic principles and the constitution, approved the law which was passed on Jan. 1 and seeks to prevent Iranians from watching foreign television programmes. The ban gives satellite users one month to take down their dishes and related equipment or face legal action. Tens of thousands of satellite dishes have sprung up on rooftops in Tehran and other major cities. allowing many Iranians to watch foreign television broadcasts and prompting Islamic conservatives and hardliners to

UAE arrests 164 Asian illegal immigrants

ABU DHABI (AFP) - The United Arab Emirates (UAE) arrested 164 Pakistanis and other Asians who tried to enter the country illegally over the past two weeks, newspapres reported here on Wednesday. Border and coast guards called in the air force when they carried out raids in the mountains in Diba and towns in the eastern region near the border with Oman, the papers said. Coast guard sources said those arrested included Pakistanis. Afghans and Iranians. They came by sea seeking jobs in the oil-rich Gulf country. Police records showed more than 25,000 people, mostly Asians had been arrested over the past two decades while trying to enter the UAE illegally.

Ť

4 it

u i:

211

Couple who had sex in party to be caned

DUBAI (R) - An unmarried couple will be caned in the United Arab Emirates for having sex at a party, the Gulf News daily reported on Wednesday. A maid who threw the party at her employer's house without his knowledge was sentenced to three months in prison, the newspaper said. A Sharia (Islamic law) court in the UAE state of Sharjah found the couple "guilty of sex outside marriage." It sentenced the man to 90 strokes of cane and three months in jail to be followed by deportation, the daily said. His lover was sentenced to 100 strokes and two months in jail after confessing to the charges, it added. Three other guests received one-month jail sentences. The paper did not give the nationality of the convicted party-goers.

Polish carrier to resume Lebanon flights

BEIRUT (AFP) - The Polish national carrier LOT will resume flights to Lebanon next month becoming the 27th foreign airline to return to Beirut international airport since the end of the 1975-1990 civil war. A local travel agent representing LOT told AFP on Wednesday that the airline will start a weekly flight on Mondays between Warsaw and Beirut starting March 27. Foreign airlines have been returning steadily in Beirut's international airport, which was shut down several times during Lebanon's 15-year-war. Their return coincides with plans by the authorities for a $500-million expansion of the airport.

Prince Hassan hosts iftar

HIS ROYAL Highness Crown Prince Hassan on Wednesday hosted an iftar in honour of commissioned officers and soldiers of the Prince Hassan Battalion.

Prince Hassan said he was happy to meet with the Armed Forces personnel, especially after Jordan regained its land occupied by Israel.

Prince Hassan, who performed Al Maghreb prayers with the guests, was accompanied by His Royal Highness Prince Rashed Ben Al Hassan, the chief of staff of the royal land forces, the commander of the 12th Royal Mechanised Division and senior army officers.

Earlier Wednesday, Prince Hassan toured lands restored to Jordanian sovereignty in Al Ba-qoura area (Petra photo)

'Republicans owe victory to conservative tide'

(Continued from page 12)

cuts to the middle class, a change in Mr. Clinton's previously passed crime laws and congressional term limits.

"The contract gave the campaign a theme and coherence. This was a key item for Republicans," she "Essentially, it rolls back 60 years of government in saying no to automatic (welfare) entitlements and shipping the money to the states, in effect, dismantling the 'welfare state"."

And, she added, Republicans have tagged the presi-dent with variety of nasty labels.

"On deficit reduction, the Republicans labelled him as a tax and spend. president," she said. (Mr. Clinton has been one of few presidents to directly call for an increase in taxes to battle the deficit) "And on health care, they painted him and Hillary as 'big government and big spen-

All this added to the fact that some people "just don't like Bill," she said. Since his campaign, Mr. Clinton has had to fight allegations of infidelity, fend off criticism of an Arkansas real estate investment gone bad, defend his wife's questionable investment in cattle futures and most recently address allegations of sexual harassment during his governorship in Arkansas. "He has never completely shed his 'Slick Willie title," Ms. Drew said. "And his ability to shade the truth has really turned people off."

Can the Republicans manage affairs any better? The contract has already been introduced to the House and debate on a welfare proposal has started as well as a rewrite of the crime bill.

"The welfare proposal has some draconian propositions (which include barring unwed mothers under age 18 from receiving wel-fare)," she said, "But I think they will succeed in shifting the terms of understanding about what welfare should be."

The crime bill is moving more towards punishment than prevention, Ms. Drew said, with the aim of the actions being to give prisoners fewer opportunities to appeal, and make search and seizure easier, designing "a radical overhaul of the government role in

But she said, the Republicans have to keep moving things forward and quickly, since Americans are nearly out of patience with their politicians. "If they don't accomplish enough, the public will become angry and cynical," she said.

The Republican victory came at a critical time for U.S. politics - 1996 elections are just around the corner. Ms. Drew said there is a possibility that Mr. Clinton, who has already stated his intentions to run for a second term, may face a Democratic challenger in the primaries. "We don't know yet," she said, "Gephardt, Bill Bradley, Bob Kerry — they won't decide until later."

If Mr. Clinton runs, she said, there will have to be a third party to give him a chance. "If it wasn't for Perot in 1992, (Clinton)may not have made it." she pointed out. "He only had a 43 per cent plurality (elec-toral vote)."

In addition, she said, Mr. Clinton will have to find a way to "energise" the traditional liberal Democrats who suffered a huge "psychological blow" foilowing the congressional elections. This will be difficult, she said, as Mr. Clinton is meanwhile moving to the centre of the political

> Arabs split .... over treaty

he told AFP.

"They apparently did not like an opinion piece written kind of totalitarian meaby a former ambassador to the United Nations and could not be couched in a more courteous way."

The former envoy, Yehuda Blum, wrote in Monday's edition of the newspaper that Foreign Minister Amr Musa and his predecessor Esmat Abdul Meguid were "sceptics, if not outright opponents, of the Israel-Egypt peace process

He said that they and Osama Al Baz, an adviser to President Hosni Mubarak, were termed "rejectionists"

by their own colleagues.

"As long as Musa and Al Baz occupy centre stage in Egyptian foreign policy, this must serve to indicate a continuis" course of containing Israel and 'reducing it to its natural size'," Mr. Blum

The ban came amid the war of words between the two countries over Israel's refusal to join the NPT.

Chechenya

(Continued from page 1) Ingushetia's Interior Minisry. "And the army is the army — it's like a car that's in motion and it's not going to

But members of the Chechen presidential guard said Mr. Dudayev controlled all fighters and any agree-ment would be honoured by

More talks would be held on Friday, ITAR-TASS news agency quoted Chechen commander Basayev as saying. Interfax news agency said agreement had been reached separately to hand over dead and wounded from the twomonth conflict in the north Caucasus territory in which hundreds, perhaps thousands of people, have been killed.

It said the more difficult question of exchanging prisoners had yet to be addressed For Mr. Yeltsin, the ceasefire — whch extended a temporary partial truce that covered only heavy weapons improved the backdrop for his state-of-the-nation address to parliament on Thursday.

'Jordan will pursue quest'

(Continued from page 1)

tionship with the Palestinians before they are able, under conditions of freedom, to choose what they want. The King said that Jordan has no ambitions outside its territory and "if the Hashemites had ambitions, they would not have ended up where they are now."

However, King Hussein stressed the special role the Kingdom has had in Jerusalem, saying there would have been no end to accusations against the Kingdom had its treaty with Israel not included a reference to the Holy City.

The King said that Jerusalem is "very, very important to us, sensitive to us all, particularly here in Jordan (as it was) part of the territory that our forces defended in 48, 49 and 67.1

The King said that the Kingdom has "no wish to play the role of others" in Jerusalem, saying that the Kingdom's custodianship of the holy sites in the city is in fine with international legitimacy.

The King stressed that a renunciation of the Kingdom's role in Jerusalem would be very dangerous before the final status negotiations between Israel and the: Palestinians are completed. Jordan will end its role there when the Palestinians are in a position to take control of the holy sites in the city, he said.

The Monarch added that Jerusalem's holy shrines should not be part of political sovereignty and must be "given a status above all that." "This is the only approach that can work,"a the King said.

Expressing hope that Jordan's democratic march can be a positive influence in the region. King Hussein reiterated commitment to democracy and respect of the law

in the country.

But the King said he feared for "democracy from those who profess to be democrats.

Responding to a question, the King said that a visit by a number of opposition parties to Syria late last month is being looked into to see if it violated the law.

During their visit, the leaders of the eight leftist and pan-Arabist parties criticised Jordan for signing the peace treaty with Israel and praised the Syrian position as the only strong one against Israeli plans to dominate the

The visit was severely criticised by mainstream Jordanian politicians and observers who accused the parties of playing into the hands of a foreign regime.

Responding to a question on the modernisation of the armed forces, the King said it is orgent to modernise the army in order to deter threats, "physical or in-direct," that may face the country, protect its commitments and counter terrorism, as well as participating in U.N. peacekeeping missions. The Kingdom "will always have a regional role to play,"

King Hussein told reporters. His Majesty reiterated his concern over the plight of the Iraqi people saying that the "government notwithstanding, our feelings are for the Iraqi people."

But the King said Jordan, which never supported the Iragi invasion of Kuwait and sought to solve the conflict through ending the occupa-tion, has not been able to influence Iraq.

The King said that Jordan was not involved in any Israeli-Iraqi talks "if" the two countries were indeed in con-

Experts see Saudi-Yemeni clash

of difference," he said. Sheikh Ahmar's remarks in Riyadh contradicted a statement Tuesday by Yemeni President Ali Abdullah Saleh, indicating that the negotiations have bogged down.

Mr. Saleh stressed that Ye, men "would not fight" the Sandis. But "we will not accept more seizures of Yemeni lands," he added. Mr. Saleh complained that "the Saudis refuse arbitration even though it is specified in the Taif agreement." "For arbitration."

The acceptable solution, he said, was one that would be "comprehensive" and implement the articles of the agreement that allows Yemenis privileged entry into the kingdom.

Yemen also rejected the "divisive" approach that the Saudis are pursuing, disting-uishing between borders that existed between the kingdom and the former North Yemen and these with the former South Yemen, he said in May 1990. The Taif agreement, which ended a border war, was signed only with the former North Yemen. The border issue has flared periodically and in recent years, relations between teriorated. The latest eruptions along the border occurred last December, with several armed clashes.

Ramadan turns Cairo into feast for senses

CAIRO (AFP) - Cairo's extremes are never more apparent than during the Holy Month of Ramadan, with the rich feasting on the atmosphere of teeming streets while the poor enjoy dishes they normally only dream of tasting.

In a hotel in the select Zamalek district a Coptic Christian businessman has staged for his Muslim friends a mock-up of a Cairo alleyway, minus the dust and pollution, as the setting for suhur, the last meal before

Hassaballah, a popular brass band formed at the turn of the century, greets women clad in mink coats and men in smart suits, who walk through a cardboard cityscape depicting a market and dilapidated houses.

The scene also features traditional musharabiyeh — decorative wooden lattices through which women can seen the street while remaining hidden from view. An extra slice of realism is provided by a streetseller hawking sweet potatoes, his six-year-old daughter pushing a barrow, a seller of jasmine necklaces and another offering koshary, a popular dish consisting of rice, lentils, macaroni and onions.

They all watch the pageant with awe, transported from the bustling streets for a few Tables groan with smoked salmon and glazed chestnuts from famous Parisian caterers alongside traditional Egyptian dishes, while women dressed in flowing jellabahs serve dried fruit and sweetments.

Hoda Onsy, a businessman's wife, describes the lavish Ramadan feast as a "royal

"The only thing missing

She denies that such ex-

travagence is wasteful.
"When you have money you have to keep up a certain standard and do what people expect from you. You cannot invite the wealthiest people in Cairo and give them a 'foul' (bean) sandwich and say 'that's it'."

The guests are seated our cushions so as not to detract from the decor. Instead of alcohol they are offered herbal teas flavoured with hibiscus and cinnamon, and instead of cigars they smoke hubble-bubble pipes.

Famous singers take their turns on the stage while belly dancers wearing skimpy skirts perform on the dance floor and tables. One of the dancers, carried away by the rhythm, takes off her black scarf and wraps it round her swaying hips provocatively.

Meanwhile, in the working class Al Hussein quarter the poor enjoy the illusion or prosperity at sundown, regaled with fare courtesy of Cairo's wealthier citizens. The charity-tables set out in front of the main mosque offer soup, rice and meat - a luxury many can never Hussein Abdul Ati, a taxi driver, says be would rather be with his family, "but I sometimes bring them here to est mest." Seated under multicoloured canopies, the "damned of the earth" and even minor government employees savour honey cakes and other delicacies.

Singers from the provinces cheer them up with traditional or religious songs while the billowing skirts of whirling. dervishes provide a feast for the eye.

Ahmad Eid, a roadsweeper, says his favourite charity was champagne - but you tables are the ones in Al Hussein Street.

Israel: Pullout possible in May

(Continued from page 1)

Palestinian territories to a halt to Jewish settlement and a timetable for military redeployment on the West Bank and elections to an autonomy

Clashes

in Hebron

(Continued from page 1)

of them to clear the area of

On Tuesday Israeli soldiers

shot dead a 16-year-old Palestinian and wounded

seven people during clashes

A leader of the outlawed

Kach movement evaded

house arrest Wednesday to pray at the grave of Gold-

"I am not afraid of the police," Baruch Marzel told

AFP after visiting the grave of the man he calls "holy."

Hardline settlers have turned the grave at Kirvat

Arba into a site of pilgrimage

and put up a stone monu-

It is about five kilometres

from the centre of Hebron,

where Mr. Marzel lives. He had to go through at least three army posts to reach the

"I went with some other people who are also under house arrest," he boasted,

but refused to give their Extremist settlers are due to hold a memorial service in Kiryat Arba, where Goldstein lived, on Thursday.

settlement.

names.

near Hebron.

PLO senior negotiator Hassan Asfour also explained that the Palestinians would accept a gradual puli back, providing it took place according to an agreed timetable and was completed before elections. "Arafat and Rabin will discuss this point tomorrow," he said, "They will also discuss all the Israeli measures against the Palestinians."

A Palestinian mother tries to save her boy from being arrested by an Israeli soldier suspected of throwing stones during clashes in Hebron (AFP photo)

Middle East's 'Hong Kong' expects record trade in '95

DUBAI, United Arab Emirates (AFP) — The Gulf emirate of Dubai, dubbed the Hong Kong of the Middle East, expects its non-oil trade to hit a record in 1995 due to a business upturn in the Gulf.

Trade is projected to rise by 10.5 per cent to 80.37 billion dirhmas ($21.89 billion) this year from 72.73 billion dirhams ($19.81 billion) in 1994, the Dubai Chamber of Commerce and Industry said Tuesday.

Imports will grow by 11 per cent to 64.24 billion dirhams ($17.50 billion) from 57.89 billion dirhams ($15.77 billion) and exports by 10 per cent to 4.37 billion dirhams ($1.19 billion) from 3.97 billion dirhams ($1.08 billion), the chamber said in a study.

Reexports are forecast to increase by 8.2 per cent to 11.75 billion dirhams ($3.20 billion) from 10.86 billion dirhams ($2.95 billion). "This year will be a record

mp yer for trade due to an economic upturn in the United ar Arab Emirates (UAE) and other Gulf countries," me chamber official told AFP. litic "Another factor is the opening of new markets for our exports and reexports, inmic cluding East Europe and forit mer Soviet Union.

Dubai is the main transhippc ment centre in the region, handling more than one fifth ch, of the non-oil trade of Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) licy states — Saudi Arabia. Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar and the UAE.

The emirate, the second biggest member of the UAE. has used its oil wealth to develop its ports to face growing business. Its Rashid and Jebel Ali ports now rank among the biggest 15 harbours in the world. Its free trade zone of Jebel

Ali is also the largest in the es region, with more than 700 e! companies, investing over $1 billion. Hundreds of thousands of people from Russia and other communist nations pour into the emirate every year to buy electronics, among the cheapest in the Middle East given its low customs tariffs. British in Around 25 per cent of Duba'i reexports go to neighbouring Iran while the rest cover the markets of Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, India, Pakistan. Hong Kong, China, Singapore. Thailand and other countries.

Official reports have showed that the UAE non-oil sector surged to its highest level in 1994 as the Gulf OPEC producer pressed ahead with attempts to diversify its economy and cushion the impact of unpredictable crude prices.

The gross domestic product (GDP) in the non-oil sector peaked at 88.4 billion dirhams ($24.08 billion) in 1994 accounting for 66.2 per cent of the total GDP.

This compared with 83.7 billion dirhams ($22.8 billion) in 1993, a growth of 5.6 per cent, according to the figures by the planning ministry and the state-run Emirates Industrial Bank.

"The non-oil sector has steadily grown over the past decade due to efforts to diversify the economy." bank said in a study.

Although crude exports still provide the bulk of the UAE's national income, the figures showed the non-oil sector has become immune to crude price fluctuations as a steady expansion caused by intensive investment enabled several sectors to sustain growth without reliance on government spending.

The focus has been on the industrial sector because of the limited farm and tourism potential of the arid desert

A breakdown showed nonoil industries, mostly cement, chemicals, food, clothes and other light products, had steadily grown since 1984. with their GDP hitting a record 12 billion dirhams ($3.26 billion) in 1994.

The UAE and other Gulf states launched an industrialisation drive to offset large losses from weak prices that have plummetted to nearly half their 1980 level. This, coupled with lower output by Saudi Arabia, slashed their oil earnings to 1980 income

In the UAE, the oil sector has sharply fluctuated due to changes in prices and production. Official figures showed oil contributed around 48 billion dirhams ($13.07 billion) to the GDP in 1984 compared with nearly 60 billion dirhams ($16.34 billion) in 1990.

It dived to less than 30 billion dirhams ($8.17 billion) in 1986, when crude prices tumbled to below $10 due to a production war within the Organisation of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) and other producers.

Oil has remained the dominant factor in the UAE's GDP until it began to lose ground to other sectors 10 years ago.

In 1984, it contributed nearly 47 per cent to the GDP while share fell to around 45 per cent in 1988, to 40 per cent in 1992 and 33.8 per cent in 1994. The UAE produces around

2.16 million barrels per day of oil under an OPEC quota agreement and it has used its oil wealth to develop other

Public and private investment in the non-oil sector has totalled more than 95 billion dirhams ($25.88 billion) since

"The non-oil sector has steadily grown over the past vears despite persistent cuts in government expenditure due to low oil prices." an economic expert said. "This shows the private sector is playing a greater role in the economy and it is no longer heavily dependent on government spending.

EIB figures showed the UAE's total GDP grew by around two per cent in current prices to 133.5 billion dirhams ($36.3 billion) in 1994 from 130.9 billion dirhams ($35.66 billion) in

The growth occurred despite a decline in oil earnings to nearly 45.1 billion dirhams ($12.28 billion) from 47.1 billion dirhams ($12.83 billion) because of a price drop of

Santer to stick to single EU currency timetable asking that we stick to it." STRASBOURG, France (R) mits the commission to work

- European Commission President Jacques Santer pledged Wednesday to stick to the timetable for creating a single EU currency and sidestepped a row with British Euro-sceptics over border controls.

In a speech outlining the commission's work plans for 1995, Mr. Santer told the European Parliament his priorities would include fighting fraud in the 15-nation bloc, boosting industrial competitiveness and work on information technologies. He said the commission would work to complete the EU's single market, but made no direct reference to lifting the union's internal border controls, a subject which has inflamed the row over Europe among Britain's ruling Conservative Party.

The detailed work plan presented to Euro-MPS com-for a law to remove passport checks at internal borders. British Prime Minister John Major vowed Tuesday to veto any such move when it is eventually brought before member states for Britain jealously guards its rights to check passports at its borders, partly to monitor immigration. Most of the other EU states are in the process of abandoning passport controls for movement within the bloc.

Mr. Santer's remarks on a single currency, simply committing himself to follow existing rules, could also fuel the arguments in London, where Conservative Party infighting over Europe is taking its toll on the British pound.

"The timetable has been agreed." Mr. Santer said referring to the move towards a single currency. "I am simply who have already had occasion to use the Channel Tun-He said the commission would bolster efforts for the nel," he said. union to make the most of

He urged EU countries to complete rules for the EU's market for electricity and gas or face commission action.

'We should complete the internal markets in electricity and natural gas this year. If we find that the council (of ministers) has made no progress, the commission will own hands," Mr. Santer said.

have to take matters into its He said the union must ment policy," something which could be achieved by improving industrial competitiveness through research and by promoting quality. On external relations he referred to what he said was a ners for closer trade links. "We must take advantage of this reality, but to do so we first need a common foreign and security policy that is worthy of the name andactually works," he said.

desire among the EU's part-

HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY FEBRUARY 16, 1995 By Thomas S. Pierson, Astrologer, Carroll Righter Foundation

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) You are able to get the support you need for important projects from good friends who have the means. Then get busy later on at those tasks ahead of you and complete

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Contact individuals who will help you make your property more valuable and comfortable. See how to add to present income appreciably in an ethical fashion. Spend tonight with friends.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Talking over some problems with a person who thinks differently from you this morning will help you can solve them quickly. Kin help you with some task that is most boring for you.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) If you waste too much time worrying about a problem this mo about a problem this morning, you are not going to sh very much, so toss it aside for now. Tomorrow the right solution comes to you.

LEO: (July 22 to Angust 21) Talk over that new project with a friend and then see about getting the financial backing you need for it this evening. Forget social life, since little or nothing would come of it. VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) Study that public problem well before you try to handle it today. Show that you are not a superficial person. Others are depending on you to get the work

LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) You have inspired ideas about how to put new life into old projects that will make them successful instead of discouraging failures. Information from one overseas can be helpful.

SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) Plans must be well worked out today if you want to handle responsibilities satisfactorily. Don't rely on advisors since they are busy. Come to your own conclusion SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) Pay attention to the ideas of an associate and do not look to big wigs to do more for you. Spend this evening with people who have the same mind set as you and can lend a band.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) This is an ideal day to attend to tasks that only you can handle properly and do so in a clever and ingenious way, expressing some particular talent that you

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) A romantic interest has some rather strange ideas today, so smile them away and do not break up the relationship. Tomorrow they will most likely be PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) You had better cooperate with what family has in mind or you can certainly be the loser as well as they. Ridding yourself of the cause of tensions at home would be

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY FEBRUARY 17, 1995

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19) Good day to enjoy recreation with people you like. Put that skill to work also that is exclusively yours. Try not to get to bed too late this evening.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20) Doing whatever will please family the most such as buying little gifts that abow your thoughfulness is wise in the morning.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Ideal day for that little trip you have long waited to take or for working on mechanical things that will

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate on how to add to present security in an ethical and clever way. Be active this afternoon and this evening, listen to what an expert has to suggest. LEO: (July 22 to August 21) You are clever and magnetic today and can accomplish much through the traits. So get busy contacting key people. Entertaining or being entertained is favourable.

VIRGO: (August 22 to September 22) You have some plans that can be put in motion easily in the coming days. Talk over the principle of same with those you want to work along with you. LIBRA: (September 23 to October 22) Get out of the regular rut and enjoy the company of good friends you like. Repay some social obligations you may have and show your generosity of spirit. SCORPIO: (October 23 to November 21) Contact the big wig early who can assist you with some worthy affairs that mean much to you Put credit matters behind you with clarity and efficiency.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 22 to December 21) This is a great day to get out to new scenes and personalities that can be helpful to you Contact persons who can make your advancement easier.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 to January 20) Use your intuition and clear up those problems you have in a most astute fashion. Make sure you do not hurt one who is a friend.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 to February 19) Sit down early with associates and decide on future actions which will lead to greater success. Being more tactful will rid you of any opposition you may

PISCES: (February 20 to March 20) Good day for getting much of that accumulated task completed and out of the way early. Adding comforts to home is important. Plan how to have more lessure in the

Birthstone of February: Amethyst - Onyx

Arabs hit by high food deficit despite farming potential ABU DHABI (AFP) the same period, according to Arab states have a deficit of the figures.

around $10 billion a year in their farming trade although arable land is more than enough to make them selfsufficient, official reports said Wednesday.

The food gap in the Arab League's 22 members, the difference between their farm imports and exports, accumilated to nearly $88 billion between 1985 and 1993, according to the reports by the Arab Organisation for Agricultural Development (ÃOAD) and the Abu Dhabi-based Arab Monetary Fund (AMF).

The deficit peaked to a 10-year high of $13.1 billion in 1988 before it eased to around $8.6 billion in 1991 and $9.5 billion in 1993. It covered most farm products but cereal and meat suffered more. The cumulative deficit in cereal stood at around $42 billion and meat at nearly $12.5 billion.

The other products affected included vegetables and fruit, dairy products, sugar, tea and coffee. Fish was the only product to have recorded a surplus of around $4.14 billion during loses pace

The Arab food gap has persisted for most years since the 1960s due to improper government policies, failure to exploit arable land, lack of incentives and investment, poor infrastructure and irrigation problems.

The region's arable land is estimated at around 198 million hectares (490 million acres) but less than one third is exploited, the AOAD study said. "Development of the agricultural sector in the Arab World is facing economic, natural and financial obstacles." it said. "They include primitive irrigation and farming methods, poor infrastructure, imbalances in regional markets, lack of farm incentives and investments, and government interference by imposing taxes or fixing prices.

It said nearly 80 per cent of the cultivated Arab land depended on rainfall and the rest on irrigation. But it added irrigation was inefficient in most Arab countries due to lack of technology. "Around 12,000 cubic.

water are used in the irrigation of one hectar (2.5 acres) while only 7,500 (262,500) cubic feet) are actually needed.

opportunities in information technologies and audiovisual fields, a source of jobs for carve out a place for itself at the forefront of these markets to ensure competitive

jobs today and new jobs

tomorrow," Mr. Santer said.

during a Brussels conference of the Group of Seven most industrialised countries on

Mr. Santer pledged further work on creating road and rail networks across western Europe, saying the projects would bring fresh life and only advise those who doubt

the value of such projects to note the enthusiasm of those

"They must be built. I can

Feb. 24 to 26.

trade to regions.

The subject will be tackled

"It is essential that Europe

Europe.

"This shows around one third of the water resources is wasted," it said.

It said Arab farm output grew by only 0.6 per cent in 1993 compared with 1992 while the agricultural sector's contribution to the gross domestic product (GDP) in-creased to $71.8 billion from $67.3 billion. A breakdown showed such a contribution exceeded 15 per cent in such fertile countries as Iraq, Sudan, Lebanon, Syria and Morocco, while it was as low as two to six per cent in the oil-rich Gulf, which is mostly desert. Arab officials have repeatedly voiced concern over the widening food gap, saying it carried economic and political hazards as a large part of their agricultural imports come from the West. "Gulf states have the funds for farm investment in fertile member states but they appear reluctant to do so for political reasons," one expert said.

AOAD figures showed Arab cereal production slightly declined to 41.49 million tonnes in 1993 from 42.22 million tonnes in 1992. Wheat output fell to 18.27 million tonnes from 19 million tonnes while rice dropped to 4.06 million tonnes from 4.14 million tonnes and barley to 6.58 million tonnes from 6.68 million tonnes. Most other products also declined except meat, dairy, fish and oil. By the end of 1993, the Arab World had 40.2 million cows, 120.7 million sheep, 58.7 million goats and 10.4 million camels, the figures showed.

cember's 2.5. ary Michael Portillo said after creased by 3.75 per cent in flation rose sharply in Januagainst the mark and the Market analysts fear the figures were released. the year to December, the ary to 3.3 per cent, sparking another interest rate rise stock market softened. Unemployment has fallen could be needed to quell inconcern that interest rates every month for the past

flation jumps as recovery

LONDON (R) - British in-

will have to rise again Unemployment fell to a three-year low in the same month but consumer confidence still looked shaken as retail sales dropped by an unexpectedly large 0.9 per cent, according to official statistics released Wednesday. Sterling, already badly rattled this week by divisions over Europe in Prime Minister John Major's government, continued to slide

Britain's pound slipped about half a pfennig to 2.3538 marks on the news, and the London stock market's key FTSE 100 index shed six

The annual rate of retail price increases jumped in January to 3.3 per cent from 2.9 in December. The underlying rate of inflation, which strips out the cost of home loans, also rose strongly, hitting 2.8 per cent after Deflation. British interest rates, last raised in early February.

are currently at 6.75 per cent. The treasury, reacting to a raft of statistics that gave the month's most detailed snapshot on the state of the economy, insisted that the recovery looked healthy and sus-

"There is still a good deal of spare capacity in this eco-nomy." Employment Secret-year low. The total was cut by 27,500 in January to 8.9 per cent of the workforce. Consumer confidence still looked fragile despite Britain's steady recovery from vear, dropping to a three-

its most crippling recession in 50 years — retail sales volumes fell by 0.9 per cent in January after a 0.5 increase in December.

Other average earnings insame as November. The figures were released the day after the British currency hit its lowest level against the mark for two vears.

The constant wrangling in Britain's divided Conservative government has unnerved financial markets which fear Mr. Major could be toppled by the opposition Labour Pary at the next general election, due by May

"If you'd like a kiss or hug, place your order before 5:00 and you'll receive it by 10:30 the next business day."

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME by Herri Atrobic and Miss Assessment Unscramble these four Jumbles one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words. Scalpel Scalpel TOIDT KROJE FLYDON WHY THE KNEE SURGERY REQUIRED TWO POCTORS. LEFZIZ Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as sug-(Answers tomorrow HASTY OSSIFY FRIEZE Jumbles: NEEDY Answer. What the North Pole real estate tycoon considered his holdings HIS FROZEN ASSETS

1 usiness aily

P

Petr

sa:đ

inco

oc.

(S...

he r

200 mk-3

third capi

27ವೆ

provi

ches

an er

Cuce

pe: a

01.70

befor

Re

Re

Ţ C.

Bet

Cas Bail Left Sam Cas Cas Cas Cyp

LO

LOND

rates fo dollar a bullion

U.S. $1

One steri

One oun

FO

Adve

6671

Business &

Deat A review of economic news from the Arabic press

Investments climb to D 408m in 1994 Statistics from the Minis-

n of Industry and Trade n of Industry and Trade that 1.462 companies that a total capital of ID wif million were reggred at the ministry last grompared to 4,409 compairs capitalised at JD roomillion in 1993 Public darcholding companies toppel the list in 1994 with 25 companies capitalised at JD M.J million. Statistics rerated high weakness in agrimural investment as only gien companies with a JD 11.000 capital were regsered. The highest investment was in the trading secor with 851 companies capiplised at JD 12.55 million followed by industrial investment with 469 firms (JD 124 million capital). The gaistics did not specify forem investment in the Kingion nor did it specify the number of companies which eased to exist (Al Aswau). ## The Municipality of Greater Amman (MGA) has inshed a new study to build abridge for ears coming from the area of the Ministry, of Interior's old premises tovents Abdali. Work on the indge, which is expected to as ID 1.5 million and take asht months to complete. ·劉begin in early June, 1995. MGA will also open a new and from Al Qaisivah and Fair Abdoun area to link яф Queen Zein Street, пеаг te American Embassy, and such up to the industrial ≥of Wadi Al Seer to ease ≥ traffic on Zahran Street wateretches from the First Citize to the Eighth Circle. The bridge under construction now mar the Seventh Circle will be ready before 'Eid Al Fitt.' Studies on a nunel that will be built under Al Qalau, are near completion and a tender will e issued for the project which is expected to begin in and summer and end within e jear (Al Raji).

Marka Airport will be 随 IIII regular service again Samue June 1905. The old alport will serve Royal loranian planes on regional en lights. According to an ame official, two small airat with turbine engines able to carry 50 passen-The will initially cover state and Alexandria and Alexandria and Melimes Cairo. Beirut. Mascus and Larnaca (Al

Sources at the Ministry Municipal and Rural the Environment the municipalities to indicational revenue of JD million this year from va-The number of imalines has increased in 1995 from 174 ip & & village councils been elevated to muni-

Stinian National Auonly (PNA) Communica-Minister Abdul Hafiz shhab said the PNA give priority to Jordacompanies and enparticipate in planthe studying and providing priests to Palestinian Jeas (Al Ra'i)

The Ministry of Health and the second list of new te for imported drugs. online per cent, the same enlage as in the first list week Prices were ed on Swedish and Britwhile an increase in affected drugs from ce b. Germany and te prices of Italian Stemained stable as they paid for in U.S. dollars

Arab Maritime Company transported and eight million passand carried more and carried more of goods Jordan and Egypt The company remade large profits

reded even its capital
was not disclosed (Al was not disclosed (Al

Peanuts

SUBSTITUTE TEACHER, MARCIE

G 1995 MGM DIST BY SYNDICATION INTERNATIONAL AMERICA SYNDICATE, ING

Mutt'n'Jeff

Andy Capp

WISH YOU'D STOP

develop a "geuine emplo, which could be achieved improving industrial competitiveness through research as On external relations to desire among the EU's Parameter of this reality, but to do not and and securion to the first need a common to the second and and securion. usiness of this reality, but to do so the or this ready, but to do to a first need a common force and security policy that eat and security Poury that a security works," he said A review of economic news from the Arabic press

SCOPE

Y FEBRUARY 17, 1995

are also are a exclusively year

102 Combines 6

ರ್ಷ ಕರ್ಮನ್ನು ಮತ್ತೆ magnetic today:

Die in St. der busy contactinge

22 Not a reason to plans that of

richia niconsi conomiable

and a ment you.

... ind officiency

This is a grade

was 💷 Jayr

ina evening

SDAY FEBRUARY 16, 1995 investments You are also You are able to get the support to: Easks ahead of you and complete in 1994

Contact individuals who will let and comfortable, set long to the Alinus-set long to the show that 4,462 companies show that 4,462 companies regard capital of JD show that 4,462 companies show that 4,462 companies show that 4,462 companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies of the show that 4,462 companies show that 4,462 companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies of the show that 4,462 companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies of the show that 4,462 companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at the ministry last companies with a total capital of JD 408.37 million were registered at th s morning. You are not going a saide for now Tomorrow the right shareholding companies topand the list in 1994 with 25 named backing you need for it to 281.20 million. Statistics reletter or nothing would come of a vealed high weakness in agrimitural investment as only Study that public problem cultural investment as only cultural investment as only seven companies with a JD spending on you to get the unit 81,000 capital were regiment. 81,000 capital were registered. The highest investistered. The inguests that will make then the salitares. Information from the salitares are salitared by industrial investronowed by management (JD responsibilities satisfactors, and the well with the satisfactors, and the satisfact responsibilities satisfactorily, Dail 12.34 million capital). The to December 21) Pay attention to the Kingmotion to big wigs to do more to be wise the same mind may number of companies which number of companies which This is an ideal day to the control of the control ceased to exist (Al Aswaq).

÷÷ The Municipality of

Ser a service particular talent that to Greater Amman (MGA) has finished a new study to build Tomantic interest las a bridge for cars coming from the area of the Ministry of them away and do my Interior's old premises to-wards Abdali. Work on the the loser as well a bridge, which is expected to cost JD 1.5 million and take ase of ters in at home would be eight months to complete, will begin in early June, 1995. MGA will also open a new road from Al Qaisiyah and Wadi Abdoun area to link Compared to a state of recreation of with Oueen Zein Street, near the American Embassy, and stretch up to the industrial Commence will please family area of Wadi Al Seer to ease the traffic on Zahran. Street w which stretches from the First au 🕮 far that hade and you have Circle to the Eighth Circle. na na madhunical dang bu 📲 The bridge under construction now near the Seventh Circle will be ready before Eid Al 'Fitr.' Studies on a tunnel that will be built under Jabal Al Qalaa, are near completion and a tender will be issued for the project which is expected to begin in early summer and end within — ξ ±ξ × T±2 over the princip. a year (Al Ra'i).

-- ite regular mi 🛎 * Marka Airport will be ke Repay some such put into regular service again and a concretify of spine. starting June 1995. The old ार । Contact the big wighti 2irport will serve Royal - - - : nean much wyn. Jordanian planes on regional short flights. According to an airline official, two small air-- ...- in it can 🛬 helpful to jus craft with turbine engines each able to carry 50 passenand the sour intuition and gers, will initially cover Aqaba, Sharm Al Sheikh Taba and Alexandria and 5: down early will all lead to great position you may sometimes Cairo, Beirut, Damascus and Larnaca (Al for getting much of the may early. Addition $\frak{\pi}$\times Sources at the Ministry of Municipal and Rural Affairs and the Environment expect the municipalities to receive a total revenue of JD 20 million this year from va-Jous fees. The number of municipalities has increased to 259 in 1995 from 174 ip-1994 as 85 village councils have been elevated to municipalities (Al Ra'i).

> * Palestinian National Authority (PNA) Communications Minister Abdul Hafiz Al Ashhab said the PNA would give priority to Jordanian companies and engineers to participate in planning, studying and providing experience to Palestinian projects (Al Ra'i).

* The Ministry of Health issued the second list of new prices for imported drugs. The average drop in prices was nine per cent, the same percentage as in the first list issued last week. Prices were reduced on Swedish and Britsh drugs while an increase in nices affected drugs from Witzerland, Germany and france. Prices of Italian irugs remained stable as they we paid for in U.S. dollars

* The Arab Maritime Iridge Company transported tore than eight million pasengers and carried more nan 30,000 tonnes of goods ween Jordan and Egypt year. The company re-Ortedly made large profits lat exceeded even its capital hich was not disclosed (Al Al Aswaq).

British Petroleum profits surge in '94

LONDON (R) — The British to £411 million ($642.8 million) from £54 million ($84.45 said its replacement-cost net million) a year earlier as income soared by nearly 70 per cent to £1.52 billion ($2.38 billion) in 1994, helped by sharply lower costs and strong profits from chemicals. The oil major, Britain's third largest company by capitalisation, raised its quarterly dividend by 20 per cent to three pence.

B.P. said lower operating and finance costs, an improved sales mix and higher chemicals margins towards the year end more than offset an eight per cent fall in oil prices over the year and a 21 per cent decline in worldwide oil refining margins.

Replacement-cost profit before exceptional items rose by 32 per cent for the year to £1.48 billion ($2.32 billion). Replacement-cost net profit in the fourth quarter rose

Financial

Markets

Currency

Deutsche Mark

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yen

U.S. Dollar

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yen

Sterling Pound

Swiss Franc

French Franc

Japanese Yen

Dutch Guilder

Swedish Krona

itelian Lirus

Belgian Franc

Other Currencie

Bahraini Dina

Lebanese Lira

Saudi Riyal

Kuwaiti Dinas

Qetari Riyal

Omani Riyal

UAE Dirhem

Greek Drachma

Cypriot Pound

bullion markets Wednesday.

One ounce of gold $376.95/377.25

Egyptian Pound

Currency

Sterling Pound

European Corresy limit

LSD Per STC Enterpose Opening or $100 a.m. CAST

European Currency Cuit | 5.71

Jordan Times

Cairo Amman Bank

- 14/2/95

1.2740

5.2268

92.54

1.2493

1 MTH | 3 MTHS | 6 MTHS | 12 MTHS

6.76

4.27

5.56

USD:Oz JD:Gm² Metal USD:Oz JD/Gm

0.6990

1.0899

0.5477

0.1334

0.7045

0.4126

0.0436

1.8320

0.041730

0.1857

2.5300

8.1985

0.2000

1.2060

0.1898

0.2775

1.4375

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) — Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midsession on the London Foreign Exchange and

1.5098/08

1.6922/32

1.2746/56

31.06/10

5.2365/15

98.57/67

7.3625/25

6.6150/00

5.9430/80

$1,5614/24

1604.6/5.6

2.06 2.12

5.43 6.05

4.75

3.37

5.3i

2.06

376.65 7.55 Salver

6.00 6.31 6.93

6.27

5.00

3.60 3.87 4.05

5.87

4.77 0,111

Date: 15/2/1995

0.7010

1.0953

0.5504

0.1341

0.7118

0.4147

******

0.0438

*****

Offer

1.4510

0.042750

0.1671

2.3650

0.19207

0.2130

1.8160

0.1907

0.3125

1.5240

Canadian dollar

Deutschemarks

Dutch guilders

Belgian francs

French francs

Italian lire

Japanese yen

Danish crowas

Swedish crowns

Norwegian crowns

Swiss francs

Date: 15/2/1995

strong chemicals and improved exploration and production outweighed falls in refining margins. On a historical-cost basis, which includes gains or losses on the value of oil stocks, earnings for the year were

£1.58 billion ($2.47 billion).

up from £615 million ($961.8

million). B.P. said the results confirmed its achievement ahead of plan of targets set in 1992 to cut debt by $1 billion a year, limit capital expenditure to less than $5 billion and increase replacement cost profit before exceptionals to $2 billion.

Strong operating cash flow allowed debt repayment of £1.27 billion ($1.94 billion) in the year after settlement of a tax dispute with the state of

Tokyo Close

~ 15:2·95

7.5608**

1.5093

1.2755

5.2390**

1.0475**

7.05

5.45

0.37

96.57

Nomura Securities suffers $202m loss

TOKYO (AP) — Nomura Securities Co., Japan's largest brokerage house, has said its corporate group suffered a pretax loss of 20 billion yen ($202 million) in the first 10 months of fiscal

If Nomura's companies fail to rebound in the final two months of the fiscal year, it will post its first-ever consolidated loss.

Slumping business on the Tokyo Stock Exchange, poor performance by its subsidiaries, sluggish equity finances in Europe and low bond yields resulting from rising interest rates in the United States were to blame, Nomura said.

In September last year. Nomura projected a full-year group profit of 70 billion yen ($707 million) for the current fiscal year ending March 31. The year began on a hope-

COMPANY'S HAME

ARAB BANK PIC

ARMS BANK FIC JORDAN HATTONAL BANK JORDAN HATTONAL BANK / NEW INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BANK THE BOSSING BANK JORDAN KINGLI BANK JORDAN GULP BANK

PRILADELPRIA INVESTMENT BANK.

NIDDLE EAST INSURANCE ARABIAN SEAS INSURANCE JORDAN FRENCE INSURANCE

JORDAR ISLAMIC BANK SUSIMESS BANK BRIT BLANK SAVINGGINVESTMENT FOR BOUSING ANNAN BRAK FOR INVESTMENT

SECTOR

INSURANCE SECTOR

UNITED MIDDLE EAST & COMMODORE HOTELS

THE ARME POTASE/NEW
JORDAN PETROLEUM REFINARY
THE INDUSTRIAL COMMERCIAL & AGRICULTURAL
THE JORDAN MORSTED HILLS ARMS: PETROLEUTICAL MANUFACTURING
JORDAN CERAMIC INDUSTRIES

RAFIA INDUSTRIES DAR AL DAWA DEVELOPMENT & INVESTMENT ARAB INVESTMENT & IMPRRATIONAL TRADE

JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POMER JORDANIAN ELECTRIC POMER /KEW

JORDAN HIMSE MINERAL ARAB INTERNATIONAL BOTELS JORDAN NATIONAL SHIPPING LINES NATIONAL PORTFOLIO SECURITIES

SERVICES SECTOR

THE JORDAN CENERT FACTORIES

THE JORDAN PIPES MANUFACTURING

ARAB PAPER CONVERTING & TRADING

UNIVERSAL MODERN INDUSTRIES

JORDAN INDUSTRIES & MATCH/JIHCO JORDAN SULPHO-CHEMICALS ARAB CENTER FOR PHARM. & CHEMICALS

RDAN INDUSTRIAL RESOURCES CO.

INDUSTRIAL SECTOR

ARAB ALCHINIUM INDUSTRY

LIVESTOCK & POULTRY

GRAND TOTAL

THE ARAB POTASE/NEW

ket moving higher during the first six months of calendar 1994, Nomura noted. But the market slumped thereafter.

Average daily transactions on the Tokyo Stock Exchange slumped from 350 bil-lion yen ($3.54 billion) for the six months ended Sept. 30, to 280 billion yen ($2.83 billion) in the four following months.

The weak stock market made conversions of bond issues into stock unattractive, leading to a fall in revenues from that business as well. Nomura said.

Investment trust business also suffered, also leading to a falloff in commission income, it said.

Despite slumping business, in 1993 Nomura chalked up a consolidated pretax profit of 67.8 billion yen ($685 million) on revenues of 658.3 billion yen ($6.65 billion) in ful note, with the stock marfiscal 1993.

21736

9000 150 500

9650

7279 20950

35G 500

75185

161803

A SECURE

Hotel

Sweiflyeh

Turino

SECURITY

HOSPITALITY

All Suites Hotel

FLAT .O. TEL

الاضحه الفندقيله المكيف

GASTRONOMY

Flat.O.TEL

121606

31500 265 1215

33500

11201 30131

130455

7427 4860 1193

1565D

21863 1751

AMMAN FINANCIAL MARKET BOSING BANK CENTER ABOUT SEMISANI TELEPRONE: 660170 / 661270 ORGANIZED MARKET SEARE PRICE LIST FOR MEDERSDAY 15/02/1995

Saudi Arabia prequalifies firms for phosphate project

bia's minerals department has prequalified 10 Saudi and foreign firms to bid for a $1.7 billion phosphate mining and fertiliser project, one of several mineral schemes it wants the private sector to invest in. Industry experts said the firms would bid for the project to mine 4.5 million tonnes of phosphates annually at the Al Jalamid deposit in northern Saudi Arabia.

"It is a long process and probably there will not be a decision by the ministry for months," said one expert in Saudi Arabia.

The ministry estimates the project would cost a total $1.74 billion — $741 million in set-up costs. $877 million for a fertiliser plant in the industrial city of Jubail and $147 million for mining—the experts said.

CLOSING PRICE

2.990 1.480 3.780 3.550 3.100

187.500 187.250

3.000

1.300

1.420

3.500 1.950 2.430

3.400

2.990 5.010 9.410 3.850 7.600 4.500 5.800 2.700 2.800 8.000 .950

6.700

2.070

150690 INDEX NUMBER: 124.11 CHANGE : 0.002

CEARGE

INDEX NUMBER: 159.70

INDEX NUMBER: 136.30

INDEX NUMBER: 132.07

2.950 4.840 3.410 2.310

9.400 3.850 7.600 4.500 5.800 2.680

2.810 8.000 .960

A feasibility study showed there was an estimated 21 million tonnes of phosphate reserves at Al Jalamid, they added.

Five local and five foreign firms have prequalified.

The experts named foreign prequalifiers as Japan's Marubeni Corporation, a joint venture between the Saudi Oger conglomerate and Turkey's Tekten and three German companies -Krupp Fordertechnik, Koch Transpottechnik GMBH and KHD Humboldt Wedag A.G., an affiliate of Koleckner Humboldt-Deutz A.G.

The phosphate plan is one of several to tap Saudi Arabia's mineral riches. Experts say Riyadh has recently shown greater interest in developing the sector as part of plans to diversify its oildependent economy.

The kingdom already mines gold. The experts said the ministry has also asked local and foreign investors to come forward for a project worth $550-$700 million to produce 2.2-4.0 million tonnes a year of iron ore pellets from de-posits in Wadi Sawawin.

ment of up to $55 million to evaluate bauxite reserves at Al Zabirah believed to exceeed 100 million tonnes. Major aluminium smelters in the Gulf region have so far had to import their bauxitebased raw materials from as far away as Australia. A U.S. firm, Arabian Shield Development Co. is setting up an S81 million joint mining venture to produce cooper, zinc, gold and silver, the first of its kind in the Production was expected to start by mid-1996 with a yearly output of 58,000 tonnes of zinc concentrates with 54 per cent zinc per tonne and 35,000 tonnes of copper concentrates with 25 per cent copper per tonne. It also expects production of 22,000 ounces of gold and 800,000 ounces of silver per year.

They said the private sector is expected to play a big role in the minerals sector and Saudi Arabia's new fiveyear development plan, due to be published this year, highlights the need to develop the kingdom's miner-

Kuwait investment firm buys property stake

KUWAIT (R) — A Kuwaiti investment company has bought a majority stake in a local property firm from the government under a privatisation programme, the stock exchange said.

Kuwait Investment Protects Company (KIPCO) bought 220 million shares or 52 per cent of United Real Estate Company's equity at 125 fils per share (1,000 fils equals one dinar, worth $3.3) at a public auction, a statement by the exchange said. KIPCO agreed to sell on to the public 120 million shares at a seven per cent discount, the exchange said. This would be done within 30 days of KIPCO signing relevant formalities with the Kuwait Investment Authority (KIA). the state's investment arm. Another company indicated an intention to compete for the stake at the auction but withdrew "at the last minute," the statement said The aim of the sale is to investment market. The shares sold represent 90 per cent of KIA's holding in the company.

United Real Estate made

net profit of 3.047 million real estate and direct investdinars ($10 million) in calen- ment in America, Europe dar 1993, a 580 per cent rise and Asia.

from profit of 448,000 dinars ($1.49 million) in 1992.

The company was one of several listed on the exchange in a difficult debt settlement programme launched in 1993 that offered generous forgiveness of up to 75 per cent to 9,546 corporate and individual debtors, brokers said. The terms enabled some borrowers to book as a profit bad loans provisions they no longer required.

In 1991 the government announced plans to sell its stake in 60 local firms to give the private sector a bigger role in the stagnant non-oil economy and refill Gulf wardepleted coffers. În a similar move in December the KIA sold 60 million of its shares in Al Ahli Bank, more than 10 per cent of the bank's total shares, to-Kuwaiti investors Al Ahli, hard hit by a stock exchange collapse in 1982, last year returned to profit without giving further details. after long being considered a prime candidate for a merger ith another local

KIPCO, in which the Kuwaiti government has a 17 per cent stake, owns 97 per cent of Bahrain-based United Gulf Bank. It also conducts

٠. .

1.1.2

MARKET JORDAN PLACE

Hamburgers + Pizzas

ELITE CAFE'

Sweifiyeh

816690

At Turino

INDEX NUMBER: 143.00 CHANGE : +0.027

lanv apartments and villas furnished and unfurnished. We also have many listings of villas, flats, and building lots FOR SALE Commercial and residential. For more details call: Abdoun Real Estate Tel. 810605/810609 810520 Fax: $10520

P.O.BOX: 960643 AMMAN 11196 JORDAN WE HAVE NO OTHER BRANCHES

(王)

(職餐是明)

Street Al-Arab Street
Um Utheinen Commercial Centre

Tel: 361174

Ence Yested Always Loved_

6:30 - 11:30 p.m. Tel.: 861838

FOR YOUR Advertisement in Jordan Times Call tel: 667171 ext. 223

One sterling

DOLLAR Your First Choice in Car Rental

> Shmeisani Tel: 693399

TEL::654205

Free enlarge ment 20 x 30 cm Shmeisani Opp. Grindlays Bank. Phone: 604042

Swefieh tcl: 823891

size 30% larger

• JUMBO photo

Hingis cashes in on Maleeva mistakes

Switzerland's 14-year-old tennis sensation Martina Hingis came safely through her latest test as a tour professional on Tuesday by beating the experienced Katerina Maleeva of Bulgaria in straight-sets in the first round of the $460,000 Paris Indoor Орел.

The Czech-born teenager produced a 6-4, 6-4 baseline victory over a player desperately searching to recover the form which once made her number six in the world rank-

There was nothing spectacular about Hingis' performance, and both players made some howling errors. But the young Swiss prodigy held on grimly when it mattered most and surged back from 0-2 to 5-2 in the second

Often Maleeva, currently ranked 30th, was her own worst enemy, losing concentration on vital points as she complained about crowd movement and flash photography.
But she was also victim of some controversial calls. The worst of these came at 4-4 in the first set when Maleeva, serving at 40-15, had a line call overruled by the umpire.

The furious Bulgarian, whose younger sister Magdalena was a surprise winner in Chicago last week, vented her frustration by screaming abuse at the official and later by slamming the ball at the backstop.

Hingis, who has risen to 68th in the rankings and who has already beaten such experienced players as Helena Sukova of the Czech Republic and American Meredith McGrath in her seven tournaments since turning profes-sional after her 14th birthday last September, now plays the winner of the all-French clash between last year's finalist Julie Halard and Sarah Pitkowski.

If she can come safely through that match she could well face returning top-seed Steffi Graf for a place in the semi-finals.

Graf, who has been out of action for three months with back and calf injuries and who is seeded to face Mary Pierce of France in Sunday's final, plays her first match against Elena Makarova of land of Latvia 6-1, 6-2. In the day's other matches Australian qualifier Rennae Stubbs notched up a surprise when she beat experienced Sandra Cecchini of Italy 6-3,

Russia. Makarova beat Larisa Nei-

Stubbs, who at 227th is the lowest-ranked player in the draw, now plays second seed

Miriam Oremans of the Netherlands defeated Wiltrud Probst of Germay 6-4, Karel Novacek

6-2 and home player Alexia Dechaume-Balleret reached the second round after just four games when her 27thranked opponent Leila Meshki pulled up in tears with an injury to her left heel.

Meshki had problems with the same injury at the Australian Open.

In the day's final matches last year's finalist Julie Halard recovered to beat off a spirited challenge from 19year-old French compatriot Sarah Pitkowski, and another home player Nathalie Tauziat saw off Meredith McGrath of the United States.

Halard was nearly caught unawares by the plucky aggression of her red-haired opponent but weathered the early storm to score a 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 victory.

"She fought really well and I was slow to adapt," said Halard, adding: "But I was playing very well by the end and I'm feeling good."

Looking forward to her match against Hingis, Halard shrugged: "Her age doesn't come into it. she is a good player and she has had some good results so I am expecting a difficult match."

Tauziat proved too steady

for McGrath and scored a 6-4. 6-4 win.

Seeds fall in Milan Indoor

In Milan Russian Yevgeny Kafelnikov easily defeated Czech Karel Novacek Tuesday in a first-round match at the $678,900 Muratti Time Indoor tennis tournament.

Kafelnikov, 20, the No. 5 seed, downed Novacek 6-4. 6-2 at Assago Forum to earn a second-round berth against Slovak Karol Kucera.

The Russian, who has climbed to 10th in the ATP rankings in his third year on the professional circuit, displayed a strong serve and precise backhand passing shots against the 29-year-old Novacek, ranked 28th in the Kafelnikov, a losing quarterfinalist against Andre Agassi in the Australian Open this year, dominated the match throughout but seemed to lack concentration at times, losing four games in which led 40-0.

In other first-round matches, two seeded players, Australian Jason Stoltenberg and Spaniard Alex Corretja, were ousted from the tourna-

Stoltenberg, seeded seventh, lost 6-2, 7-5 to Russian Alexander Volkov, who will face French veteran Guy Forget in the second round. The eight-seeded Corretja. playing his second tournament of the year, was knocked out by Frenchman Olivier Delaitre, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1. Sixth-seeded Petr Korda of the Czech Republic rallied to defeat Dutch qualifier Jan Hendrik Davids, 6-7 (3-7). 6-2, 6-3, Top-seeded Boris Becker, warming up for his first singles match, teamed with Forget in the doubles.

The French-German pair defeated the Spanish duo of Tomas Carbonell and Francisco Roig 6-1, 7-6 (9-7).

Becker, who faces Swiss qualifier Lorenzo Manta night, is shooting for his 44th career tournament win and his fifth title in nine years in Milan. Second-seeded Goran Iva-nisevic, crushed by Becker in the Germany-Croatia Davis Cup match earlier this month, also begins action against Czech Daniel Vacek. The Milan Indoor awards a top prize of $128,000.

one thought in mind. "I want to come back real-

Sanchez not Von Almsick, Popov win

by ranking

NEW YORK (R) — Arnatxa Sanchez Vicario declares that being the world's new number one player won't overwhelm her.

overwhelmed

"I'm not going to put any pressure on myself," Sanchez told Reuters backstage at Radio City Music Hall at an award show where she was named Women's Tennis Player of the Year. "I just want to play as well as I can and see what happens.'

Sanchez became the first Spaniard to be ranked number one when she replaced Stefffi Graf in the top spot earlier this month.

"I couldn't be happier and I will never forget Feb. 6 when it became official, Sanchez Viacrio said.

"It's a dream come real for me to become number one and all the sacrifice and hard work is playing off now," said the bubbly 24-year-old.

Sanchez knows that beginning with her return to the tour later this month at Indian Wells, she will be put to the test in every match to

"The hardest part is to stay there and you have to play consistent," she said. "I don't know how long I will be there but I will definitely keep working and fighting as much as I can. Hopefully I can continue for a long time."

Sanchez dismisses the suggestion that her rise to the top was due to the continued absence of Monica Seles and Graf's injury troubles.

Seles has not played since being stabbed on court in Hamburg, Germany, nearly two years ago. Graf was slowed by a back injury through the second half of 1994 and was sidelined by a leg injury that forced her to miss the Australian Open last

"It's not because they are not there," Sanchez said. "I worked really hard and nobody gave me anything for Sanchez Viacrio won eight singles titles last year, including her first U.S. Open crown and a second French Open match record.

After opening this season with a loss to Mary Pierce in the Australian Open final, Sanchez has been practising at home and in Florida with

ly strong so I can defend my. number one ranking."

SPORTS IN BRIEF

MALMO, Sweden (AP) — World champion Franziska Von Almsick easily won the 200metre freestyle event Tuesday, the first of two-day World Cup short course competition. The German star was clocked at 1 minute, 56.77 seconds, more than two seconds faster than second-placed Malin Nilsson of Sweden, who set a new national record of 1:58.88. Von Almsick placed third in the 50-metre freestyle, clocking 25.91 seconds. Sweden's 17year-old Johanna Sjoberg won the event on 25.46. Denmark's Britta Vestergaard won the 200-metre medley at 2:10.86, smashing her New baseball league picks one-year-old Nordic record of 2:11.23. In the men's events, Alexander Popov, Russia's Olympic and world champion, easily won the 100-metre freestyle on 48.41 ahead of Sweden's Fredrik Letzler and New Zealander Danvon Loader.

Atkinson moves to Coventry

LONDON (R) - Flamboyant former Manchester United and Aston Villa boss Ron Atkinson took over as manager of English Premier League side Coventry on Wednesday following the departure of Phil Neal 24 hours earlier. The experienced Atkinson, who also had a spell in charge of Atletico Madrid in 1988, will be plunged straight back into the battle to avoid relegation. He becomes the fifth manager in as many years at Coventry fifth from bottom of the Premier League three months after he was sacked by Aston Villa because his team failed to climb out of the relegation zone.

Chinese favour Romario

BEUING (R) — Chinese sports fans picked Brazilian soccer star Romario as their sportsman of 1994, Xinhua news agency reported Wednesday. A nationwide poll put Russian swimmer Alexander Popov and Chinese woman swimmer Le Jingyi, who both won gold medals at the World Championships in Rome last year, second and third. Athletes Noureddine Morceli of Algeria and American Jackie Joyner-Kersee were fifth and sixth respectively with world heavyweight boxing champion George Foreman sixth. The variety of sports and nationalities in the list reflects the enthusiasm in China for many sports, with soccer the most popular, and their extensive coverage by state television.

Branco to fight Woodhall

PERUGIA, Italy (AFP) - Silvio Branco of Italy will fight Britain's Richie Woodhall for the vacant European middleweight title on February 22 in Telford, England, his manager Silverio Gresta said here Tuesday. "He's a clever boxer but lacks a big punch," said Branco. "He won't go the distance." The Italians wanted a home fight but British promoter Mickey Duff offered a bigger purse.

'Mad Max' sues for slander

HOUSTON (AFP) - Vernon Maxwell, who slugged a heckler during a National Basketball Association (NBA) game last week, is now suing the man he punched for slander. Maxwell, a guard for reigning NBA champion Houston, filed a federal lawsuit claiming by "maliciously accusing him of a crime, namely assault." George's attorney, Dick
More Malaysian footballers held in Maizels, dubbed the suit an "interesting twist." "Mad Max" was suspended for 10 games without pay and fined $20,000 for racing into the 12th row and punching George in the jaw during a timeout at Portland, Oregon. Maxwell said George yelled racial and obscene insults about Maxwell's family. He also has appealed the punishment, which could cost him a total of $265,000, to NBA commissioner David Stern.

Johnson wins 110m hurdles

set a world best in the 110-metre hurdles start of a campaign late last year to rid the 13:34 seconds. The distance is not often run indoors where the world hurdles records are recognised at 50 metres or 60 metres. Olympic champion Mark McKoy, formerly of Canada now an Austrian citizen, was second 0:04 seconds behind Johnson. McKoy holds the world record at 50 metres. Russian walker Mikhail Shchennikov set a record in the 5-kilometre walk, circling a wooden track in 18.07.08 minutes. In the meet's biggest surprise, pole vaulter Sergei Bubka finished third, behind Radion Gataullin and Maxim

NEW YORK (AFP) — The United League the first rival to Major League Baseball since 1915, named its first six franchise cities here on Tuesday. The fledgling league will kick off next year in Los Angeles, New Orleans, San Juan, Puerto Rico, Vancouver, Canada and Washington. "We have had highly positive reactions in a great number of locations, and have made a decision at this time regarding these six," said former U.S. congressman Bob Mrazek, one of the leagues founders. "We now have one half of the franchises we need to put in place to have a viable league." Each club costs five million dollars, with additional start-up costs of $20 million expected per

Helder signs for Arsenal

LONDON (R) — Arsenal manager George Graham took his transfer spending to six million pounds ($9.3 million) in a month on Tuesday when he signed Dutch international winger Glenn Helder from Vitesse Arnhem. Graham is striving to salvage his team's disastrous domestic season, in which he is also under F.A. investigation over allegations he received a 285,000 pounds ($442,700) transfer 'kickback.' Last month Graham paid a total of four million pounds ($6.2 million) for strikers John Hartson and Chris Kiwomya from Luton and Ipswich respectively.

Blundell to drive for Gulf McLaren

LONDON (R) — British Formula One driver Mark Blundell is to join the Gulf McLaren sportscar team for this year's Le Mans 24 hours, the team said on Tuesday. Blundell, who won at Le Mans for Peugeot in 1992, will head the team's assault on the French Classic. He will partner Briton Ray Belim and Mauricio Sala of Brazil in one of six McLaren F1 GTR cars. Blundell is still looking for a drive in this year's Formula One World Championship after spending 1994 with Tyrrell.

Kamsky enters final

SANGHINAGAR, India (AP) - American grandmaster Gata Kamsky entered the finals of the World Chess Championships on Wednesday outplaying Valery Salov of Russia by an overwhelming 5.5.1.5 margin. Kamsky drew his seventh game with Russian grandmaster. He won five games against Salov who could beat him in only one game. One game ended in a draw. There are 10 games scheduled but the first player to earn 5.5 points wins. In the other semifinals, Anatoly Karpov Steve George and his brother slandered him of Russia is leading Boris Gelfand of Belarus

probe

KUALA LUMPUR (AFP) - Malaysian police arrested four more footballers on Wednesday in a continuing crackdown on soccer corruption to clean up the sport before the new national league season starts in April The four - Asbullah Mahamad, 24, B. Sathiaselvam, 32, Naina Mohamad, 31, and Shaari Said, 31 — were detained in the southwestern Negeri Sembilan state. The latest arrests bring the total number of foot-MOSCOW (AP) - American Allen Johnson ballers detained in Malaysia to 66 since the

Elwani puts Egypt on swimming map the 50 and 100 metres PARIS (R) - Five wins in three meetings have hoisted a teenager from Cairo above German golden girl Franziska Van Almsick to the top of the World Cup women's sprint freestyle rankings. Seventeen-year-old

Rania Elwani may not win the category when the World Cup short-course series ends next weekend but she has given Egypt the unaccustomed experience of gracing a victory rostrum in swimming. Elwani did not compete against Van Almsick in the course of the first five World Cup meetings, contesting three which the 16year-old world champion and multiple Olympic medallist missed. The last two events are in Malmo. Sweden, on Tuesday and Wednesday and Gelsenkirchen. Germany, on Saturday and Sunday. The field is significantly weakened by the absence of the Chinese, so dominant in women's events at last September's World Championships in Rome but now beset by doping scandals and missing the World Cup this year.

But Elwani has nonetheless prevailed against some quality opposition, completing winning doubles in freestyle in Paris and Sheffield, England, and preceding those feats with victory in the 50, second place in the 200 and third in the 100 in Espoo. Finland. Elwani, who failed to make even the B Final in the 50 metres freestyle at the World Championships. twice beat American Amy Van Dyken, the Rome bronze medallist at the distance, in the process.

It marks a notable advance for a swimmer from the African continent whose competitors have made scant impact on the international scene since South African Jonty Skinner broke the men's 100 metres freestyle world record back in 1976.

Elwani, who performed promisingly in the World Cup last year, is not surprised by her progress. "Last year I managed to make it to the podium a couple of times. I was bound to win a couple of races this winter." she said. She owes her success in great part to her father, a doctor who decided to dedicate much of his time and money to help Rania's swimming career. "Now that she has reached the international level will do my utmost to lift her to the very best she can achieve." Amr Elwani Coached by two Egyptian trainers in the winter, the swimmer has trained in San Antonio. Texas, for the past two summers. To boost her chances, she has been picked by the International Olympic Committee (IOC) along with five other Egyptian athletes for a grant to help her prepare for Atlanta. "In Egypt most swim-ming clubs belong to the police. It is very difficult for swimmers to try their luck abroad. Ranja has the opportunity to travel be-cause I'm looking after her," father Amr said.

An affable man who says sport is above all "the best way to meet people," he is always at the poolside to monitor his daughter's performance with his video camera.

After Rania won the 100 metres freestyle in Paris last week, he gave out saucers decorated with hieroglyphs to race officials and iournalists - "an Egyptian tradition." he said.

Rania said she had had never had any problems since she first competed at the African Games at the tennis coach Tim Gullikson is to undergo brain surgery to remove a rare kind of tumor. but he should be back on the tennis circuit soon, his doctors said here. Ill health forced Gullikson, 43, to return early to Chicago, his home town, from the Australian Open in January. Initial hospital tests revealed a congenital heart malfunction but in a statement, neurologist James Au-sman said: "After undergoing a series of tests, Tim Gullikson was found to have

ment. Tim is at home, is doing well and is expected to return to coaching tennis in the near future. Doctors said he would coaching his star pupil, Pete Sampras, the U.S. world number one. Ausman said Gulli'son would need a brain operation

Medical sources said hun-

least five years.

Tate said the decision to announce the diagnosis was taken by Gullikson's family, partly to protect Sampras. who is playing a tournament in Memphis this week. The player was deeply disturbed by Gullikson's health problems in Australia, breaking down in tears during his quarter-final against compatnot Jim Courier.

late Tuesday during their European light- (AFP photo) weight match in the Paris suburban town of

before a practice session (AFP photo)

Brazil summons World Cup stars

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) - Brazil summoned Romario. Bebeto and seven other World Cup champions for an exhibition game against Slovakia next week. National team coach Mario Zagalo announced on Tuesday the 22 players for the game Feb. 22 in Fortaleza, on Brazil's northeastern coast. For the first time since last year's cup, Brazilians could see high-scoring forwards Bebeto and Romario together again. Romario is a near certainty, but Bebeto depends on an Ok from his Deportivo La Coruna club of Spain.

Marcio Santos, Aldair, Branco. Ricardo Rocha, Dunga Absent from the roster are World Cup starters Zinho and Jorginho, who transferred to Japan, and injured

Also returning from the World Cup squad are Taffarel.

midfielder Mauro Silva of Deportivo La Coruna. Zagalo also did not call players from Gremio or national champion Palmeiras, which play the same day in the Liberators of America Cup. Among the all-stars on those teams are Danrlei, Edmundo, Rivaldo and Roberto

GOREN BRIDGE

WITH OMAR SHARE & TANNAH HIRSCH Neither vulnerable. South deals EAST • K J 8 4 □ Q 8 6 4A73 + 10 8 2

SOUTH

Carlos.

• 10 6 2 ↑ A K 5 4 • J 6 • A E € 3 North 1 0 3 7 Opening lead: Ace of •
When we were learning by were taught all those old like "Second hand low." "Don't fi-nesse against partner," "Never give a ruff-sluff." as if they were immuta-ble laws of life, engraved in stone. As we progressed, we discovered the only time to use "never" is to advise people a namet using it; or, for that

и .... (wo sum штагоррей, South could not open one no trump with a balanced 17 points. Since the North hand revalued to 11 points in sup-port of hearts, North made an invi-tational jump to three hearts which South was happy to accept. West led the ace of spades and, in response to partner's signal with the eight, continued the suit. The de-fenders quickly completed their book in the suit and then East, seiz-ing the opportunity to "lead up to weakness," shifted to a club because to continue spades would present declarer with a milf-shalf.

Declarer won in hand, inessed the queen of diamonds successfully, then ran the jack of hearts. When that won and trumps broke 3-2, making the rest of the tricks was simple.

Had East relied on logic rather than slogans, the defenders might have prevailed. At the very least declarer had to bold the see and king in both hearts and clubs. If the king of diamonds was missing, the card was finessable, so there were no more tricks available in the plain Under those circumstances.

Under those circumstances, con-ceding a ruff-sluff could only help the defense, not burt. Had East con-tinued with the 13th space, West's nine of trumps would have forced an honor from dummy and East would have been assured of the setting trick in trumps by signify covering trick in trumps by simply covering any card led from the table.

Tuesday at the Russian winter track and field local sport of rampant match-fixing. Two championships, winning with a clocking of former coaches have also been arrested. Sampras' coach has rare brain tumor

CHICAGO (AFP) — U.S. a small brain tumor known as oligodendroglioma. This type of tumor responds very well to treat-

soon be fit to resume

and possibly radiotherapy and chemotherapy.

detected each year in the United States and one in three sufferers survives at

Hospital spokesman Ed

ear they beat us fair inew team. Anfernee Tonight we allust we can play a lot from French Jean-Baptiste Mendy, to hit back outpointing his challenger over 12 round

Pacers slow d LANDO(R) — The Ingi-Pacers slowed down but they couldn't stop in Houst used a l&d

lim Pacers #0 forward. Perrick McK

hando Magic #32 center. Shopuille O'Ne mado, led by Dennis to score a is its points and Horace over the L 17 points and 16 reos mapped a five-game Hakcen. streak against Indiana 26 points ar on Tuesday, returning one of three the All-Star break to tie career nigh at for the NBA's best Houston. Besides 7

was without

apolle O'Neal was held 250n-low |5 points, but Robert Horn a sy in a 15-0 thirdnon Maxw her burst that gave piaced on th to the lead for good. a score back A Smits scored 20 points Reggie Miller 10 as the serving a 10for assaultin dropped their third Drexler ar also acquire Pacers had beaten were attend:

lour outings

gop Hill

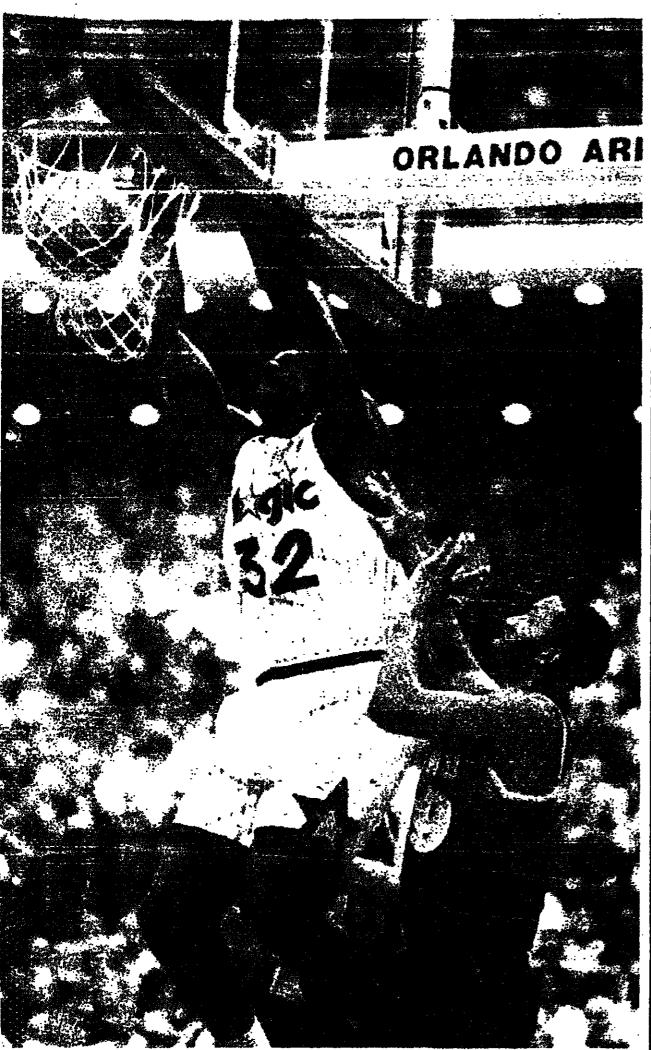

in their last two did not suit esson meetings and in Dallas. the Magic in a three-firs-round playoff last scored 27 pc Maveneks p 90 for just the 14 games. Rod Stric points for I had a three-snapped. Portiand's u<sup>made such</sup> a conmissed a pote thon to stop Shaquille -pointer wi mside. it's going to ome things open on At Detroit said Órlando up a 27-poir New York K

trade earlier in the half, then hel Ming veteran guard for a 106-9 Drevier to Houston Knicks narro wel forward Otis nine late in th <sup>Λ</sup> Portland left both but got no c lermanned for the The Rockets coped Grant Hill live shots at had 25 poin

Tel.: 534 PHILADELPHIA Yusra, Mahmoud Hamedie

The Immigrant Shows: 12:30, 3:00, 6:30, 8:30, 10:30

Indiana Pacers #9 forward, Derrick McKey, looks on as Ortando Magic #32 center, Shaquille O'Neal, slam dunks a basket late in the first period of the game at the Arena in Orlando. FL, 14 February (AFP photo)

Pacers slow down Shaq but lose anyway

ına Pacers slowed down shaq, but they couldn't stop

he Magic. Orlando, led by Dennis scott's 18 points and Horace Grant's 17 points and 16 reoounds, snapped a five-game osing streak against Indiana 111-92 on Tuesday, returning from the All-Star break to tie Phoenix for the NBA's best record (38-10). Shaquille O'Neal was held io a season-low 15 points, but scored six in a 15-0 thirdquarter burst that gave Orlando the lead for good. Rik Smits scored 20 points and Reggie Miller 19 as the Pacers dropped their third

gan. I in four outings.
The Pacers had beaten Orlando in their last two egular-season meetings and swept the Magic in a threezame first-round playoff last

"Last year they beat us fair and square, but this year we lave a new team." Anfernee Hardaway said. Tonight we howed that we can play a lot better. "They made such a concious effort to stop Shaquille town inside, it's going to eave some things open on he perimeter." said Orlando bach Bob Hill. A big trade earlier in the lay sending veteran guard lyde Drexier to Houston d power forward Otis corpe to Portland left both sams undermanned for the

tht. The Rockets coped

汽

D

D

and the Trail Blazers didn't. In Houston, the Rockets used a 18-0 first-quarter run to score a 124-104 victory over the Los Angeles Clip-

Hakeem Olajuwon scored 26 points and Scott Brooks, one of three rockets to record career highs, added 23 for Houston.

Besides Thorpe, Houston was without starting forward Robert Horry and guard Ver-non Maxwell. Horry was placed on the injured list with a score back while Maxwell is serving a 10-game suspension for assaulting a fan.

Drexler and Tracy Murray. also acquired in the deal. were attended the game but did not suit up. In Dallas, Jamai Mashburn scored 27 points to lead the Mavericks past Portland 95-90 for just their third win in

Rod Strickland scored 25 points for Portland, which had a three-game win streak snapped.

Portland's James Robinson missed a potential game-tying -pointer with four seconds

At Detroit, the Pistons ran up a 27-point lead over the New York Knicks in the first half, then held off a late rally for a 106-94 victory. The Knicks narrowed the lead to nine late in the fourth quarter but got no closer. Grant Hill hit 11 consecutive shots at one point and had 25 points for Detroit.

Tel.: 634144

which snapped a six-game losing streak against New York and has won six of its last nine games.

Patrick Ewing missed his first eight shots but recorded his 16th straight doubledouble (24 points, 15 rebounds) as New York lost for the third time in four games. In San Antonio, David Robinson scored 29 points as the Spurs beat the reeling Utah Jazz 112-96. Sean Elliott scored 20 points and Avery Johnson had 19 points and 10 assists for the Spurs, who have won nine of 10 games and pulled within 2½ games of first-place Utah in the midwest.

Utah has lost four of its last In Seattle, Gary Payton and Detlef Schrempf hit back-to-back 3-pointers to snap a tie as the supersonics beat the Golden State Warriors 118-108 and spoiled the debut of interim coach Bob Lanier, who replaced Don Nelson. Payton scored 26 points and Shawn Kemp and Schrempf each added 21 for the Sonics, who have won six of their last seven.

The Warriors lost for the seventh time in nine games. In Miami, the Heat defeated the Milwaukee Bucks 112-99 to make Alvin Gentry a winner in his first game as interim head coach in place of Kevin Loughery, fired earlier in the day.

Billy Owens scored 20

Tel.: 699238

At New Jersey, Armon Gilliam, starting in place of the injured Derrick Coleman, scored 26 points and Kenny Anderson, back after missing six games with an inflamed left forearm, added 18 as the Nets beat the Charlotte Hornets 109-98.

In Denver, the Atlanta Hawks rode a 27-10 firstquarter run to their third straight win, 99-88 over the Nuggets, who have lost three Steve Smith scored 30 points for Atlanta, which won for the fifth time in its last seven games.

At Minnesota, Calbert Cheaney scored 26 points as the Washington Bullets snapped a six-game losing streak with a 99-96 victory over the Timberwolves.

Minnesota lost for the seventh time in eight games. In Sacramento, the Kings held off the Boston Celtics,

RESULTS New Jersey 109, Charlotte 98 Orlando 111, Indiana 92 Miami 112, Milwaukee 99 Detroit 106, New York 94 Washington 99, Minnesota 96 San Antonio 112, Utah 96 Dallas 95, Portland 90 Houston 124, L.A. Clippers

Atlanta 99, Denver 88 Seattle 118, Golden State 108 Sacramento 108, Boston 101

Foreman says will give Tyson a chance to fight

George Foreman vs. Mike Tyson. Big George likes the sound of it, as long as...

- Tyson gets out of jail as scheduled on March 25. Foreman beats Axel Schulz on April 22 in the first defence of his heavyweight And Don King stays out of

"I can't put up with Don King in my life," Foreman said. "I've got too many kids already.

The 46-year-old Foreman was in New York on Tuesday to officially announce his first title defence since 1974. He will fight the 26-year-old Schulz, a former East German amateur champion, at the MGM Grand Garden in Las Vegas.

"I heard Tyson was getting out of the jailbouse pretty quick, and he said if he gets out today, he'll whip George tomorrow," Foreman said. "I'd like to give him that opportunity.

"If he doesn't sign up with Don King again, it will hap-pen before the end of the year. If I beat Azel Schultz, if Tyson gets out and if he gets away from Don King, it can happen. It would be the createst show since P.T. and Barnum got together for their thing. But I've got to beat Axel Schulz first."

Foreman recaptured the title, becoming the oldest world beavyweight champion, last Nov. 5 with a 10thround knockout of Michael Moorer, who held the WBA and IBF belts. When Tyson won the world title from Trevor Berbick in 1986 at age 20, he was the youngest world man (left) poses with Axel Schultz (right) from Saarow, Germany, after a news conference in New York Tuesday

become heavyweight champion fights me, the oldest guy, then I can prove this wasn't a fluke," Foreman said. "But if I look past Axel won't get that chance. "You see, Moorer believed everything he heard. George was old, and that's true. George was fat, and that's true. George was slow, and that's true. George can't punch, and that was a lie." Foreman said. "If you can still punch, you can still

Schulz the way Michael Moorer looked past me, I

Foreman brings a record of 73-4 with 68 knockouts into the fight, while Schuk is 21-1-1 with 10 knockouts. In his last fight, Schulz won a 10round decision over James Bonecrusher" Smith in Germany on Sept. 17.

This will be Schulz's third fight in the United States. He scored a 10-round decision over Kimmuel Odum in Atlantic City, N.J. in 1993 and won a 10-rebound decision over Jack Basting in Chicago last June 18. The rest of his fights have been in

"I think youth nd endurance will speak for me in the fight," Schulz said. "He is, of course, a legend, but that's an incentive more than anything else. I am not in awe of him in the least."

To televise the fight, HBO paid an estimated $9 million rights fee, the highest in network history. It's small change compared with what Foreman-Tyson could gener-

Bob Arum, who is promoting the Foreman-Schulz fight.

will be held April 22, at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas (AFP photo) said a Tyson bout could generate as much as $250 million gross with $100 million left to split among the contestants and the promo-"We have offered Mike Tyson the fight for a record amount, and he's very in-terested," Arum said. "The biggest fight out there for. Mike Tyson is George Foreman. Tyson-Bowe is all right, but it's not momentous. If Tyson figures he can beat George Foreman, his time is now because the other guys are young and will still be Foreman's first title defence fight. The fight

Foreman says he intends to fight to the end of the year. then call it quits.

"Of course, if Mike Tyson wants to fight, I'll give him a chance to get his act together," Foreman said.

Car racers stretch rules to squeeze a bit more speed

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) - With a timid smile and a nervous shuffle, former Winston Cup crew chief Gary Nelson all but admits he wasn't above stretching the rules to squeeze a little more speed out of his cars.

of catching the rule-breakers for Nascar had not seen anything like this.

But the man now in charge Randy Lajoie's car had just finished a practice session last asked the crew to tighten it, but became suspicious when their efforts failed. A closer look revealed the reason: The car was equipped with a hydraulic pump enabling the driver to lower the rear spoiler below the legal limit, reducing wind resist-ance to allow far greater speed.

It was an ingenious device, with a switch on the dashboard, the pump fastened week when inspectors next to the clutch and two lines running the length of the vehicle to the trunk lid.

FURNISHED SEMI VILLA FOR RENT

Super deluxe, newly built villa, (not used) consisting of 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, 3 spacious salons. With internal and external decorations, separate entrance, telephone and central heating, surrounded by a garden. Has

Location: Opposite the entrance to the Jordan University Hospital behind Badan female dormitory. Call tel: 840767 Samir Jarrar

S. International Community School

(The British Curriculum School in Amman) Are you reflective, caring, highly motivated and British qualified — preferably with working knowledge of the National Curriculum?

The ICS is looking for a Key Stage One Primary teacher and a P.E. Specialist (possibly a part-time post or to be combined with another curriculum strength) for September 1995.

Interested? Contact the School Office for an application form, and to arrange a visit, by Wednesday, 22nd February.

Tel.: 841070 Fax: 847109

son received a record $45,000 They had an electric motor that was driving the hydraulic pump to provide 2,000 pounds of hydraulic pressure to raise and lower the trunk lid," said Nelson. Nascar's Winston Cup director, still marveling at the sophisticated. Lajoie was fined $10,000, and car owner Bill Davis $25,000. But that was only the beginning of Nelson's work in what has been a rash of roguery prior to the season's first - and most prestigious — event, Sunday's rule-breaking contraption.

"I've never seen one that

Daytona 500. In quick order over the past week: - Car owner junior Johnfine, and Brett Bodine wasn't allowed to take part in the first round of qualifying after inspectors found that a part of the intake manifold wasn't welded to the engine as required. It allowed more air to flow through the engine, increasing horsepower. Joe Nemechek was fined $5,000 for cutting illegal ridges in a filter to enhance air flow - another attempt to increase horsepower. - Crew chief Jeff Hammond, was fined $5,000 after driver Greg Sacks crashed in the busch clash. Inspectors found 18 pounds of loose weight stashed in the cockpit in an attempt to improve the car's handling.

APARTMENT FOR RENT

Nicely furnished, three-bedroom apt., two baths, living room, family room, kitchen, two verandas, parking spot, T.V., video player, telephone, washing machine, independent heating & electricity. Located between 4th & 5th Circles. Must see to appreciate.

if interested, please call 674286 - owner

PHILADELPHIA Yusra. Mahmoud Hamedieh

The immigrant Shows: 12:30, 3:00, 6:30, 8:30, 10:30

PLAZA Mahmoud Hamida — Madiha Kamel - Hassan Al Asmar

(Arabic)

Shows: 12:30, 2:30, 8:30, 10:30

Satan's Gate

Tel.: 677420 CONCORD CONCORD '1' SPECIALIST

Shows: 12:30, 8:15

SPEED CONCORD '2' ROBOCOP "3"

Tel.: 618274 - 618275 AMMOUN THEATRE

HI CITIZEN Composed and directed by Mohammad Al Shawaqfeh Daily from 8:30 p.m. Children's Flay

Sum'A in the satincal play

The Ninja Turties Show Directed by Akram Abul Ragheb Daily at 10:30 p.m.

Tel.: 675571 Presents Abu Awwad in the social comedy

Punctured Bag

The theatre is closed on Mondays Tickets are available all day

Nabil & Hisham's Tel.: 625155 AHLAN THEATRE Presents: The political satire: AL SALAM YA SALAM at 8:30 p.m.

For reservation, please call 625155 The theatre is closed on Saturdays & Sundays

THE HAGUE (AP) — The World Court on Wednesday agreed to intervene in an offshore territorial dispute between Qatar and Bahrain that has verged on armed hostilities and heightened political divisions in the Gulf.

PAR

tenni:

Hingis

ḥer la

fession

ing the

straigh of the Open.

produ-

victor

ately s րսախ

ings. The tacula

made

But th

held o

tered

from C

rankec

worst

compl

The

4-4 in

Malee,

had a whose dalena

in Chic

her fra

abuse :

by slar

backste

68th in

has alı

perienc

Sukova

lic and

McGra

ments

sional

iast St

the win

clash

Sarah

If s

through

well fa

Steffi (

semi-fi

back a

Pierce

Stubbs

when :

Sandra

2-6, 6-

lowest-

draw.

Магу

Nether

trud Pi

Bebei

exhib

Tuesc

on Bi

see h

again.

Als

Marci

and ( midfie

chami

Libera

teams

Carlo

Neith

Zaş

For

Nat

Mini

Stub

Graf

finalis

Hing

set.

.form

By a vote of 10-5, the court affirmed its authority to settle the long-running dispute, despite Bahrain's refusal to acknowledge its jurisdiction.

Bahrain backed up its rejectionist stance by boycotting the session of the World Court, formally known as the International Court of Jus-

The court also decided, by a vote of 10-5, that Qatar's application for a ruling in the dispute was admissible.

"The conflict between Qatar and Bahrain will now be solved through peaceful means," said Najeeb Al Nauimi, Qatar's legal advi-"According to the laws of the court we have won." By persisting with the court case. Qatar has continued its independent political stance within the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), a stance which risks giving offence to GCC heavyweight Saudi Saudi King Fahd has proposed that all border disputes in the GCC be settled by mediation within the group this year. Those include a border dispute between Qatar and the Saudi king-

As to whether Bahrain ultimately takes part in the proceedings, Mr. Nauimi said. "If it happens, that will be fine. But their absence will not obstruct the path of judgement.

Even if Bahrain continues its boycott, the court will consider the Gulf state subject to its verdict, and will notify it of all sessions and deadlines for submission of arguments.

But the 15-judge court has no enforcement powers and depends on voluntary compliance with its rulings. Its high-profile verdicts carry considerable moral weight in the international commun-

Now that the jurisdiction question is settled, it's likely to be many months, if not years, before a ruling is

President Saddam Hussein

has taken personal charge of the defence against Shiite rebels in Iraq's southern marshes to repulse a fierce attack

on the army, rebel sources

Hamid Al Bayati, a spokesman for the Supreme

Council for the Islamic Revolution in Iraq (SCIRI), also said the weekend fighting

stretched into skirmishes

Tuesday near Iran and in opposite marshes around the towns of Souk Al Shuyukh

Travellers reported the regime ordered a stepped up

effort to drain the Howeiza marshes to deny sanctuary to the Shiite rebels, Mr. Bayati

said in a telephone interview

fighting Saturday and Sunday

was the fiercest since the aftermath of the 1991 Gulf

Agency, monitored in Cyprus, on Monday acknowledged "a large-scale attack"

and accused neighbouring

Iran of backing the offensive.

It said its forces repulsed the attack Sunday. inflicting

Opposition sources in Tehran and Damascus conceded hundreds of their forces were killed in a counter offensive by the elite Republican Guard and the

bels killed or wounded about 300 soldiers and 25 officers and took 350 prisoners, who were later released. The rebels also claimed 20 Iraqi army vehicles were des-

condition of anonymity, said

President Saddam went to the marsh area over the weekend to supervise the defence. An Iraqi diplomatic source, also demanding anonymity, confirmed President Saddam's role in the Reports from Al Bayati's

group and the Iran National Congress, an university of groups opposed to the Iraqi regime, said rebels were trying to seize the strategic town of Qurna on the main

The sources, who spoke on

However, they said the re-army's Fourth Corps.

The official Iraqi News

By rebel accounts, the said Wednesday.

and Al Chibayish.

from London.

heavy losses.

troyed.

fighting.

The proceedings will include both written and oral arguments at the court housed in the turn-of-thecentury Peace Palace, which was built with money donated by Scottish-American industrialist Andrew Carne-

Qatar took the dispute un-ilaterally to the World Court in 1991, claiming an agreement with Bahrain to submit the dispute to the court if Saudi mediation failed. But Bahrain has consistently claimed that the memorandum of agreement specified joint submission of the dispute to the court, and not unilateral action by either

The court, on the other hand, ruled Wednesday that the agreement between the two states did allow for a unilateral application to the U.N. judicial body.

"Both parties are bound by the procedural consequences," said the court in its

In announcing the boycott of Wednesday's session, the Bahrain Foreign Ministry again urged Qatar to negotiate the dispute bilaterally or submit it to the Gulf Cooperation Council.

"I'm disappointed by their absence," said Qatar's legal adviser. "How did they know they were going to lose?" Led by Saudi Arabia, the GCC also includes Kuwait, Qatar, Oman and the United Arab Emirates.

Qatar's foreign minister, Sheikh Hamad Ben Jassem Al Thani, was quoted Monday as saying that Qatar will withdraw the case from the World Court if Saudi Arabian mediation comes up with "a solution satisfactory to the two sides."

The dispute over a strip of islands, reefs, offshore boundaries and coastal fishing rights flared in 1986 when Qatari military forces seized 29 employees of a Dutch construction firm building a Bahraini coast guard station on the Fasht Al Dibal reef.

They were released unharmed after 17 days. Also contested is the northern Qatari town of Zubarah where ancestors of

The Iraqi News Agency

report said that the attackers

were backed by Iran and accused Kuwait and the United States of aiding the re-

The operation could be part of a new strategy by

SCIRI to topple President

Saddam through intensifying

military attacks in a bid to lure the army to their side.

qir Al Hakim, visited London

last month to persuade other opposition groups to join the effort. He also went to Kuwait to seek financial

The group is believed to have some 8,000-9,000 armed men under their control in Iran, some of whom might have participated in the

But Mr. Bayati denied the attackers were coming from Iran, saying those who took part were opposition fighters

nouncing 'Tehran's mini-satans," on Wednesday accused Iran of instigating the fighting in southern marshes.

Tuesday night showed the scene of the fighting and interviewed prisoners taken by Iraqi troops during the clashes on Saturday and Sun-

"The Iranian snake goes back to its old habit of biting

when darkness falls," said an editorial in the influential newspaper Babel, owned by President Saddam's eldest

The daily described the clashes as "acts of folly by Babel accused Iran of seeking to prolong U.N. sanctions, imposed on Iraq for its 1990 invasion of Kuwait, by

The ruling Baath Party newspaper Al Thawra accused Iran in a signed commentary of "plotting against

Iraq and flagrantly meddling

The AL Iraq daily warned

Iran that "the destiny of the hand that dares to harm the great Iraq will be amputagr de de affairs.'

fabricating false stories.

Tehran's mini-satans.

son Uday.

State-owned television on Iraqi newspapers, de-operating inside Iraq.

offensive.

backing from its rulers.

Its leader, Mohammad Ba-

Bahrain's ruling family are ID 35 million Saddam said to direct fighting in marshlands CAIRO (Agencies) - Iraqi highway linking Baghdad to the southern port city of Bas-

> According to the source. Mr. Shoman has not yet re-

TUNIS (R) — Gunmen shot dead the president of a woman's association in

Algeria on Wednesday outside her home in the Berber

town of Tizi Ouzou, her friends said, spreading a growing climate of fear as the

In the capital Algiers.

scores of friends, actors and admirers of the murdered

national theatre director

Azzedine Medjoubi filed

silently past his coffin as it rested on the stage of his theatre in Port Said Square.

taken the job only last month, was shot dead early on Monday afternoon outside the building by two men.

suspected Muslim fun-

The cream-painted, col-

damentalists.

Medjoubi. 48. who had

toll of killings climbed.

Neither Mr. Shoman nor

The Arab Bank had filed

the three lawvers were available for immediate comment.

four cases against the Shahin group, which reportedly has very close personal ties with the chairman and his family.

The cases were withdrawn

and an out of court settlement was announced in De-

The cases were filed after the bank's legal team, headed by Mr. Bakr, had determined that there was transgressions

concerning the Shahin investment group, banking sources said. The lawyers, under instructions from the deputy chairman of the bank, Mr.

Khalid Shoman, filed the lawsuits against the Shahin

Abdul Majeed Shoman

When Mr. Shoman returned, he instructed his lawyers to try to reach an out of court settlement with the group. They submitted a proposal, which was rejected

by Mr. Shoman and the chairman asked another

lawyer in the legal depart-

The three lawyers, citing

ment to draft another propos-differences of views, resigned. The bank accepted the

According to banking

sources, the "compromise deal" involved giving the Shahin group 15 years with a two-year grace period to pay its estimated JD 35 million

due with an unprecedented

five per cent interest rate.

The parties involved in the settlement would not confirm onnaded theatre, facing across the bustling square

overlooking the Mediterranean, lies at the foot of the Muslim fundamentalist stron-

Medjoubi's wife Amina.

wearing a white scarf, stood with his immediate family by the coffin as mourners filed past the stage to pay last

friends gave him a last round of applause, trying to stifle

Ouzou of Nabila Djahnine,

an architect in her 30s who headed the Berber feminist group Thighri n'Imetouth

(the cry of women) was the latest in the grim toll promised by armed fundamentalist

their tears, witnesses said.

Medioubi's theatrical

Wednesday's killing in Tizi respects, witnesses said.

ghold, the Casbah.

these details.

Algerian feminist killed

by gunmen, friends say resignations immediately.

was out of the country at the

KING HOSTS IFTAR: His Majesty King Hus- Marwan Al Qasem, Chief Chamberlain Prince sein Wednesday hosted an iftar in honour of Ra'd Ben Zeid, the King's advisor Mohammad tribal leaders and representatives of public Rasoul Al Kilani, the King's advisor on tribal and private institutions in Maan Governorate. affairs Sharif Fawwaz Al Zaben and Royal The banquet was attended by His Royal Court Imam Ahmad Helayel. The King and Highness Crown Prince Hassan, Prime Ministhe guests performed Al Maghreb prayers ter Sharif Zeid Ben Shaker, Royal Court Chief together (Petra photo)

Ex-legal team sues Arab Bank chairman detain

By Ghadeer Taher Special to the Jordan Times AMMAN — Three prominent lawyers, who last month resigned from the Arab Bank in protest over the handling of a lawsuit against one of the bank's clients, are suing the chairman of the bank for libel, sources close to the case said Wednesday.

Court sources said that lawyers Ibrahim Bakr, Faris Nabulsi and Tarek Nabil filed their case in the Amman court of first instance last week against Arab Bank Chairman Abdul Majeed Shoman, who, they claim, had questioned their competence in public statements made to the press, causing damage to their credibility.

According to court sources, the suit does not specify the amount of the claim. It is left to be determined by the court.

The long-time employees of the Arab Bank quit in December over differences with Mr. Shoman over the handling of the case involving the Arab Bank and the Shahin investment group, one of the biggest holding companies in Jordan.

They objected to what was seen as the unprecedented softline approach by the management over the dispute with the group involving over,

According to the sources, the lawyers sent notice to Mr. Shoman informing him of the lawsuit. In the notice, they also asked Mr. Shoman to make statements to the local press removing doubt of the lawyers' credibility and com-

PNA police human rights lawyer

Palestinian police on Wednesday detained for 16 hours the leading human rights lawyer in the Gaza Strip who has repeatedly criticised the Palestine National Authority (PNA) of Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) Chairman Yasser Arafat.

"I have not been given an explanation," said Raji Surani. 42-year-old director of the Gaza Centre for Rights and

He was freed after a 90minute interview by Attorney General Khaled Al Kidra. "He was sent home after clarification" on a statement by the centre criticising Mr. Arafat's decision last week to set up a state security court, Mr. Kidra said. "He was not arrested in the first place," he claimed. The centre's statement, which called for the court to be scrapped, was considered "provocation," he said. "It was made clear that he (Surani) did not mean anything by it, and it's over now. We do not interfere in freedom of expression, unless we suspect there is a violation of the law," Mr. Kidra said.

Mr. Surani gave a different version. "There was no investigation. I made it clear that the communique was objective and part of our routine work on human rights. "There was nothing to talk about, the communique was referred to but in my opinion there was no subject, and then they told me the issue was closed." Mr. Surani's wife Amal told how plainclothes police took him from their Gaza City home after midnight. "They just said he had to go and that it was urgent orders from high up." she said. After he was hauled off, scrap the military security court, against which there will be no appeal, and told the authority to stop making arrests without due process. "The arrest of a prominent human rights lawyer confirms

the centre repeated its call to the dangerous state which the protection of human rights has now reached in the Palestinian autonomous areas," said the centre, It was set up in 1985 by four lawyers to monitor abuses of human rights by the Israeli occupation forces, but began monitoring the Palestinian self-rule authority after it took charge last May.

Kabul government, Talibans hold talks KABUL (Agencies) - The It was not yet clear

nominal government and the rapidly advancing Taliban militia held tense negotiations Wednesday in a bid to avert fresh fighting in the Afghan capital.

A United Nations peace plan calls for the formation of a multi-party governing coun-cil this weekend, but the proposal could be undermined if the two sides launch a new round of combat.

The Talibans, a recently formed Islamic faction made up of fundamentalist religious students, told President Burhanuddin Rabbani's forces to pull back Wednesday to the southern edge of Kabul.

The government forces appeared to concede some ground Wednesday evening, though they still controlled the city's southern border. No major fighting was reported. The Talibans scored a ma-

Islami, the main opposition group, from its base in Charasyab, 25 kilometres south of the city (see page 2).

As the Taliban took over the base, government troops advanced south towards jor victory Tuesday when they dislodged Hezb-e-

Charasvab, and the two sides were only a short distance apart in some areas. General Najib, a govern-ment military spokesman who used only one name.

said there were negotiations with the Taliban through much of the day Wednesday, but he declined to divulge details. Unknown until recently, the Talibans have put together a dramatic string of victories in recent weeks and now are considered the main opposition force in the multisided civil war. They have blamed the other 10 factions for the des-truction of Kabul and say the groups are corrupt and power-hungry. The Taliban have not made alliances with any of the other factions and say they want to impose strict sharia (Islamic Law). The other factions say they have the same goal.

whether the Talibans were interested in making a deal with President Rabbani's forces, or if they will try to attack the city.

Mahmoud Mestiri, the head of the United Nations special mission to Afghanistan said he plans to travel from neighbouring Pakistan to Kabul on Saturday to help implement the U.N. peace olan.

It calls for Mr. Rabbani to resign, making way for a multi-party governing council. A ceasefire also is to take effect.

The Talibans, while expressing interest in the U.N. plan, have not yet agreed to participate. Afghanistan's Islamic factions have been battling each other since ousting a communist government in 1992. Pakistan's interior minister Nascerullah Babar on Wednesday denied claims that his country had provided aid to the Talibans.

In a statement, quoted by the official Associated Press of Pakistan, Mr. Babar underlined Pakistan's neutrality in the tussle between the various warring Afghan factions, led by the Hezb-e-Islami and the forces loyal to President Rabbani.

'Pakistan has remained neutral in the internal strife of Afghanistan and will remain so in future," he said in

He said that whatever government finally emerged in Kabul, it would be "pro-Pakistan" as Afghanistan was dependent on Pakistan for food and other supplies as well as transit trade with other states.

The Talibans were originally religious students in Pakistan, which still shelters more than 1.5 million Afghan refugees.

Their strength has dramataically increased to an estimated 25,000 over the past six months while public support for them has increased in Afghanistan, making them a political and military force to be reckoned with.

Abu Nidal group blames Jordan, denies top assassin arrested

BEIRUT (AP) - The Abu Nidal Palestinian organisation on Wednesday denied that an activist arrested by Lebanese security forces was the group's top assassin.

In a statement delivered to news media in Beirut, the sin, Mahmoud Khaled Eintour, was nothing more than a senior social worker in Palestinian refugee camps across Lebanon.

"All the accusations against him are false," said the statement.

It blamed Jordanian intelligence for what it called "instigating and fabricating information" to frame Eintour and sow dissent among factions opposed to Jordan's peace treaty with Israel.

Eintour, a Palestinian with a Jordanian passport, was arrested at his house in the southern port city of Sidon, Lebanese security sources disclosed Friday.

The security sources said 48-year-old Eintour, alias Abu Ali Majed, headed the assassination branch of Abu Nidal's Fateh Revolutionary Council faction.

Lebanese military authorities blame Eintour for the 1987 hijack of a French yacht off the Gaza Strip and holding five Belgians and a Frenchwoman with her two daughters on board hostage for up to three years. Eintour also was suspected of masterminding the assassination of Jordanian diplomat Naeb Imran Maaytah in Beirut Jan. 29, 1994. Three confessed Abu Nidal activists have been sentenced to life imprisonment in the case.

The Abu Nidal statement said Eintour was arrested тпе controlled Bekaa Valley of eastern Lebanon and not in It called on Lebanese authorities to free Eintour in the spirit of solidarity and unity among those not locked into peace deals with Israel. Lebanon and Syria, its powerful neighbour, are the only two Arab frontline states which have not signed a peace deal with Israel. gypt, Jordan and the Palestinians have signed peace accords with the Jewish Eintour was being held at a maximum security jail in the Defence Ministry in the Beirut suburb of Yarze.

Abu Nidal, whose real name is Sabri Al Banna, tops the most wanted lists in a number of Arab countries as well as Europe and the United States for attacks that have left scores of civilians and diplomats dead. His organisation for years was backed by Libyan leader Moammar Qadhafi.

Most infamous is the 1985 gun assaults on passenger terminals at Rome and Vienna airports which killed 17 peo-

Collin Bishop asks

taxman to play Cupid

LONDON (AFP)

second most senior

man in England, Ar

of York John H Tuesday used Sa tine's Day to urge the ment to lighten the the den on married com "Selfless commitme a bit of social support "Society seems to be a through the tax system a (marriage) doesn't into he said. There has such emphasis in in recent years on the co ity of partners and not advantaging the illegita and on the whole in cohabitating couples a they were married. archbishop continu Those who are looking the possibility of office lifestyles see no partic advantage for themselve actually getting married said. The churchman marks drew fire from former Marriage Guid Council, renamed last Relate, whose spokesing Denise Knowles said pulls the rug under the feel love. Marrying for tax intives would be like many for money." Statistics least, seem however to be the archbishop's main mise that support for m

riage is falling in Engl

According to statistics

lished at the start of

month, the number of m

riages in England fell in I

below the level of 300,000

the first time in 40 year

Bardot mourns

British animal

LONDON (R) - Veter

actress and 60s sex symbols Brigitte Bardot joined in than 1,000 mourners at funeral of a British and rights activist who died

ing a demonstration in weeks ago. Jill Phipps, I was crushed under the wh

of a lorry carrying yeal cast to Conentry Airport in a tral England. She was take part in nationwide demo

strations against the expor

live animals for slaughter

am very sad this has l

who lives in the south

France. "I am here for Ji

Ms. Phipps had been our about 30 people protestia

the airport, from which i calves are sent by air to

kets in continental Egg

There they are often raise tiny yeal crates to create der white meat — a now now outlawed in Britani

Bardot, who devotes me

her life to campaigns, animal rights, described Phipps in a French new er last week as the "Joseph Phipps in a French new last week la Arc of the calves." The long blonde hair and p bewitched millions of goers in films such

God Created Woman, of turned her back on head in 1973 to live as a set with a menagerie of dogs and horses. She dogs and horses. She to the Brigitte Bardot she tion, in 1987, auctional

tion, in 1987, auctioning of her jewellery to in

Phoney Chine

university closes

down for fraud.

BEIJING (AFP) — Consultant design authorities have closed

a phoney university that ated applicants out of yuan ($116,000) after changing its register

day. The non-gover

approved in 1992,

level certificates of

degree, the China Da

Comprehensive Unive

Last year it renamed ($

Shaanxi, engraved

seal and, without and

tion, began recrui

dents nationwide W

scam would be discip

in July, a report said Web

Shaanxi University of O

prehensive Training

authorisation of grant of

said Ms. Bai

activist

Also Friday, the militant group Hamas threatened reprisals against Palestinian security forces if more Hamas supporters were arrested in the Gaza Strip (see page 12).

"He (Israeli Prime Minis-

autonomy talks.

garael wants to get BEIRUT (R) - The head of t

BEIRUI (N)— The head of I Friday as saying Israel was trying Friday and become "sole maste league and become "sole maste Secretary-General Esmat Abdul-

Al Safir during a three-day visit was so short of funds that it lacke was so short a list working hard a salaries as a working hard to replace it with a Middle East it replace it with a syludic cast it Arabs gather without her any to Araus Samajor party in the region

var on the Arab League, because

war on the situation with an unclear identi-

that Israel is the Middle East.

identity of the region and impose

nemary feels that it is a foreign

Arab League had the money to p replied: "No, the league survive

Arafat

PLO might

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM

(Agencies) - Palestine lead-

rejected an Israeli proposal

that as a step towards expanding Palestinian self-rule

he start running the West Bank town of Jenin while

Israeli troops remain there.

However, a senior Palesti-

gian negotiator said the

Palestine Liberation Organis-

tion (PLO) was ready to compromise and accept a gradua!

Israeli troop withdrawal from West Bank towns, signalling

an end to the months-long impasse in the Israel-PLO

Yasser Arafat on Friday

Volume 19

Number 58

League of its Arab identify.

ter Yitzhak Rabin) says to me come and take the municipality of Jenin'." Mr. Arafat told a congregation in a Gaza mosque in his first public reaction to the latest Israeli proposal "I say 'do you think I am a mukhtar (village headman)?" I said to him 'no'.

Mr. Rabin said after talks with Mr. Arafat on Thursday he had offered the PLO

Rabin to win elections against divided right

TEL AVIV (AFP) - Prime Minister Yitzbak Rabin would win general elections wday against two right-wing cardidates, according to an minion poll published Fri-by. Mr. Rabin garnered 41 Per cent support against 33 per cent for his leading rival. Benjamin Netanyahu, leader Likud Party. Far-right Tsomet Party chief Rafael Eytan took 14 per cent in the survey for the Yediot Aharonot newspaper. Another 12 per cent voiced no opinion. Recent polls had put Mr. Netanyahu ahead but did not include Eytan, a former military chief of staff. Mr. Eytan announced his intention to run in the 1996 elections if the right fails to unite behind a single candidate. The Dahaf institute questioned 508 Israelis on Wednesday and Thursday.

Israeli soldier wounded in mine blast MARJAYOUN (AP) — An

Israeli soldier was seriously wounded Friday when he stepped on a land mine planted in an occupied border enclave in South Leban, security sources said. The sources said the soldier was on foot patrol near the village of Aishiyeh in the central sector of the enclave Israel calls a "security zone" when he stepped on the mine at 3:15 p.m. (1315 GMT). It could not be determined whether the mine was planted by guerrillas or the Istaelis themselves, the sources said. Earlier Friday. Israeli helicopter gunships Strafed the bluffs of Abu Rashed overlooking east Lebanon's Bekaa Valley with machine-gun fire, apparently believing guerrillas were on the move in the area, the sources said. They said the belicopters also fired four airto stound missiles on Abu ashed. There was no immediate word on casualties.

Israel threatens to close Palestinian ministry GAZA CITY (AFP)

srael has threatened to shut down the offices of the Palestinian information and culture ministry in Ramallah claiming they violate the autonomy accords, Israel ladio reported Friday. This is very dangerous, Information ion and Culture Minister Yasser Abed Rabbo told AFP "It means that Israel want to scrap signed agreements and not just delay their implementation. "Responsibility for education and culture were totally devolved to the Palestinian Authority."

Republicans owe victory to conservatives —expert satellite from the U.S. "(Bob) Dole and (Newt) By Amy Henderson crime bill (which included popular because he actually

Special to the Jordan Times

AMMAN — The American electorate could not have been more shell-shocked following last November's U.S. congressional elections when a Republican majority found itself easily in control of the U.S. House of Representatives and the Senate for the first time in 40 years.

"One person saw this coming," said Elizabeth Drew, a well-known American commentator, observer and writer on the Washington political scene. "Newt Gingrich (new speaker of the House of Representatives) is the one who saw it could happen. He has been planning this for 20 years. Ms. Drew spoke via capital last night to a Jordanian audience at the University of Jordan's Centre for Strategic Studies, trying to define the roots and implications of the Republican revolution now gaining momentum in the United States.

The Republican victory, she said, was a combination of a conservative tide and a government solidly anchored in gridlock. "The conservative tide has been moving since as early as the presidency of Lyndon B. Johnson." she said. "having only been interrupted by the election of two Democrats since (Presipaign.

Gingrich also made a concerted effort to block any bills the president introduced and at the same time, effectively used the media to capitalise on his failures and downplay his successes," she said. Health care reform, for example, the top priority during Mr. Clinton's campaign and from the outset of his administration, met dismal failure last year when Republicans blocked his efforts towards universal coverage by dragging the debate through the end of the 1993 session.

Mr. Clinton, who is criticised as being slow to "blow his own horn" when he meets success on critical issues, also failed to have the budget and deficit reduction bill and the 1994 the controversial ban on automatic assault weapons) pass while Republicans have been quick to point out that the the president had not made good on his promise of welfare reform. While welfare reform may have played second fiddle to health care reform. Ms. Drew said. "Clinton did offer a welfare package - but instead, people now think he missed this opportunity." This is just the beginning of the list of perceived Democratic failures that allowed Republicans to energise the rising conservatism in the states through centralising campaigns while launching an all-out assault on Mr. Clinton, she asserted.

"Clinton became un-accomplished a great deal, she added. "Now there is certainly a Republican tide, an anti-Clinton tide. What we see now is a concerted assault on government." The Republicans, Ms.

Drew explained, steered by the conservative, confronfalse promise of being tational Speaker of the issue state-level quant House of Representatives tions, it said. The Gingrich, were able to charged applicants 400th nationalise the elections and the campaign against yuan more than the approved by the gover Clinton through the birth of their "Contract with Amerfor its two-year program and subsequently is ica," a list of 10 items to be voted on in the House withpostponed courses ! fusing to grant refunds in the first 100 days of the new congressional session. draw, the report said The contract includes de-430,000 yuan has now tails such as welfare reform. returned to students. constitutional amendment the remainder is still for a balanced budget, tax investigation," it said, a that those responsible for

(Continued on page 7)

dent Clinton and former president Jimmy Carter) both southerners with a centrist or moderate cam-